NEW YORKER IN A RAGE.

BY RAYMOND.

Washington, D. C., April 3.—[Special.]—When Perry Belmont, a member of most of the best clubs in America, England, and France, was, with his wife, rejected at a meeting of the board of governors of the Chevy Chase club last Friday, a climax was reached in a sensational social situation, and complications were introduced into club life in Washington which will not be easily settled.

There are stories of a more or less vigorous altercation between Mr. Belmont himself and one or more of the men who were instrumental in causing his humiliation at the Chevy Chase club. This altercation, of course, took place not out there where the rich New York traction magnate was rejected, but at the Metropolitan club, an exclusive organization of Washington, of which Mr. Belmont was a member.

The fact that many men are members of both organizations, and that there has been all winter a social campaign for and against Mr. and Mrs. Perry Belmont, into which all their New York connections—the other Belmonts, Sloanes, and Astors—have been drawn, makes this social tempest of wider proportions than those which are ordinarily discovered in teapots.

All Washington Discusses Affair.

The members of both clubs are particularly close mouthed about the matter, as a matter of course, but, nevertheless, enough of the facts have become public tonight to make the affair talked of at every social and public gathering in Washington, and in all the clubs and hotel lobbies.

According to best information obtainable, Mr. Perry Belmont was posted for membership at the Chevy Chase club a considerable time ago. This is an exclusive organization, having a clubhouse and grounds half a dozen miles out, and is surrounded by an attractive suburb. The club is the center of a good deal of high grade athletic sports, and has encouraged some of the best cross country hunting in this vicinity. Besides that, there have been innumerable teas and social functions in the clubhouse, and bridge parties on the lawn are a feature of the warm summer and spring days.

Membership in the club, while in the name of the husbands, confers similar membership upon the wives, and probably this is the cause of Mr. Belmont's rejection. Half of the membership of the Metropolitan club is more or less merged with that of the Chevy Chase club, and members of both of them, in turn, belong to the Country club, which is another and even more exclusive organization.

Withdraw Names at Stormy Session.

Like all social organizations, Chevy Chase club is supposed to be guarded by strict rules of secrecy, but the understanding seems to be that after a long and bitter campaign against the Belmonts a formal protest was filed with the board of governors, which was signed by William Boardman, who represents a good deal that is correct in Washington local society, by Maj. Gen. Wallace F. Randolph of the United States army, retired, and by A. S. Worthington, one of the leaders of the Washington bar.

The effect of such a protest, if insisted upon under the rules of Chevy Chase club, is to debar a candidate without further proceedings. It, therefore, became absolutely necessary to withdraw the names of Mr. and Mrs. Belmont, and this was done at a stormy meeting of the board of governors, and in spite of the fact that several of the most influential and best known members of the club were heartily in favor of the Belmonts, and did everything in their power to secure an election for them.

Friend of Belmont Denies It.

A friend of Mr. Belmont, however, denied tonight that the Chevy Chase had rejected him and said the incident was far from being a closed one. He said Mr. Belmont's name was still before the club and would, without doubt, be favorably voted on.

Nevertheless it is said that the protest was filed, but before the Chevy Chase board acted on it Mr. Belmont met one of the three men who had rendered his rejection possible, and within the sacred precincts of the Metropolitan club proceeded to give his opinion, at considerable length and with some heat, as to their character, individually and collectively, in striking at a woman over his shoulders, it, of course, being a matter of current belief that the difficulties the Belmonts have had in Washington since they came here two seasons ago had their entire origin in the bitter feuds which split up a certain section of the 400 in New York some years ago, culminating in the marriage of Perry Belmont to Mrs. Sloane and of Ollie Belmont to one of the Vanderbilts.

All of the members of the Metropolitan club have agreed to keep their lips sealed as to what happened when Mr. Belmont expressed his opinion of the persons he naturally considers his cowardly persecutors. There have been various stories afloat as to the precise identity of the particular person who was made the victim of the traction magnate's long stored wrath.

Gen. Randolph the Victim?

The opinion seems to be expressed, however, that the person was no other than Maj. Gen. Wallace F. Randolph, who is now retired, but who was chief of artillery until he was obliged to leave active service recently and who has always taken a prominent part in the social, political, and military life of Washington. At any rate, it is declared that a niece of Gen. Randolph married into a circle which rendered her a family friend of Mrs. Belmont's first husband, Gen. Randolph's friends in the club say he was not a party to any such encounter, and that he was sick in bed immediately after the meeting of the Chevy Chase club. It is not denied that the three gentlemen mentioned, however, were responsible for the "turn down" of the Belmonts at the Chevy Chase club.

Complications Likely to Ensue.

All sorts of social and political complications are likely to result from this occurrence. It is a new experience for Mr. Belmont to be refused admission to a club. He is the eldest son of the late August Belmont. He is a graduate of Har-

"Vested Interests" Plan to Beat Taft or Any Other Man in 1908 Friendly to Administration.

ACCEPTS GAGE OF BATTLE

BY JOHN CALLAN O'LAUGHLIN.

Washington, D. C., April 3.—[Special.]—The big interests of the country have inaugurated a movement to discredit President Roosevelt, prevent the achievement of his railroad and other reform policies, and to block the nomination by the republican party of Secretary Taft or any other Roosevelt man. This movement is now under way in Pennsylvania, Ohio, and California.

This is the information President Roosevelt has received from a source in which he places reliance. The men behind this movement are E. H. Harriman, J. Pierpont Morgan, the Rockefellers, and other Standard Oil interests, the tobacco trust, and certain other capitalistic combinations which have suffered from the president's activity.

The movement is much like what is known as the "rich men's conspiracy" of 1904, when, at a meeting, Harriman, so the president has been informed, solemnly expressed his conviction that he could deliver the delegates to the republican convention from Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, Idaho, Colorado, and California to an anti-Roosevelt man. Investigation demonstrated that this claim was preposterous.

Roosevelt Not Alarmed.

It was apparent from what the president said to newspaper men today that he is not at all concerned about the movement which has been started against him. The predictions of Harriman in 1904 absolutely failed of realization and indeed Harriman himself was glad to accept election as one of the delegates for Roosevelt.

The tobacco trust, which is in the movement, was also in the "rich men's conspiracy" and sought to deliver North Carolina against Roosevelt. The way the president learned of the activity of this trust was through Judge Pritchard of that state, who came to see him one day and said he had believed North Carolina would send a solid delegation to the convention instructed to vote for the nomination of the president. He had learned subsequently, however, that the tobacco trust had been operating among the coast counties of the state, so that he feared his original promise could not be made good.

Accepts Gage of Battle.

The president is quite content to accept the gage of battle offered by Harriman and the other trust magnates. It is out of the question now for him and Harriman ever to resume friendly relations. The publication of Harriman's letter to Sidney Webster, Stuyvesant Fish's brother-in-law, alleging that the president had begged him to collect contributions to save the national ticket, and of the president's response through Representative Sherman of New York ends any chance of cooperation in the future.

Before these letters were published Harriman had communicated to the president his assurance that he had not been in earnest in talking to Mr. Sherman in criticism of the president and his policies; that he had spoken "jocosely;" and that he regretted that his remarks had been taken seriously.

A month ago Harriman made an effort to see the president in connection with the railroad situation, and it is possible a meeting would have occurred but for the Webster letter.

In support of his statement that Harriman had told a "deliberate and willful untruth" in saying the president had asked him to collect funds for the national committee, the president repeated to a friend today his conversation with the railroad magnate, and it appears that the latter came to Mr. Roosevelt to obtain funds to bring about the election of Frank W. Higgins, the republican nominee for governor.

"I have raised $100,000 for Odell for the state campaign fund," Harriman told the president. "I cannot carry the whole burden myself. Cortelyou and Bliss must help out. Won't you ask them to do so?"

How He Helped Harriman.

Harriman pointed out it would be "an awful thing" for the republican ticket in the president's own state to be defeated. He gave the impression to the president that he was the contributor of the $100,000 he had mentioned, but that more money was required. The president was receiving requests for funds from many states, notably Missouri, Kentucky, and Tennessee. He had been coming to see him urging that the national committee be directed to aid them in their gubernatorial or congressional campaigns. All these requests were turned over to the national committee with the hope expressed by the president that the committee would do anything it could to assist the appliants.

This was the course taken in the case of Harriman. When the latter returned to New York he saw Cornelius Bliss, treasurer of the committee, and, according to his own statement, immediately raised $200,000, which was disbursed by Odell. The president did not know and does not know to this day who contributed the money turned over by Bliss for Odell's use. Nor does Cortelyou.

During the campaign and since the president learned the names of some of the contributors, but he indignantly repudiates the suggestion made by Alton B. Parker in a statement published this morning that he was placed under any pledge or made any promise to protect any interest or individual making contribution. Certainly he believes his record since the campaign proves his absolute freedom of action.

Independent of the Trusts.

The tobacco trust and independent tobacco men were engaged in controversy during the campaign, and the president, in order not to be embarrassed, directed the committee to return every cent contributed by either of these parties. Other contributions which came from a questionable source or which were given with an intimation that a favor would be asked also were returned.

The president pointed out to his callers today that nearly two and a half years have elapsed since his election. There has been a good deal of reform legislation affecting railroads and other corporate interests. There has been a good deal of executive action directed against the beef trust, the

JOHN DOE GOES AFTER GRADY

PUTS SENATOR IN A FIX.

Ledgers Show How Mr. "G." and Big Gamblers Shared Spoils.

New York, April 3.—[Special.]—John Doe proceedings were begun before Magistrate Barlow at the Tombs today to determine whether warrants should be issued for State Senator Thomas F. Grady, Charles Reilly, J. Parker Robinson, Robert P. Davis, and M. J. Riordan for conducting or abetting a poolroom business.

Old John Doe and Mr. Jerome want to know if Thomas F. Grady is the same "T. Grady" who got 16 per cent of the monthly rake off when the Bob Davis syndicate divvied up, and who is referred to by Bob Davis' bookkeeper as "Sen. G." sometimes, and disrespectfully as "Tommy."

It is the purpose of the investigation also to show that Charles Reilly is the "C. R." of the combination; that J. Parker Robinson was partner "Park"; that "R. H. D." is Bob Davis, who cleaned up $100,000 in the two years' operations that have been made public, and that "M. J. R." is Mike Riordan.

How Scheme Was Worked.

When the second floor of 157 Cedar street was raided last Friday Assistant District Attorney Vandiver found a five telephone poolroom. He ran it awhile and discovered that one wire led to a poolroom telephone exchange. This morning that wire was traced up, and they found that it went no further than the floor above.

To get to the other end of that wire this afternoon Vandiver and the detectives had to kick in a door which led to four handsomely furnished rooms on the third floor.

Here a horseshoe shaped telephone switchboard was fitted up with sixteen telephones. Over these employes, catching the results of a race from a telegraph wire, could bellow into these phones and let the whole chain of Davis poolrooms know simultaneously how the ponies finished.

Detectives Make Rich Haul.

Out of closets and cupboards Vandiver took boxes full of silverware and lace curtains, these boxes, as well as others found, all being marked "From 7 Park place." Among the furnishings of the rooms were walnus and quartered oak buffets, sideboards, and tables, which had been stored there; about all of a first class faro bank layout except the rack, a stud poker table, and telegraph instruments.

Most interesting of all was a heap of ledgers, day books, memorandum books, slips, checks, receipts, and the like that Vandiver found in Bob Davis' storeroom. They proved that the syndicate was doing a nice business long after April 1, 1901, and at such dates that the statute of limitations won't help the offenders. Among the records found was a memorandum showing that the syndicate cleaned up $30,833 in one month in a recent year, and entries explaining how Mr. "G." was getting along.

J. Parke Robinson's name bobbed up in the books as a fairly heavy bettor in the operations of the syndicate and managed to drop a little bundle. His transactions ran from May 30 to Sept. 1, 1901, and the entries show the syndicate managed to trim brother J. P. R. for more than $7,000 in three months. Other entries in this set of captured books indicate that Mike Riordan lost a bunch of money and that Charles Reilly didn't fare well. "Gates" bobs up in one entry dealing with an even break of $150.

GRIM TEST OF 'DEATH CURVE'

N. Y. Central Will Risk Lives to Fix Blame for Wreck Feb. 16.

OFFICIALS TO BE ON BOARD.

Cars Will Carry Same Weight and Repeat Fatal High Speed.

New York, April 3.—[Special.]—A play, terribly in earnest, is being planned in grim, cold blooded precision to determine the cause of the Brewster express wreck on the New York Central "death curve" in the Bronx on the night of Feb. 16, in which 23 lives were lost and 147 persons injured out of a total passenger list of 205 souls.

Every physical condition surrounding the wreck will be reproduced. Even the human variant, which theory makes a calculable quantity, will be present.

The same hand that held the controller on the fatal night will drive a duplicate pair of electric locomotives around the same curve, at the same rate of speed, with the same weight of cars tearing along behind, and the same weight of passengers, calculated pound by pound. Sand bags are to make up the balance if not enough intrepid human beings can be found to accept the invitation of the New York Central road and the state railroad commission.

The commission has decided upon this experiment in an effort to fix the blame for the accident.

High Officials on Board.

It is probable there will be few sand bags. Vice President Wilgus himself will be aboard this replica of the ill fated train. With him will be Supt. McCormick of the electric division, possibly President Newman, and many other officials of the New York Central and other roads which are planning electric equipment.

George W. Dunn, chairman of the state railroad commission, and his fellow-members, Job E. Hedges, counsel of the commission, and Charles Barnes, electrical expert, will be with them. General Manager Potter of the General Electric company, which furnishes equipment for the electrification, will be a passenger, interested more than all the others in the hazardous experiment.

Will Be Two Locomotives.

The Brewster's express consisted of five light passenger cars drawn by two new electric locomotives. There were two locomotives because the electric shoes that make contact with the third rail were broken off on the right side of one locomotive and on the left side of the second.

The experimental train locomotives are to have their contact shoes removed in the same manner. Five coaches similar to those that were wrecked are to make up the train. Engineer E. E. Rogers is to be in charge. Voltameters, speedometers, and other electrical devices are to register every detail of the run. Men with stop watches are to time the speed by specially erected distance posts. Constructors and their experts are to watch the track and examine the result of the train's passing.

Officers of the New York Central said today that they had been making exhaustive tests and experiments, and as the railroad commission had had its experts at work also the trial run was designed for the purpose of checking up the figures, making comparisons, and establishing by practical operation a basis for future calculation.

WOMEN DRESSED UP STICKS?

KNOW NOTHING OF BEAUTY.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, April 3.—English women know nothing about beauty and less than nothing about dress, according to Dion C. Calthrop, who, in a statement today, characterized his countrywomen as "dressed up sticks."

Mr. Calthrop's assertion is certain to stir up a storm, for he is acknowledged to be the leading English authority on dress. He is an artist and author of high standing, and his special hobby is the study of clothes. He has studied the evolution of costume from Eve's scanty wardrobe down to the wonderful trousseau of the present day society girl, and has written many books on the subject, one of them being "A History of English Costume."

Men Know More About Clothes.

Mr. Calthrop declares men know far more about dress than women, and says it is because they consider women in the perspective, while a woman considers herself in a series of bits, never as a whole nor as an individual.

"The result," he says, "is there is no female individualism in dress, only a number of sticks dressed up according to fashion, each as much like the other as possible. The streets used to be filled with Du Maurier girls. Now it is Gibson girls. Whatever their figures are they must be squeezed, elongated, pulled, and pinched until each one resembles every other.

"This probably is due to the fact that women are not sure of their own beauty. They are afraid of it, of themselves, and of each other. This is absurd, for there are no ugly women. A few may be plain, but the rest are beautiful. It lies within the power of a plain woman to become beautiful and of a beautiful woman to become more beautiful by emphasizing her individuality in special features."

His Own Wife an Exception.

Mr. Calthrop holds that the early Victorian women knew more about dress than the modern women, consequently each appeared as a complete picture.

Mr. Calthrop is married and his wife is exempted in his criticism, for he considers her one of the few well dressed women in England. He designs most of her clothes.

DISROBES TO TELL HIS NAME.

Cleveland, O., Man Cannot Remember Spelling, So Shocks Spectators in Court by Baring Tattoo Marks.

Cleveland, O., April 3.—[Special.]—Everybody blushed in Justice William Brown's court today when Steven Bauher started to disrobe.

"What is your name?" asked the justics.

"Wait," said Bauher, and he began to disrobe. He took off his coat and vest and tossed them to a chair. Then he unloosened his shirt at the throat and began to roll up his sleeve.

"Here you are, squire," said Bauher, unabashed, pulling his sleeve clear up to his shoulder and revealing a flaring tattoo sign. "I never can remember how to spell it."

BUSSE AT WORK; BEGINS HARD TASK

INAUGURATION APRIL 15.

Probably the busiest individual in the city was Mayor-elect Busse, though his efforts were devoted to clearing away collected details of his own affairs rather than to plans for his new office.

It practically has been determined that he shall be inaugurated on Monday, April 15, though the council, in special session, will determine that officially tonight.

Bartzen Sends In Resignation.

Mayor Dunne's building commissioner, Peter Bartzen, sent in his resignation in the afternoon, but will hold office until Mr. Busse is installed.

The most active member of the Dunne cabinet was Chief of Police Collins. Being anxious to reward his friends in the department before he leaves his office, he issued a general order, promoting a large number of policemen to sergeanticies. He also made twelve transfers and made two sergeants lieutenants.

The chief refused to discuss the order beyond saying it was "for the good of the department."

Mr. Busse Goes to His Office.

As to the mayor-elect, no one could have accomplished more and handled more varied duties than were performed by Mr. Busse, in spite of his comparatively weak physical condition.

"I have been staying at home long enough. I feel that it is time I was getting busy," said he, as he walked downstairs and into his coal office shortly after 8 a. m. "From this day nobody can confine me to bed or to my room."

Already there were scores of visitors standing about the office, eager to congratulate Mr. Busse upon the outcome of the election. There also was a great stack of letters and telegrams of congratulations and "I told you sos."

One thing became evident as soon as Mr. Busse took up consideration of the work of the day, and that is that when any offices are to be filled it first must be made evident to him that the man to whom they are given is the most capable man obtainable for the money paid by the city.

"My one idea is to get the ablest men that ever have held positions in the city hall," he said. "If I can get them by making a little quiet search on my own hook I am going to do it.

Fire Marshal Horan to Stay.

"I have decided that Fire Marshal James Horan is the best man for the place and I shall keep him. He will have absolute control of the fire department, and I shall not interfere in such things as transfers and other matters about which he, as head of the department, knows more than any outsider could know.

"I also have decided upon John R. Morron as member of the board of education. He is a capable man and the best that can be found for the place, in my opinion. As for the other departments, I do not care to discuss them at present, as there is every possibility that I may change my mind and I don't care to arouse any false hopes."

Marshal Horan was among the early morning visitors at the office of Mr. Busse, and he was immediately told of the decision of the new mayor to keep him in office.

"It will be your duty to put out fires, and I shall not try to tell you how to put them out," said Mr. Busse.

Then somebody wanted to know who the next chief of police would be.

"The best person I can find for the place, whether he may be on or off the force," replied Mr. Busse. "Just who that is I have not yet decided. Both Inspector Shippy and Assistant Chief of Police Schuettler are good men—there are none better—but I am not ready to announce who will be the next chief, nor am I ready to say who any of the other heads of departments will be."

Bad Dance Halls Must Go.

From this the discussion branched off on to various issues that have been under discussion and reforms that long have been demanded by the citizens.

"Have you any policy on the dance halls?" Mr. Busse was asked.

"I certainly have," he replied. "Of course there are two kinds of concert and dance halls. There are the good ones that furnish recreation of the proper sort for men and women who need relaxation from their work. These will not be interfered with. The disreputable sort will not be tolerated. Such places will be closed to stay closed."

Early in the afternoon James Reddick, chairman of the republican county central committee, and B. J. Mullaney, who was Mr. Busse's personal representative in the campaign, spent some time discussing the campaign aftermath. Mr. Busse said nothing had been decided during the visit, however, as to appointments.

Gen. E. C. Young is among those who have been mentioned for police chief, and the name of William J. Calhoun, President Roosevelt's Venezuelan commissioner, was suggested in connection with the corporation counsel's office. It is thought he cannot be prevailed on to accept.

Many Congratulate Victor.

Among the first callers on Mr. Busse was the Rev. A. M. Thome, 133 Lincoln avenue, one of the oldest residents of the north side and a personal friend of Mr. Busse.

"I am 85 years old and have been voting for sixty-four years," said Mr. Thome. "I am glad that I was given an opportunity to cast my ballot for such a man as Mr. Busse, and I hope that I shall be able to vote for him again four years from now."

Just how many special delivery letters and telegrams were received nobody knows. Among the most interesting were those from Mayor Dunne and Vice President Fairbanks. Mayor Dunne's was brief and to the point. It said:

"Mayor-elect Fred A. Busse: The vanquished bows to the victor.

"EDWARD F. DUNNE, Mayor."

Vice President Fairbanks' telegram follows:

"I most earnestly congratulate you upon your well earned victory, and I wish you a most successful administration.

"CHARLES W. FAIRBANKS."

Will Be at Postoffice Today.

Mr. Busse will today make his first appearance downtown since he was injured in the Pennsylvania railroad wreck. A dark line under one of his eyes and a small red scar upon his forehead are the only marks of the accident which he still bears.

The mayor-elect will go immediately to the postoffice and take up his duties where he dropped them some weeks ago. There is much to be done before he will hand in his resignation and he insists upon doing all of the work himself.

"It will be several days before I resign, as I want to have every thing in ship shape before I leave the postoffice," said Mr. Busse. "I have tried to watch things down there while I was at my house, but there are many things to be done.

"I don't know who my successor is to be. I can only wish him good luck, whoever he may be."

It is expected the appointee will be James Pease.

Mr. Busse will go to the postoffice at 9 o'clock this morning and will probably remain on duty until a late hour.

R. T. Fox Enthusiastic.

Richard T. Fox, who has been slated for superintendent of streets under the new administration, spoke enthusiastically of the possible opportunity that may come to him of cleaning the streets of Chicago. He declared he would be glad to tackle the task, notwithstanding the fact that he will, if appointed, accept the position at a financial sacrifice. Mr. Fox has been offered the appointment of first assistant commissioner of street cleaning in New York, which pays an annual salary of $6,000. The position of superintendent of streets, which now is held by M. J. Doherty, pays only $5,000.

"I would be glad of a chance to see whether or not the streets of Chicago can be cleaned," he said, when seen in his office in the Old Colony building. "Of course, I would have to accept the office both at a sacrifice to my own business and to my advancement financially. However, I mean to stay in Chicago, and I shall remain here in preference to going to New York, even at a higher salary. I have not sought the office in either city, and I am grateful to my friends for mentioning me for a position here."

Solemnity in City Hall.

The expiring administration lent to the city hall all day an air of deep solemnity. The heads of departments were thinking about going back to private life, and the chair warmers under the civil service were worrying about being "fired" after Mayor Busse takes office.

Mayor Dunne, however, wore one of the few smiles that appeared sincere. The mayor, after thinking things over, had come to the conclusion that he had a good deal to be gratified over, inasmuch as a small army of friends besieged him, shaking hands and testifying to their confidence in his honesty and prolong him for his plucky fight.

"There seems to be an air of joviality everywhere I go," said the mayor. "I expect that Mr. Busse will take office the 15th. After that I shall go away somewhere and rest for a couple of weeks. Then I will go back to the practice of law. I don't know who I shall go in with. I have a family to support, and I can't afford to be idle.

"I shall continue to take an interest in politics to the extent of the time that I can spare from the practice of my profession. My views have not changed. The propaganda of municipal ownership is bound to win.

"You can't kill the democratic party. It will get along with its principles, even though it has nothing else."

Collins' Backward Kick.

Chief Collins, with visions of his power fast fleeting, delivered a vicious backward kick at the incoming republican administration by issuing his general order designed to fill every available nook in the department with tried and true I. M. O. democrats.

Two sergeants were promoted to the rank of lieutenant. Sergeant James F. Walsh of the Shefield avenue station hereafter will be hailed as lieutenant at the same post.

Thirty-three patrolmen were made sergeants. Conspicuous among them is Daniel Kearney of the Harrison street station, who hereafter will be a "sarge" in plain clothes at the same station.

Patrolmen Made Sergeants.

Other patrolmen elevated to sergeancies were:

James McCann,	Henry Perry,
Thomas J. Dailey,	John F. Thompson,
Edward C. Gorgin,	John M. McGuire,
Frank J. Matchett,	Patrick B. Hartnett,
James H. O'Connell,	Patrick Woods,
Pake Mills,	William F. Bowler,
Jeremiah L. Byrne,	Thomas J. Conley,
Michael Duggan,	Timothy M. Dolan,
George Reardon,	Stephen J. Barry,
Harry B. Whitney,	James McCarthy,
Charles H. Smith,	James M. Hughes,
Thomas J. Dilkington,	John D. Lyons,
Charles H. Garrity,	Alfred L. Hanson,
James H. Vanetta,	John J. Lane,
William P. Sinnott,	Jacob Illg.

Sergeants Get New Posts.

Sergeants were transferred as follows:

Several policemen were also transferred.

Comerford Lends His Aid.

Collins carried out his scheme of filling as many jobs as possible with democrats with the assistance of Retiring Police Attorney Frank D. Comerford. The work of getting up the list was carried on behind locked doors and with a formidable guard of detectives. Newspaper men who approached the door were warned away by a raised hand and a "S-s-s-sh!" from one of Collins' henchmen outside. Presumably this was for the purpose of keeping secret the discussion of the names.

Detective Guy Biddanger, who did some of the best detective work in the history of the police force under former Inspector Lavin, was passed by for the third time when the names were taken from the eligible list of the civil service. It was said this time he stood eleventh on the eligible list, on which he has been fluctuating because he is in disfavor with Chief Collins.

Why are you sending out this big general order?" the chief was asked.

"For the good of the service, my boy; for the good of the service," responded the chief grandly, drawing himself up to his full height and inflating his chest, while his cheeks grew red.

Favorites Back to Stations.

Three of the chief's favorites are affected by the order. The men who have been working out of Chief Collins' office since he has been at the head of the department are sent back to the stations from which they were taken. One of them, Sergeant Quinlan, is known as the "gum shoe sergeant." Quinlan was detailed to watch patrol sergeants and patrolmen. He took a score of patrolmen before the trial board because they had frequented saloons. He also took a prominent part in the trial of former Inspector Lavin.

Sergeants Barry and Russell were the other two friends of the chief. Both appeared well satisfied at their transfers.

A rumor was current at the detective bureau that the chief would issue another order striking at a score of policemen who are believed to have worked for Mayor-elect Busse.

Bartzen's Resignation.

Commissioner Bartzen's resignation was put in this language:

"Mayor Edward F. Dunne: I hereby respectfully tender my resignation as commissioner of buildings, to take effect at your pleasure. I want to extend to you my sincere gratitude for your kindly treatment and cooperation at all times.

"During my incumbency I have endeavored to conduct the affairs of the department of buildings in a businesslike manner, and while the office may not have been managed perfectly at all times I can claim at least it has been managed honestly.

"Your defeat at the polls yesterday proves that the people lack a proper appreciation of your efforts in behalf of honest city government, and it is my belief that before many months have passed the people of this city will awaken to the fact that they have deposed the best mayor Chicago has ever known.

PETER BARTZEN."

I. M. O. Jobholders Thinking.

A number of I. M. O. enthusiasts on the city pay roll spent the day thinking of the future. Dr. Maurice F. Doty will have to get off his horse and either walk or pay car fare. The horse belongs to the city and he can hardly expect to take it with him when he abdicates the job of superintendent of local transportation. No longer will the doctor be allowed to manage the running of street cars in Chicago and by his orders blockade car lines for half an hour at a time.

Nobody will take his place. The running of the street cars of Chicago will be put in the hands of a board of engineers who have more knowledge of the street car business than Dr. Doty was able to acquire during his previous experience as a physician in the Thirty-fifth ward and president of the Referendum league.

Julius G. Grossberg, the doctor's chief legal adviser, also expects to return to his private practice. Mr. Grossberg has been the "special counsel" whose specialty was to advise Dr. Doty as to how far he could go in hampering the operation of street cars. He drew a liberal salary, for which he worked by filing suits which up to date have cost the city many thousands of dollars without anybody being able to discover that the street car service was improved. None of the suits ever was won.

Blakely Grossberg's Assistant.

One day it was discovered that Mr. Grossberg was badly overworked and needed an assistant, so Addison Blakely was employed. Blakely had been secretary of the I. M. O. league and hence was considered admirably fitted for the position. Also the league, of which T. P. Quinn was the president and was composed of as many as fifteen members, had been growing restive and was passing resolutions to the effect that Mayor Dunne was deserting the cause of I. M. O. Mr. Doty was the only man on its "executive committee" who up to that time had got on the city payroll.

Mr. Blakely at once discovered that Mayor Dunne was the purest exemplar of I. M. O. ever known, and has been a prominent figure around the City hall ever since. President Quinn quit the league in disgust, and it went out of existence.

Addison's specialty is constitutional law. He once delivered a lecture at the Chicago university on the subject. That was a number of years ago. Incidentally he claims to control the democratic politics in the Twenty-fourth ward, but has never been prominent in party conventions. It is expected he will go back to private practice.

Seeking Old Clients.

Other "special counsel" in the city law department are looking for their old clients. Henry M. Ashton has drawn liberal fees from the taxpayers for "advice" and "investigations" in gas matters. He was "special counsel" in all gas litigation, and was active in fighting the ordinance which reduced the price of gas in Chicago from $1 to 85 cents. Mayor Dunne thought highly of him, because he always had been a strong advocate of I. M. O. It is not believed Ashton will be heard from often in future months.

Maxwell Edgar is "special counsel" in tax litigation. He made himself unpopular with Corporation Counsel Lewis by claiming the credit for certain decisions in tax cases when the colonel thought he should have what praise was coming. But he talked I. M. O. in and out of season and Mayor Dunne thought his presence in the city hall necessary to the good government of the city. Like Mr. Ashton, Mr. Edgar now expects to return to his private practice.

Charles H. Mitchell, who is special attorney for the board of local improvements, is in a similar position. Mr. Mitchell has been a radical of the radicals for years. He ran as an independent candidate for city attorney when John P. Altgeld was the independent candidate for mayor against Carter H. Harrison. He has been the Hearst candidate for Municipal court judge.

There are plenty more similar cases around the city hall, and these are but samples of the kind of cleaning out which will be necessary when the new administration takes hold.

Traeger Will Be Lonesome.

Within ten days John F. Traeger will be the only democrat in Chicago or Cook county holding an elective, administrative office. There are a few democratic judges, but there is no party patronage connected with their offices. In fact, there is little in the office of city treasurer, which Mr. Traeger was elected to fill.

Never before in the memory of any man now conversant with local politics has there been such a condition. Such a clean sweep never was known. In the entire political administration of both city and county, drainage board, park boards, and all the rest of the elective administrative officers John E. Traeger is the sole democrat. The federal offices are also in the hands of the republicans.

Meeting of Council Tonight.

The date of the inauguration of Mayor-Elect Busse will be officially determined at the meeting of the city council this evening. It is already practically determined that it will be on April 15, but the council's action will make it authoritative. It will be the last meeting of the present council for the transaction of business. There are some odds and ends which will have to be cleaned up before the new body is installed. The date for this and the inauguration of the mayor is determined by the one to which tonight's gathering adjourns, and Ald. Bennett said yesterday it would be April 15.

HEARST LEAGUE SHOWINGS CUT LUDICROUS FIGURES.

Candidates Are Tail Enders in All but Four Wards—Socialists Defeat Them Generally.

An analysis of the aldermanic returns yesterday showed that Hearst's Independence league did not cut a figure in any ward in the city. In most of the wards in which it put forward candidates its showing was ludricrous.

League candidates were put forward in fifteen of the thirty-five wards in the city, and in the Thirty-third ward, where two aldermen were elected, it had two nominees.

Its aggregate of votes in these wards was 7,126 out of 125,738 votes cast for the candidates of all parties.

Tail Enders in but Few Wards.

In only four wards, the Tenth, Eleventh, Thirteenth, and Nineteenth, did the Hearst standard bearers get enough support to distinguish them from the tail enders.

In most of the wards the socialists outran them. In the First ward the Hearst candidate gathered unto himself only 249 votes. The prohibition candidate did almost as well, with 117 votes. Kenna got 4,341 votes.

The Hearst following in the Fourth mustered only 94 votes, but it remained for the Twenty-first ward, with its 10,107 voters, to rub it in by giving the Hearst nominee, Dr. Liston H. Montgomery, only 69 votes. The comparison remained almost as striking in the huge Twenty-fifth ward, where, out of 15,987 votes, the Hearst sentiment was represented by 137 ballots.

Tables Show Strength.

Following are the comparative tables. Only the wards in which the league put forward candidates are enumerated:

Ward.	Ind. league vote.	All parties.
First	249	5,062
Fourth	94	7,754
Fifth	189	7,961

TROUBLES PILE UP FOR CHIEF COLLINS

Probably Will Be Dropped from Force in Addition to Losing His Position.

ORDERS PAGES TORN OUT.

Police Head Causes Mutilation of Message Books, Commissioners Hear.

Chief of Police John M. Collins has many troubles in store for him. Chief of these, of course, is the certainty that he will have to step out of office within a few days at most.

Then comes the fight which he will have to make for any position in the service at all, due to irregularities in his method of obtaining his second furlough.

And lastly came the beginning of what promises to be a complete exposure of the extent to which Chief Collins prostituted the police force in the desperate effort to reelect Mayor Dunne.

When Collins retires as chief of police he is severed from the police department, according to the present view of the civil service commission. The chief says that there is a big question about this, and that he will fight to the last ditch for "his rights."

Gives Himself Year's Furlough.

The records show that Collins took a year's leave of absence as captain on July 20, 1905, and that on July 30, 1906, General Superintendent of Police John M. Collins gave Capt. John M. Collins another leave of absence for a year. The civil service records show that this was placed on the minutes, but that no action was taken by the board.

The commissioners hold that Collins as general superintendent could not grant himself, as captain, a furlough. This opinion is shared by officials of the police department in general. Secretary Rafferty of the civil service commission, however, said that, in his opinion, Collins was at present a captain acting as chief upon a furlough.

It was pointed out by other officials that, on the day his first year's furlough expired, Chief Collins should have gone back to his captain's office for a day, thus making Assistant Chief Schuettler acting chief. Then Schuettler would have given Collins another year's furlough with the approval of the commission.

Books Mutilated by His Orders.

The investigation into the political tactics put into force by the chief progressed in the afternoon. The information that certain special message books had been mutilated and that pages had been torn out by the order of the chief which contained messages relating to the mayor's lithographs and other campaign orders, was given by Albert Bergener, city editor of the Record-Herald.

The entire commission was in session. Upon hearing this evidence it sent at once for police officers from the five division headquarters. Commissioner Prentiss ordered that the books be brought in at once.

Mr. Bergener offered to prove that messages relating to police business purely were destroyed with the political messages; that the chief had sent for all the lieutenants to be in his office on March 16, there to receive their orders regarding the work to be done for Mayor Dunne, and that Chief Collins personally had issued orders to tear two messages from the books.

Tells of Tearing Out Pages.

Evidence heard in the afternoon amply justified the claims of Mr. Bergener. Capt. John Rehm of the Desplaines street station was the first to appear. He brought the special message book for the month of March with him. Examination showed that pages 93 to 98 were missing. They contained political orders issued by the chief. They plainly had been torn out.

"My attention was called to the pages," Capt. Rehm said, "when Commissioner Wenter and Mr. Bergener visited my office on March 30. Up to that time I had no knowledge of the mutilation. I notified Inspector Shippy. He informed me the pages had been torn out by one of the operators acting under orders from the chief. I also questioned the lieutenant, but he knew nothing about it."

"Yes. On all important orders, however, the operator usually calls up the inspector, captain, or lieutenant."

Not Customary to Cut Out Orders.

"Is it customary to cut out orders from the books?"

"No. The orders are sometimes countermanded, but are supposed to be kept in the books."

Walter Decker, operator at the Desplaines street station, was called, and produced the missing pages. He said the pages had been removed from the book Friday night on an order from Sergeant Phelan at the central station.

"He told me to take out two pages on which orders relating to the mayor's lithographs appeared," said Decker, "and put them away for a few days, and then paste them back in the books."

Wanted to Know of Posters.

The orders read:

See how many of Mayor Dunne's posters and lithographs are up in your district.

"Is it customary to tear out orders from the books?" asked Commissioner Powell.

"I have been in the service almost twelve years, and I never got such an order before."

Patrolman Thomas Mulcahy produced the book from the Harrison street police station from which pages 57, 58, 61, and 62 were missing. He said he knew nothing about the book, and that he had merely been instructed to take it to the office of the civil service commission.

Always Thought Book Intact.

Capt. Francis Barcal appeared with the special order book from the Chicago avenue station, and was shown by Commissioner Prentiss that pages 261, 262, 263, 264, 277, and 278 had been removed.

"This is the first I heard of it," he said. "I always thought the book was intact."

"Who should know about the taking out of the pages?" he was asked.

"The operators. My attention should have been called to it."

Policeman August P. Moritz from the West Chicago avenue station brought the message book, showing that pages 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, and 96 were missing. The policeman knew nothing of it.

"The evidence appears positive," said Commissioner Prentiss. "To mutilate public records is an offense I cannot deplore too heavily. I do not know what we can do. Evidence that the police were used for political purposes also appears strong."

The investigation will be continued this morning. After the true conditions are exposed it will be determined whether to prefer charges against any one.

"We cannot try Chief Collins," said Commissioner Wenter. "He is not under civil service."

It was pointed out that an indictment against the chief for mutilating public records might be obtained. There is more evidence of the extraordinary methods adopted by the chief, which will be submitted later.

Collins Trips in Denial.

Chief Collins denied at the meeting he ever issued the order spoken of by Operator Decker. In his denial he managed to trip himself up considerably.

"Why were those pages torn out?" he was asked.

"Because they should not have been written in the book."

"Were they issued by you?"

COUNCIL TO BE ORGANIZED

REARRANGEMENT OF COMMITTEES A HARD TASK.

Local Transportation Importance Is Greatly Reduced by the Election—Finance Probably to Stand Nearly as at Present—Schools In for Complete Change—Dever Likely to Continue at Head of Judiciary—Action When Result Is Known.

As soon as the vote for aldermen is canvassed the committee which is to choose the council committees for next year will get to work. It has a more than ordinarily hard job this time on account of the large number of changes made by Tuesday's election. Also the settlement of the traction question has greatly lessened the importance of the committee on local transportation.

The desire of the nominating committee is not to make any more changes than are absolutely necessary, but the retirement of aldermen, either by defeat at the polls or failure to run again, has made a number of changes necessary.

The finance committee is expected to stand as it is now, with Ald. Bennett as chairman. But there are two vacancies caused by the defeat of Ald. Sullivan of the Twenty-second ward and Ald. Burns of the Thirtieth. A membership on finance is called equal to a chairmanship on any other committee and the filling of these two vacancies will cause vacancies on other committees.

Transportation Committee Places.

The functions of the committee on local transportation have been changed by the passage of the traction ordinances. It will still be an important body, but not of such importance as it was when the task of settling the street car conundrum was its work. Ald. Werno, the former chairman, is now out of the council and there is another vacancy, that left by Ald. Hunter. The desire is to organize the committee with a majority of it favoring the ordinances, as the body will have considerable to do with carrying them out. So Ald. Bradley or Maypole, now members of the committee, are most talked of for Ald. Werno's place.

Ald. Dever is expected to retain his place as chairman of the judiciary committee, but there are two vacancies here, those left by Ald. Larson and Harkin.

Ald. Dunn will succeed himself as chairman of the license committee, unless he wants another place, but here again there are two vacancies, Ald. Harkin and Reese not being returned.

Will Reorganize School Committee.

The committee on schools is likely to be reorganized entirely. Ald. Zimmer is chairman, but he is also a member of the finance and local transportation, and under the many changed conditions hardly can look for this chairmanship. The absence of Ald. Riley, Dailey, Sullivan, and Wendling makes four vacancies to be filled. Just now Ald. Pringle is most talked of for the chairmanship.

Ald. Young is expected to remain as chairman of gas, oil, and electric light, but Ald. Harris, Harkin, and Dailey leave vacancies in the membership. Other vacancies on less important committees which will have to be filled are:

Streets and alleys south—Dailey, Martin, Wendling, and Burns.

Streets and alleys west—Hunter, Harris, Riley, Harkin, Smith, and Larson.

Building—Riley, chairman; Burns, Reese, and Smith.

Track elevation—Harris.

NEW YORK ITALIAN ANSWERS CONSTANTINE'S DESCRIPTION

Chicago Police Hopeful He Is Man Who Is Wanted for the Murder of Mrs. Arthur W. Gentry.

New York, April 3.—[Special.]—Pasquale Geloma, an Italian, arrested Tuesday night as he was boarding the steamer Roma at Ferris dock in Brooklyn, was committed to the Raymond street jail today. He was arrested because he answers the description of the supposed slayer of Mrs. Arthur W. Gentry, who was murdered in her residence on La Salle avenue, in Chicago, on Jan. 6, 1906.

The prisoner had this letter, which the police consider important:

Dear Father: Before you receive this you will receive another by mail which will speak of the bearer, who, I hope, you will take good care of. Try all you can to give him work, but under no circumstances let any relatives who are in Piceno know. You will do as instructed in the letter and meet this man at Naples. You will bring him to Salleconalina, province of Salerno, put him at work, even if only for 10 cents a day, because aunty, his mother, will pay all the expenses of his living and clothing. Give him something to occupy his mind. Your affectionate daughter,

ANGELINA D. D.

Jacob Stern, who, it was thought, might identify the prisoner, works in a cigar store on Broadway. His mother said he had a number of photographs of Constantine and formerly worked in the same shop with him.

Capt. P. D. O'Brien of the detective bureau and Assistant Chief Schuettler waited in vain all day for news of the complete identification of the man held in New York. Assistant Chief Schuettler professed to think the chances were bright and said a detective would be sent with the necessary papers so soon as definite word was received that identification had been made.

PASS COUNTY HOSPITAL TEST.

Forty-four Medical Students Put on Eligible List for Appointment as Internes.

The marking of examination papers of the ninety-six medical students who recently took the examinations for county hospital internes was finished yesterday. Forty-four passed the required grade of 70, the highest standing attained being that of A. F. Belfeld, 85.38. Of the successful students fifteen will be appointed as internes in June in the order of their standing. The fifteen are:

A. F. Belfeld,	A. B. Eustace,
R. Y. Jones,	J. H. Gurberson,
E. J. Lewis,	S. W. Ranson,
V. C. David,	A. H. Montgomery,
D. E. Cornwall,	S. E. Handelman,
J. D. Geisinger,	Clara P. Seippel,
Betty A. Nilson,	J. J. Oppenheim.
H. J. Smith,

On Dec. 15 more will be appointed.

Sedgwick Street Trolley Runs on Pavement and Into Bus at Dearborn Station.

Excitement was caused among persons standing in front of the Dearborn street depot yesterday when a southbound Sedgwick street car left the tracks and collided with a transfer bus. The front of the car was damaged and windows in the bus were broken out. The motorman said the brakes failed to work and that he was unable to stop the car when he reached the terminus.

John Giovanni, 8 years old, 198 Milton avenue, was killed by a southbound Larrabee street car at Larrabee and Oak streets. The Giovanni child was running across the street when he was struck and fell under the car.

GOV. DENEEN TO SPEAK TONIGHT

He Will Talk of "Industrial Insurance" at Industrial Club Banquet in Auditorium Hotel.

Gov. Charles S. Deneen will be one of the speakers at the banquet of the Industrial club to be held tonight at the Auditorium hotel. The subject of "Industrial Insurance" will be discussed. Prof. Hermann A. Schumacher of the University of Bonn, Germany, and Edward T. Bent also will speak.

GOOD CAR SERVICE WORK UNDER WAY

2,000 NEW CARS COMING.

Busse Takes Appointment of the City's Representative Under Advisement.

Active work on plans for the complete rehabilitation of Chicago's street car service provided by the ratified ordinances was begun yesterday. It is expected that within a month the reconstruction actually will be in progress, with other improvements being inaugurated as fast as possible.

Steps taken in the program of preliminaries were:

Mayor-elect Busse took under advisement the appointment of an engineer to represent the city's interests on the board of supervising engineers in charge of the reconstruction.

President Mitten of the City railway announced he would call a meeting of the directors the first of next week to consider acceptance of the ordinance. The acceptance is a foregone conclusion.

General Counsel Gurley announced that the plan for the reorganization of the north and west side interests into the Chicago Railways company will be completed within thirty days.

Board to Be at Work Soon.

The prospect is that the board of supervising engineers will be organized within two weeks after the installation of Mr. Busse in the mayor's office. So soon as this is done, a central office will be opened and the commission will inaugurate not only the reconstruction but the new service regulations and the system or accounting between the city and the companies.

The most important step in putting the ordinances into effect is the selection of the city's engineer. This task probably will prove as difficult as any that confronts Mayor-elect Busse. It is absolutely essential to the best interests of the public that the city's representative should be a man of great ability, spotless integrity, and entire independence of any influences that might lead him to sacrifice the city's interests to those of the companies.

Though no names have been mentioned, it is said Mr. Busse is considering the qualifications of two Chicago engineers. Chief Engineer Arnold has taken the position that the first requisite is an efficient supervising commission. In all probability his advice will be sought by the mayor and council in the selection of the city's representative.

Mr. Arnold Drawing Plans.

Under the ordinances, thirty days after the acceptance of either company are allowed for the organization of the board of engineers. Mr. Arnold, however, has the board's work well under way. Acting on his own initiative he set two draftsmen at work drawing plans for the reconstruction of the Cottage Grove avenue and State street lines. The plans will be finished by the time the board is organized. If then approved they will be delivered to the company with instructions to begin work at once.

Mr. Arnold has approached officials of both companies with a proposal to inaugurate some of the through routes and the exchange of transfers informally in advance of the time when these benefits will become effective. Whether this will be done is a question because of physical obstacles.

Mr. Arnold intends to go over the two systems this week to determine whether any of the through routes could be put in operation at once. As to the exchange of transfers in advance of the acceptance date, it is not thought probable that an arrangement satisfactory to all interests could be brought about.

The prospect is that the City railway will accept next week, while the Union Traction has until July 27. If the latter concern should avail itself of its full privilege the result would be a restriction of the reconstruction to the south side lines in the next few months. After that date the work would be extended to the north and west sides and the through routes and universal transfers put into effect.

Tells of Three Years' Work.

Speaking of the work upon which the board of engineers will embark, Mr. Arnold made this statement:

"The work to be done within the first three years from the date of the passage of the ordinances is as follows:

"To remove from the streets all the present cable tracks, slots, and conduits, and substitute therefor electric tracks of the type described in the ordinances. This will involve the reconstruction of thirty-four miles of cable track and sixty miles of electric track of the Chicago City railway system, and forty-eight miles of cable track and ninety miles of electric track of the north and west side systems.

"Also to construct the necessary system of distribution, involving the construction of all necessary conduits, pole lines, etc., with their transmission wires, for carrying the electrical energy from the power stations to the various substations located in different parts of the city for the proper distribution of energy to the trains.

800 New Cars on South Side.

"Also the furnishing of 800 new cars for the south side and 1,200 new cars for the north and west side systems of the new type now in use upon the Chicago City railway company's lines.

"In addition to the above work a decision soon will be made as to whether it will be necessary to build new power houses, and in case the companies are unable to purchase power at advantageous figures, the decision will be made to build these power houses. The cost of these power houses will be approximately $1,500,000.

"In this period of rehabilitation the public should understand that there will be more or less inconvenience, owing to the tracks being torn up in places. But the construction work will be done with as little of this as practicable in order to keep the cost of construction within suitable limits.

"As many through routes as practicle will be put in operation as quickly as possible, but this depends entirely upon the prompt acceptance of the ordinances by the companies."

RITTER MAY QUIT BOARD.

HE AND SCHOOL TRUSTEES IN GLOOM AT VOTE RESULT.

Says Resignation Will Come if His Usefulness Is at End—From Missouri, Though—Mills, Post, and Robins Not Disposed to Be Disturbed, but Will Remain Martyrs—Miss Haley Seeks Quiet in Confines of Down and Out Club.

President Emil W. Ritter of the board of education frankly made it known yesterday that he proposes to resign from office as soon as it is shown to him that his usefulness is at an end. Then he said he was from Missouri.

Lout F. Post, Wilen W. Mills, and Raymond Robins will refuse to be shown and will continue their search for the golden fleece in spite of the 13,000 dampers put upon their ardor by 13,000 Busy Busse Boosters. They feel that destiny has put a yoke upon them and hitched them together in a sort of an intellectual triumvirate intrusted with the guardianship of all the human virtues. They expect that the schools will go to the bowwows, and that it is their mission to chant the lamentations at the wake.

Ex-Assistant Deputy Mayor Margaret Haley seemed to want quiet, and so her friends formed a protective cordon about her in the rooms of the teachers' federation in the Unity building, which have recently become known as the headquarters of the Down and Out club. At regular intervals, however, this longed for quiet was broken by the slamming of doors. Every time a teacher entered the cubrooms or departed she slammed the door as if angry at something.

Sees Reporter; Is Out.

In the afternoon a reporter for THE TRIBUNE called at the headquarters. As he pushed open the door the ex-assistant deputy mayor was seen standing in the outer office. As soon as she dispovered the reporter for THE TRIBUNE she went into the rear office and sent out word she was not at home to reporters.

"I have nthing to say," declared Mr. Post. His friends said he had informed them that the "fight had just begun" and that he was "in it to stay."

"No, Mr. Robins is not at home," said the voice at the other end of the wire when his house was called up by phone. "I don't know when he'll be in."

"Resign! No, sir," was all the Dr. Wladyslaw A. Kuflewski had to say.

"I'll resign when I find that my usefulness is over," declared President Ritter. "If I find that it is impossible for us to carry out our plans for the improvement of the public schools and that my service is no longer of value to the best interests of the school children I stand ready to quit."

May Probe School Politics.

President Ritter said he would investigate the distribution of campaign literature in the schools if any citizen saw fit to make written charges. He was shown the circular sent by Miss Haley to the federation teachers and asked whether he proposed to take action.

"If charges are made in writing I will have them investigated," he said.

"Won't you investigate this palpable violation of the rules unless a citizen takes the initiative in the matter?" President Ritter was asked. "I won't say whether I shall or not," was the reply.

LEAVES A MOVING TRAIN BY LEAP THROUGH WINDOW.

Unknown Passenger Crashes Through Glass in Sleeping Car of Illinois Central and Hastens Away.

An unknown man jumped from the window of a sleeping car attached to an incoming Illinois Central train as it was crossing Seventieth street shortly after 7 o'clock last evening. The train was stopped immediately, and, although searchers with lanterns carefully examined the tracks and the territory adjacent for several hours, he was not found. Only a hat manufactured in Patrick, N. J., and in it two railway ticket coupons, issued at Kankakee, Ill., were found to give a clew to the mystery.

There were few passengers in the car at the time the man made his jump. According to E. J. Knox, 3635 State street, the negro porter, he had not noticed the passenger until he heard the sound of breaking glass and saw a man's body go through the opening. The porter immediately gave the alarm.

No one on the car could remember the man's appearance, nor had any one noticed anything unusual in his actions prior to his sudden leap.

FROST NAY CONTEST DEFEAT.

Chief of Evanston Police, Candidate Against J. E. Paden, Says Irregularities Have Been Found.

Col. A. S. Frost, chief of police of Evanston, who was defeated in the mayoralty race by Joseph E. Paden, announced yesterday that he may contest Paden's election. Col. Frost said he had not determined the nature of the charges upon which to base the contest, but that he would await developments in the charges heard thus far.

It was said that in the Fourth ward of Evanston, where Mr. Paden received 103 votes more than Col. Frost, outsiders were employed to count the ballots. It was also said that twenty-five students of Northwestern university, supporters of Col. Frost, were in Chicago and did not vote. Col. Frost said he heard that the students were paid to be in Chicago.

Mr. Paden is not in Evanston and no appointments to city office will be made until the organization of the new council next Tesday evening.

BUSSE'S VICTORY AFFECTS CHARTER

RADICALISM AT LOW EBB.

Party Circle on Ballots Is Saved; Referendum Has Few Friends.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Springfield, Ill., April 3.—[Special.]—Charter making for Chicago started out tonight, immediately following the election of Fred Busse to succeed Mayor Dunne, and it started with the certainty that radical propositions are dead in the Illinois legislature.

The defeat of Mayor Dunne and Hearstism in Chicago has convinced the legislature that a reaction has set in, and that it is no longer necessary to handle any of the "advanced theories" with gloves. In its natural state of mind the general assembly always has been inclined to handle them with an ax, but has considered itself in duty bound to yield to public sentiment.

Now that it believes public sentiment has switched and no longer backs up the radicals it is disposed to act as its natural state of mind would incline it to act. This makes it positive that such sections of the Chicago charter as might be considered "radical" will not find favor.

Party Circle to Be Saved.

The house charter committee, which started a section by section consideration of the Chicago bill tonight, would have voted instantly to cut out that section which eliminates the party circle from municipal ballot. Representative James M. Kittleman, chairman of the committee, held that it would be an inopportune moment to start the slashing, and asked that motions to adopt or reject sections be withheld for the time being. This was agreed to, but the representative made it perfectly apparent that the section would be thrown out as quickly as may be consistent with ideas of decorum and polite behavior.

In considering the Chicago bill the committee progressed through about one-twentieth of it, and found about twenty points over which it could agree tentatively to disagree. They were not serious, but they indicate that the process of charter making will not be a short one.

There is no doubt that the election of Mr. Busse has given the charter bill a favorable place in legislative esteem which it would not have had if the legislature had faced the necessity of bestowing increased powers on a democratic city government.

Effect of Republican Victory.

Whatever there is in the charter which will increase the power of the republican mayor and aid to make his administration successful is likely to find ready favor with the republican members. As the most important sections of the charter bill are not framed on the lines of advanced radicalism the general situation is decidedly favorable to the proposed Chicago legislation.

There is an inherent objection on the part of the legislature to any transfer of authority from Springfield to Chicago in any way that might make the latter city too independent of the rest of the state. Most of the Chicago members believe that the importance of the section providing for home rule is exaggerated by the downstate members, and that there will not be so many objections to it after a thorough discussion. It is a certainty that there will not be so many now that Mr. Busse is to be the mayor.

It is due to the fact that the partial charter act passed two years ago provided for a four year term for the mayor of Chicago that Busse will have so much of a chance to conduct the new city government which will be established under the charter bill now pending. Unless a special election for the submission of the charter acts be ordered there will be no chance to make them effective for a year at least.

There is no election between now and the municipal election of next April, at which the acts of the legislature requiring a referendum can be submitted.

If the proposition to submit the question of Sunday closing to the voters be passed the subject of a special election might be considered seriously in spite of the expense it would cause. There would be a general desire to avoid throwing this question into an election where candidates for the city council were involved.

There are serious doubts as to the constitutionality of the proposed act, but if it should be passed by the legislature, and submitted at the next regular election, it will make the liquor question the big issue in the next selection of aldermen.

The general good will which members of the legislature have for any measure which would prove beneficial to Mr. Busse does not extend to the features of the charter which the friends of Mayor Dunne fought to have inserted in the draft.

Referendum in Danger.

The referendum provisions have enemies, as tonight's discussion disclosed, and it is a matter of great doubt whether the legislature will stand for a referendum on a small percentage petition, even if the petition be rigidly guarded as to signatures.

When the house committee met there was difficulty raising a quorum. The Chicago members of the committee are suffering from the effects of too much election. Without a quorum consideration of the bill was taken up and the committee began with the first article, dealing with consolidation. Immediately the question was raised if the abrogation of all corporate authorities within the city limits would not have a serious effect on the townships which lie partly in and partly out of the city.

The existence of the townships for all matters of taxation is maintained by the provisions of the bill, but Representative Ton raised the point that inasmuch as at least three townships were partly in the city and had existence for other purposes than the collection of taxes their other functions might be impaired by the adoption of such a provision. Other members of the committee insisted that no change would be made in these townships. The question has been laid aside for future discussion.

Wants the Party Circle.

The elimination of the party circle was reached early in the discussion, and Representative Chester Church at once moved that the section be stricken out.

"I do not believe that this is the proper time for definite action on this or any other section," said Mr. Kittleman. "I believe it would be better to withdraw that motion for the time being."

"I do not insist on the question now," said Mr. Church, "but I wish to give notice that when the matter is taken up for action I shall move that the section be stricken out."

The comments from the remainder of the committee would lead to the belief that the motion would have as many "seconds" as there are members.

Owing to the fact that half the committee was not present only a half dozen sections were considered, and they only in the most general fashion.

A joint session of the house and senate committees has been arranged for Friday, April 12, in Chicago. The woman suffragists, who made a number of losing fights in the charter convention, are not discouraged and have asked for a hearing before the legislative committees. The committees are so far willing to oblige the suffragists that they will move to Chicago to hear their arguments rather than require them to bring their arguments to Springfield. Thus far the committees are willing to be gallant.

PLANS SOUTH SIDE PIER.

CHICAGO MAN ASKS FRANCHISE TO BUILD OVER WATER.

Bill Introduced in Legislature Contemplates Structure 1,000 Feet Long and 300 Feet Wide, Provided with Facilities for Landing Passengers—Location Is Near Thirty-first Street—Tombstone Bill Passes the House.

Springfield, Ill., April 3.—A franchise for thirty years for a contemplated immense promenade and pleasure pier, to extend 1,000 feet out into the waters of Lake Michigan from a point near the end of Thirty-first street in Chicago, is asked in a bill introduced in the house this morning by Representative Oglesby, the measure being introduced by request. It gives to Fred B. McLean and his assigns authority to construct and operate a promenade pier from a point not more than 1,000 feet from the end of Thirty-first street, Chicago, the pier to be not in excess of 1,000 feet in length and 300 feet in width. It must be of open construction and built so as to accommodate steamboats and navigation in general. Mr. McLean is required to pay to the state treasurer annually 3 per cent of the gross receipts of the pier. The privilege gives no riparian rights, and its operation is at all times subject to federal and state and municipal laws.

Tombstone Bill Goes Through.

Mr. Zinger's tombstone bill was squeezed through the house this morning by a bare majority.

Mr. Zinger made a speech in support of his measure. He objected to the statement from Mr. Hull last week that the bill had been reported by the judiciary committee as a joke.

"Monuments are not a necessity but a luxury," he said, and he believed when one was sold the dealer ought to be able to remove it if it was not paid for. Mr. Zinger spoke advisedly, being a monument dealer himself.

The house committee on education this afternoon took from the table, where it was sent last week, and reported out with the recommendation that it do pass, senate bill 91, providing for the teaching of ethical virtues, morality, humanity to dumb animals, etc., in public schools. The bill prohibits vivisection in any form, and regulates dissection in that it shall be the duty of the teacher to provide all animals to be used for this purpose, thus doing away with the incentive held out to children to kill birds or animals for the purpose of dissection in the schools.

Recorder Davis' Plea Heard.

Abel Davis, recorder of Cook county, appeared before the house committee on judicial department and practice this afternoon and laid before that body a bill prepared by himself and offered as a substitute for house bills 497 [Oglesby] and 330 [Mills]. The committee favored Mr. Davis' bill, and it will be favorably reported out to the house as a substitute for the other measures. The bill provides that county recorders may make streets, and in Cook county $1,000,000 indemnity fund is provided for to insure the correctness of abstracts.

Near to Row in Committee.

After a heated session in which several members came close to losing their temper and indulging in personalities, the meeting of the house committee on penal and reformatory institutions tonight came close to breaking in a row. Mr. Chiperfield, who championed his own bill revising the convict labor law by putting it back to where it was before the amendment of two years ago, insisted upon a vote on his motion to report out the bill with favorable recommendation. But by a vote of 7 to 6 the committee adopted Mr. Riley's motion to refer the matter to a subcommittee of five to be named tomorrow by the chairman.

POLICE SEEK MISSING GIRL.

Search for Ethel Dunkle, Believed to Have Eloped with Guard on Elevated Road.

Although she wrote a note to her mother telling her not to worry, for she had found some one to love her and she was on her way to New York to be married, the Woodlawn police have been asked to look for Ethel Dunkle, 16 years old, who has been missing from her residence at 6407 Washington avenue since March 23. Mrs. Isabelle Dunkle, mother of the girl, reported the disappearance. According to the mother the girl, who has been employed in a downtown department store, was in love with a guard on the South Side Elevated railroad. She does not believe the pair have gone to New York.

THAW MIND TEST ENDED.

COMMISSION TO SAY TODAY IF HE IS SANE OR INSANE.

Final Crucial Test Held in Strictest Privacy, Even Lawyers Being Excluded—Prisoner Comes from Ordeal Smiling and Confident and at Once Instructs Lawyer Delmas to Get Ready to Proceed with Trial Before Jury This Morning.

New York, April 3.—[Special.]—Harry K. Thaw will know tomorrow whether he is considered sane or insane. The lunacy commission completed its inquiry today and will announce its decision to Justice Fitzgerald before the hour appointed for the reassembling of the jury in the morning.

Thaw's final ordeal before the lunacy commission lasted for two hours this afternoon. Neither the district attorney nor any of Thaw's counsel was permitted to be present at this the last crucial test. When it was over Thaw emerged from the room erect and smiling with the aspect of a man who had passed successfully through a perilous crisis. Before he left the commissioners, each of them—David McClure, Peter B. Olney, and Dr. Leopold Putzel—shook hands with Thaw in a way too cordial and friendly to indicate that they considered him a maniac whose liberty would be a menace to society.

Thaw Confident of Outcome.

Thaw seemed genuinely happy. Before he went back to his cell he told his lawyers he felt certain that the commission would declare him sane. His first act after reaching the Tombs was to write a note to Attorney Delmas instructing him to be prepared to go ahead with his summing up address to the jury tomorrow.

Thaw's attorneys share his optimistic view of the situation. Tonight they declared they were ready to proceed with the case tomorrow, and believed that Mr. Delmas might begin his summing up address before noon. In that event, they said, Mr. Jerome would address the jury on Friday, and a verdict might be expected before the week's end.

Mr. Jerome, however, is not yet convinced that he will be put to the necessity of addressing the Thaw jury. He does not share the view of Thaw or his counsel. Although entirely ignorant of what transpired at the final test today, he still is convinced that the commission cannot do other than declare Thaw insane.

Withstands Crucial Ordeal.

So guardedly did the lunacy commission go about the final examination of Thaw that little of what took place leaked out. It was stated that the commissioners questioned Thaw particularly about the delusions from which it has been testified he was suffering at the time he shot and killed Stanford White and that Dr. Putzel conducted a brief physical examination. Thaw is said to have been subjected, in this examination, to all standard tests of the reflexes, the pupils of the eyes, the Romberg test for evidences of locomotor ataxia, etc. He is said to have undergone all of the tests, mental and physical, in a thoroughly satisfactory manner.

Wife Again Keeps Vigil in Court.

There is little or no likelihood that the report of the commission which has inquired into Thaw's present mental state will ever be made public. If the decision favors Thaw, Justice Fitzgerald will merely order the trial to proceed. Should the decision be against Thaw, he would have to quote it but briefly in his order committing the young man to an asylum.

The commission's private examination was preceded by a brief public session, at which was heard the testimony of Dr. Allen Rose Diefendorf of Middletown, Conn., for the prosecution, and Dr. Charles G. Wagner of Binghamton, N. Y., for the defense. Dr. Diefendorf gave a purely academic decision, based upon assumed facts and writings of the defendant, and declared Thaw was incompetent. Dr. Wagner said he had talked with the prisoner almost daily for nearly two months and had been unable to find anything upon which to predicate an opinion of mental unsoundness at this time. He was not willing to go on record, however, as specifically declaring Thaw to be in every sense a sane man.

Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, attired again in the blue schoolgirl costume of the early days of the trial, was present during most of the public session, and while Thaw was closeted with the commission for his last ordeal she sat in the corridor with members of her husband's counsel.

sugar trust, the Standard Oil company, and a dozen other combinations and railroads. Some of these were contributors to the campaign fund. But they have been prosecuted for wrongdoing.

The president did not promise any favor or immunity because of these campaign contributions, and in his action such contributions have not influenced him a feather's weight in reaching his decision.

In this connection it is recalled that when Mr. Roosevelt was governor of New York he was making an effort to get through a bill known as the franchise tax act. This measure was opposed by Whitney and Ryan, and his political managers told him he must consider their wishes, because they had contributed heavily to his election expenses. The president responded he was extremely sorry he could not consider the action of Mr. Whitney and Mr. Ryan; that the subscriptions they had made to his campaign fund could not influence him in his action for the public service. This has always been his policy. This conception of gratitude on the part of these financiers existed in 1904, but their minds are becoming disabused by now and they fully understand that when they contribute to a campaign in which the president is interested it does not bind him to aid them in escaping punishment for violation of law or in preventing him from pushing through governmental reforms which they consider harmful.

Harriman Wanted Senate Seat.

Mr. Harriman's deep interest in the success of the New York campaign arose, according to statements made to the president, from his desire to be elected to the United States senate as successor to Senator Depew. This accounts for his request to the president to name Depew as ambassador to France. Various financial interests most friendly to Depew had given notice to Odell that they would not support Higgins unless Depew were taken care of. The president's refusal to appoint Depew as ambassador was a death knell to Harriman's senatorial aspirations. With this fact known, the motives underlying his activity in the New York state campaign are apparent.

The president paid his respects also to Alton B. Parker. He called attention to the fact that Parker originally charged that he and Secretary Cortelyou had blackmailed the corporations for contributions. This the president declared to be a monstrous falsehood, and he repeated this declaration today.

His Answer to Parker.

The president never has denied that corporations contributed to his campaign fund. In his statement answering Parker in 1904 he used this language:

"That contributions have been made to the republican committee by corporations as contributions have been made to the democratic committee is not the question at issue. Mr. Parker's assertion is in effect that such contributions had been made from improper motives or in consequence of improper promises, direct or indirect, on the part of the recipients. There is not one particle of truth in the statement."

Among those who contributed to the republican campaign fund was John A. McCall, late president of the New York Life Insurance company. At that time the public did not consider contributions from such a source to be improper, and the support of McCall was heralded in all republican papers as a great stroke of fortune for the president. There is not the slightest doubt that August Belmont subscribed generously to Parker's campaign fund.

During last session of congress a law was placed on the statute books in accordance with recommendations of the president forbidding interstate corporations to make contributions for election purposes. Mr. Parker evidently did not know of this action, for in his statement this morning he said that "congress has refused . . . to pass a law prohibiting corporation contributions in future."

"Spear Knows No Brother."

President Roosevelt does not want the country to rest under the impression that he has maintained intimate relations with Harriman. He is no closer to Harriman than he is to James J. Hill or to A. B. Stickney. Only today he received from the latter an outline of the kind of railroad legislation he should recommend to congress for enactment and replied asking for details. He has also considered letters of B. F. Yoakum of the Rock Island railway, Mr. Speyer, the New York financier, and Frederick Whitrich, the railroad lawyer.

A couple of years from now, should the president become involved in a quarrel with any of these men and his letters be published, he would be in the same position as he is now with Harriman.

It was suggested that the effect of the Harriman row will be to make the president lean towards a harsher policy of railroad supervision, but this is emphatically denied. The president will not permit personal animosity to influence his action in connection with a great public question.

"My spear knows no brother," was the epigrammatic way in which the president spoke of his attitude toward the combination of railroad men and politicians of which Harriman is a type. This is accepted as a declaration of war, and from now on there will be blood on the face of the political moon.

Harriman Sits Tight.

New York, April 3.—[Special.]—E. H. Harriman announced today that he has nothing more to say or write concerning his difference with President Roosevelt. Cornelius Bliss said he had nothing to say. Senator Depew said he, too, had nothing to add to his statement of Tuesday. Pending further word from Washington the disposition at this end of the line seemed to be to sit tight and keep mum.

"Has Mr. Harriman any supplementary word to add to that of yesterday?" Mr. Millar was asked.

"None whatever."

"Has Mr. Harriman had called to his attention the report said to have emanated from a high source at Washington to the effect that his real object of having Mr. Depew removed from the senatorial field was to gain Mr. Depew's seat for himself?"

"Yes," said Mr. Millar, "Mr. Harriman has seen that statement and he has nothing to say."

TO RENEW FIGHT ON TRUSTS.

President Roosevelt Calls Cabinet to White House to Consider Plans for More Prosecutions.

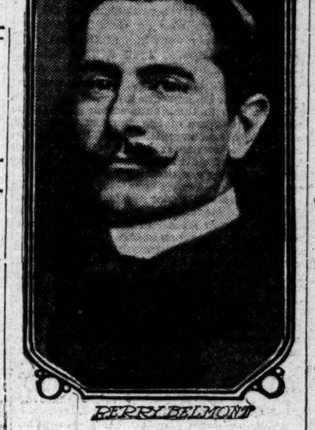

Washington, D. C., April 3.—An important conference was held at the White house this afternoon on the subject of trust prosecutions now under way by the department of justice. Those present included four members of the President's cabinet, Messrs. Root, Bonaparte, Garfield, and Cortelyou. The discussion today was a general one without reference to any particular trust or corporation and no conclusions were reached. Attorney General Bonaparte, it is said, is outlining a program for action when the administration is ready to resume the trust prosecutions.

Kansas City, Mo., April 3.—The live stock commission men who are members of the live stock exchange at the stock yards have declared war on the cooperative Live Stock Commission company, an independent concern, and a boycott on all packers who purchase cattle, sheep, or hogs from the cooperative company. The commission men say the cooperative company sells cattle below quotations.

vard and of Columbia law schools, and was a member of congress for three or four terms, arriving at the distinguished position of chairman of the committee on foreign affairs of the house during the Cleveland administration. Then he became United States minister to Spain, and he has ever since maintained an active interest in all sorts of political matters. Most recently he has been interested in the promotion of a movement for purity in politics by preventing the use of money. He became so interested in this that he organized a national society, and has probably contributed the greater part of the funds for its propaganda. He is, of course, known for his active influence in the Interborough Rapid Transit company, of which August Belmont is as been president, and he sits in as a director and stockholder in the affairs of a dozen important corporations and trust companies, not all of which confine their activity to New York City.

Novelty in Club's Action.

What is, perhaps, the most curious part of the situation involved in the rejection of the Belmonts lies in the fact that Mr. Belmont is an active member of many clubs far and away more exclusive than the Chevy Chase or Metropolitan. He is not only a member of the Knickerbocker, Manhattan, New York Yacht club, Metropolitan, Army and Navy, Jockey club, Turf and Field, Coaching club, and similar organizations in this country, but he is a member of the Reading Room at Newport and was one of two Americans elected to the Paris Jockey club. To cap the climax, Perry Belmont is president of the Allied Hunt club, of which the Chevy Chase organization is a subordinate member.

Early last season the Belmonts came to Washington. Some people who object to marriages and divorces and marriages immediately following divorces undertook to prevent the Belmonts from "getting into society" in Washington because of the fact that their marriage happened within an extraordinarily short time after Mrs. Belmont's divorce from the New York merchant.

In spite of this chilliness, which they well understood before they came here, the Belmonts bravely and frankly set to work to conquer social prejudices by lavish hospitality and the generous use of their unbounded wealth.

New Home Called Spitehouse.

They rented the Morgan house on Scott circle, which faces the house recently occupied by the Russian embassy and built by Vice President Morton. They have, however, undertaken the construction of a gorgeous residence on New Hampshire avenue, directly opposite the home of Thomas Nelson Page. This house is to be a model of what wealth and culture combined can do for a private residence. The architect and the landscape gardener who have charge of the grounds represent the best there is in the art of Paris.

Unfortunately the Belmont house will cut off the view of some other people in the vicinity, and this, coupled with the fact that these same people participated in refraining from welcoming the Belmonts to Washington, has given rise to a statement that the new Belmont residence is nothing more nor less than a "spitehouse." If it is it will be a pretty piece of spite, which will be well worth going to see when it is finished.

It is in the immediate vicinity of some of the finest residences in Washington, and if a line is to be drawn on the Belmonts socially it will have to zigzag up and down and around Dupont circle, because in their fight for social recognition they certainly have received help from some of the best kind of people, while others, equally best, have turned a cold shoulder.

Further Dissensions Probable.

There is probably no recourse for the turning down at the Chevy Chase club, but it seems more than likely that the affair at the Metropolitan club, the exact nature of which is not known even to members who did not happen to be present, may result in something in the nature of club discipline, which may lead to a still greater split in the Washington social set.

Col. Frank L. Denny of the United States marine corps, who is president of the Chevy Chase club, was seriously injured in an automobile accident last night. He was driving in a touring car with a party of friends, and they were all tipped out when the machine turned over in making a sharp and fast curve near the Washington monument. Col. Denny had an arm broken and was painfully cut and bruised. It is believed he will recover. His accident had, of course, no connection with the Belmont difficulty, but, coming on the heels of an affair which has split up two clubs to such an extent and which will have an influence on business, club, and social life in Washington and New York, it naturally has attracted more attention than would be given it otherwise, perhaps.

The Perry Belmonts have their home at 980 Fifth avenue, New York, while the August Belmont house still is booked at 44 East Thirty-fourth street, the residence of Oliver Hazard Perry Belmont, the third and youngest brother, being at 677 Fifth avenue.

Each of the three brothers belong to the most exclusive clubs in New York, London, and Paris. Perry and "Ollie" have been members of congress, the former being diplomat and the latter having been naval officer. August Belmont has remained at the head of the great banking house. The three brothers have not always been harmonious in social campaigns, but it is recognized at once that the climax of the Perry Belmont campaign in Washington, resulting in their unfortunate turning down by a prominent club, must necessarily be the subject of comment among people who do not themselves strive after social honors, and it is this which has caused people to be as much interested in the rejection of Belmont from the Chevy Chase club as in the forcible election of a Harriman to the Ananias club, founded by President Roosevelt.

CHICAGO GIRL A SUCCESS AS THEATRICAL MANAGER.

Miss Katherine Ridgely Gives Society Play in Washington Against Discouraging Odds.

Washington, D. C., April 3.—[Special.]—Miss Katherine Ridgely of Illinois, daughter of the controller of the currency, has pluckily made a success as a theatrical manager, in spite of odds which horrid men heaped in her pathway.

The amateur play, "We Are in Society," will net $6,000 for charity. It was given at the Belasco theater under Miss Ridgely's management.

First she had trouble with the program man, who demanded $350 for permitting her program to be used in the house. She refused and he lined the house with policemen who prevented the distribution of her programs. Today she stationed Lieut. John Potts at the door, and he handed a program to all who entered the theater.

Then Robert Sterns, who wrote the music, demanded $125 instead of the $100 he had agreed to accept, and carried away the music. Miss Ridgely compromised on $115.

A Valuable Spring Tonic and Blood Purifier.

The changeable days of spring will be responsible this year, as they always have been, for a great increase of sickness, particularly rheumatism, kidney and bladder troubles. While the weather is to blame, we cannot change the weather unless we have the time and money which will allow us to get away from the cold, damp days of March and April. Unfortunately most of us are not so situated and we have to make the best of conditions as they are. There are two or three valuable rules easy to follow which, if followed, would prevent thousands of cases of severe illness every spring and save thousands of lives.

The first and one of the most important, "Don't take off that winter underwear too soon." Nearly all of us do this. When the first bright April sun comes out we forget that the next day is liable to be cold and raw, off comes the winter clothing—and the next day a severe cold, a touch of rheumatism or pneumonia. Keep on the winter clothing until well into May if you would avoid spring rheumatism and colds.

Second and most important, we advise every reader to "Clean House." Every good housewife knows how necessary this is in the spring—and does it. What we mean is to apply the same principle to your bodies that every housewife does to her house, Clean out. During the long winter, while most of us are indoors a great part of the time, the system becomes clogged with impurities; the bowels become sluggish; the kidneys inactive. Poisons, instead of being thrown off as they are during the summer while we are physically more active, are stored up in the system. Principal among these poisons is uric acid, the cause of rheumatism.

What the system needs at this time is to be cleaned out, toned up and strengthened to stand the sudden changes in temperature, damp weather, etc. Instead of taking strong laxatives, or patent medicines which depend on alcohol for temporary tonic effects, we would recommend a simple prescription which can be filled at any drug store. It is as follows: Fluid Extract Cascara Aromatic, half ounce; Concentrated Barkola Compound, one ounce; Fluid Extract Prickly Ash Bark, half a drachm; Aromatic Elixir, four ounces. Mix these ingredients together thoroughly and take one teaspoonful three times a day after meals, and at bedtime. Children, one-quarter to one-half teaspoonful three times a day after meals.

This simple prescription has a three-fold effect—it serves to regulate the action of the kidneys and purifies the stomach and bowels, stimulates the blood. By its action on the bowels and kidneys it insures a rapid elimination of all the waste products of the body, which are more numerous in spring-time than at any other season. As a general tonic and blood purifier it is unequaled. Dr. George Edmund Flood, the famous Chicago specialist on rheumatism and kidney trouble, publishes the above prescription and is authority for the statement that it is a positive cure for all forms of rheumatism, kidney and bladder trouble. He uses it almost exclusively in his private practice and we are pleased to be able to give it to our readers with his permission. Any druggist can fill the prescription at a nominal cost or you may obtain the ingredients and mix them at home.

POLITICAL QUAKE SHAKES NEW YORK

Court of Appeals Overthrows Legislative District Apportionment Law.

HELPS HUGHES' CAUSE.

Ruling Gives Him Firm Grip Over Forces Fighting Him on the Kelsey Issue.

Albany, N. Y., April 3.—[Special.]—The Court of Appeals today declared unconstitutional the legislative apportionment law passed by the last legislature after much deliberation by members of the Higgins kitchen cabinet.

Two of the most notable accomplishments of this law were to retire to private life State Senators Frederick C. Stevens of the Genesee-Wyoming-Allegany district and Edgar T. Brackett of the Saratoga-Washington-Schenectady district. Since then Mr. Stevens has been politically rehabilitated. Mr. Stevens' friend, Mr. Brackett, has been prominently mentioned as the man Gov. Hughes would like to see at the head of the state insurance department.

Effect of the Ruling.

The opinion was written by Judge Chase and was concurred in by Judges Cullen, Vann, Gray, and Willard Bartlett. The effect of the overturning of the apportionment of 1906 is set forth thus in the opinion:

"While the courts cannot pass on the title of any member of the legislature, they can control the action of administrative officers in the conduct of the next election that takes place.

"If the present legislature should pass a new apportionment bill in compliance with the provisions of the constitution, the next general election at which members of either house are to be elected will be held under the new statutes. If the legislature fails to discharge this duty, then the election must be held in accordance with the apportionment under the constitution of 1895. In other words, while the courts cannot interfere with the present legislature, they can compel future elections to be held in compliance with the constitution."

As to the gerrymander of the Thirteenth district in New York county Judge Chase says:

"A reference to the diagram will show how grossly provisions of the constitution in regard to compactness has been violated in the Thirteenth senatorial district. Within the limits of a city entitled to many senators, the requirements for compactness would seem to exclude all possibility of a district in the shape of the Thirteenth.

Present Members Not Affected.

"Disregard of constitutional provisions in forming the Second and Thirteenth districts," concludes Judge Chase, "is clear, and they so affect the entire apportionment as to make it necessary to declare the whole act unconstitutional and void."

Chief Justice Cullen in concurring, says that not only is the present legislature a valid one, but the title to office of each member cannot be challenged before any tribunal except the house itself.

Friends of Gov. Hughes are elated. A new reapportionment act will require the signature of Gov. Hughes. Senators who are inclined to side with the corporations in the contest over the public utilities bill and with Superintendent of Insurance Kelsey realized tonight that further opposition to the governor's plans might involve them disastrously in the new apportionment.

SENATE ENEMIES ROUT HUGHES IN KELSEY RESOLUTION VOTE.

Judiciary Committee Gives Insurance Superintendent Leave to Call All the Witnesses He May Desire.

Albany, N. Y., April 3.—[Special.]—Gov. Hughes was overwhelmingly defeated today in the final session of the senate judiciary committee, when the Kelsey resolution, drawn up by Senator Grady, was jammed through by a vote of 9 to 4. Only Senators Page, Armstrong, Taylor, and Cobb stood with the governor.

The result came as a tremendous surprise in view of earlier votes in the committee. It is a complete victory for Raines, McCarren, and Grady.

The resolution adopted permits Superintendent of Insurance Kelsey to summon all the witnesses and present all the documents and depositions he desires. It fixes April 12, however, as the final date for the closing of the hearing.

Kelsey's prospects, which have improved daily, are now regarded as exceedingly bright. It is apparent, similarly, that Gov. Hughes' first "appeal to the people" has fallen flat here among his enemies in the senate.

STREET CAR HITS CURB; FOUR PASSENGERS HURT.

North Bound Larrabee Street Vehicle Leaves Track at Erie and Franklin—Mild Panic on Board.

Four persons were slightly injured early this morning when a north bound Larrabee street car struck a switch at Erie and Franklin streets and ran against the curbing. Lights in the car were extinguished and caused a mild panic. Those injured are:

POWERS, JOHN G., 53 years old, 619 Belden avenue; scalp wound and body bruised; attended by physician and taken home.

The car was going rapidly north when suddenly it left the track as it reached the switch. The motorman lost control and jumped. Two women in the car screamed and added to the excitement. Patrol wagons from the East and West Chicago avenue stations hurried to the scene and aided the injured. Other passengers were frightened, but escaped unhurt.

TAFT GOES TO THE BOTTOM OF GATUN DAM QUESTION.

Secretary of War Is Lowered Into the Deepest Pit on the Site for Big Lock.

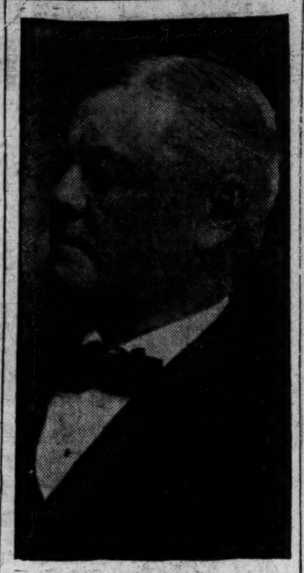

COLON, April 3.—Secretary Taft got at the bottom of the great Gatun dam today in a double sense. He not only investigated the site and the work that is being done but he was lowered to the bottom of the deepest test pit in the center of the middle lock.

The report has been published in the United States that the soil on the site of the Gatun dam was too soft to sustain the tremendous weight of its foundation for the locks.

Secretary Taft wanted to see for himself. So he visited the site today, in company with Congressman Burton of Ohio. He tramped all over the site and visited each test pit. He watched Congressman Burton as he was lowered into the largest hole that goes to the bottom of the lock. When Mr. Burton came to the surface Secretary Taft was lowered to the bottom of the test pit.

F. B. Maltby, first assistant engineer on the canal, and William Grieg, who is in charge of the Pacific division, accompanied the secretary on his descent and explained to him every aspect of the soil and the work in hand.

Illinois Supreme Court Justice Dead.

Jacob W. Wilkin.

Danville, Ill., April 3.—Judge Jacob W. Wilkin, eighteen years a member of the Supreme court of Illinois, died today, aged 70 years. Judge Wilkin, who was to have been made chief justice next June, had been ill two weeks with acute Bright's disease.

Judge Wilkin was born June 7, 1837, at Newark, O., and came to Illinois with his parents in 1844. The family settled in Crawford county and Judge Wilkin was educated at McKendree college, at Lebanon, Ill.

In the spring and summer of 1862 he was mustered into the union service as captain of company K, 130th Illinois infantry. He took an active part in the campaign and siege of Vicksburg, was at Grant's headquarters during the siege on special duty, and for some time after the surrender. He was in the Red river campaign and all its battles. He was also on Gen. Rosecrans' staff and on duty with him at the battle of Sabine Cross Roads, April 8, 1864, where Gen. Rosecrans was seriously wounded and Capt. Dickey, his adjutant general, son of the late Judge Dickey, was killed. Capt. Wilkin was also in the Mobile campaign, at the siege and capture of Spanish fort, storming of Blakely, and surrender of Mobile, and in other battles and skirmishes, and was mustered out at the close of the war and given a major's commission on account of meritorious conduct.

He studied law under the late Judge John Scholfield in Marshall, Clark county, and was his law partner from 1867 until Judge Scholfield went on the bench in 1873. He was elected judge of the Fourth circuit in 1879, reelected in 1885, and in June of that year assigned to the Appellate bench of the Fourth district, where he served for three years, until his elevation to the Supreme bench in 1888.

Judge Wilkin married Miss Alice E. Constable, a daughter of Judge Charles E. Constable. She died at their home in Danville in 1883.

DIDN'T SEE KING OSCAR.

AMERICAN WOMAN CARRIES COMPLAINT TO WHITE HOUSE.

Mrs. Ida von Claussen Tells State Department at Washington That Charles H. Graves, United States Minister to Sweden, Refused to Present Her at Court—Her Gowns Were All Ready, Too—Says She Feels Like Bride Deserted at Altar.

New York, April 3.—[Special.]—Charles H. Graves, United States minister to Sweden, has sent to the state department in Washington his answer to the complaint filed with the department by Mrs. Ida von Claussen, to the effect that Minister Graves refused to present her at the court of King Oscar. As part of his answer he inclosed two letters written by Mrs. von Claussen to his wife.

Mrs. von Claussen arrived here on March 23 on the French liner La Provence. She said then that she was going to Washington to lay her grievance before the president personally.

She is the daughter of Adolph Claussen, a retired merchant of this city. At 19 she married Dr. William Francis Homan, but in 1905 obtained a South Dakota divorce from him, resuming her maiden name. Her grandfather was Matthew Byrnes, a building contractor of this city.

This Is What She Wrote.

Part of Mrs. Claussen's letters to Mrs. Graves just as she wrote them are as follows, printed as written:

"My Dear Mrs. Graves: An American is in a terrible predicament and it is this. I have anticipated being presented at your court—and the court of Sweden, I mean—for over six months. I had the pleasure of meeting his royal majesty in Wiesbaden, and he was so sweet and kind to my little daughter, 5 years old, and it made me think of a part of the world that I was not familiar with, namely, Sweden, and so through Mr. and Mrs. Linberg I have been under the impression that upon my arrival in Sweden I would be presented to a countess whose name I at this minute forget, but a friend of Miss Linberg's and through her to her royal majesty the queen, but Miss Linberg has just written to me here that she is informed that I must be presented through the wife of 'our American ambassador,' and so I am taking the liberty, and may I say the pleasure, of writing to you.

"I do not know what to do at this late date, and for my own dignity's sake cannot afford not to be presented, as many people know about it both in this country and in America. Admiral Dewey, Mrs. Dewey, and son are my friends in America. Mr. Brander Matthews and family are my friends, they are also personal and intimate friends of President Roosevelt.

Had Gowns All Ready.

"Do not refuse me the courtesy that I have understood from Mr. Consul Linberg was going to be conferred upon me just when all my gowns and court costume was completed. It would be like a bride left at the altar, and I am too well known socially to have such an indignity thrust upon me, so for the honor of America I appeal to you, dear Mrs. Graves, to see that no mistake is made.

"Trusting that you will arrange everything for me and, of course, accept my heartiest thanks, and I could almost hug you and love you for not allowing any failure to what should be a grand and glorious success, for I assure you America has worked hard in developing me and has given me many things to be thankful for. I assure you you will take great pleasure in knowing me as your country [underlined] woman."

Shows She Is Slighted.

When this did not have the desired result Mrs. Claussen wrote another letter, just to show Mrs. Graves who it was she had slighted, saying:

"I am the granddaughter of (old) Sir Matthew Byrns, who built up half of old New York and died, leaving millions and your humble servant. The U. S. M. T. Co.'s letter I am sending you identifies me. The Princess Estrada of Paris' letter will at least let you know that I am in a position to invite the best to my 'feasts.'

"I tried to be modest and retiring in coming to Sweden, allowing my friends to be greater than I, but you see, I am of some importance after all and may be a great deal more than I care to admit. So I am sure that the little obstacle of 'not knowing me' is removed."

With this letter were inclosed, Minister Graves says, the following incidentals in the way of identification:

A bill for 1,500 marks for surgery, indorsed, "This is the surgeon who took 1,500 marks' worth of appendix from me."

Three regrets for dinner invitations.

Letter from a New York trust company about her account.

Letter from a Frenchman saying "could not live without seeing her again," and asking for an appointment in London.

STIR UP TROUBLE FOR HAGUE CONFAB

Russia and England Adopt Conflicting Positions on Armament Problem.

THREAT IN CZAR'S NOTE.

Powers Warned Russ and German Governments Will Not Discuss Reduction.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 3.—Diplomatic representatives of Russia have been directed to communicate a circular note regarding The Hague peace conference.

The main feature of the note is an announcement that Russia, Germany, and Austria reserve the right to abstain from the discussion of questions "which, in their opinion, cannot lead to practical results." This means the limitation of armaments.

In making this reservation Russia reaffirms her adherence to the former program for the conference. On the other hand, Great Britain and Japan reserve the right to abstain from the discussion of any points in the Russian program from which, according to their views, satisfactory conclusions are not obtainable.

Conference to Open in June.

The question of the limitation of armaments, according to the Russian note, is proposed by three powers—the United States, Great Britain, and Spain—the United States also proposing the addition of the Drago doctrine to the program, and several states reserve the right to present independent propositions to the conference on questions connected with the Russian program but not directly mentioned in it.

The Russian minister at The Hague has been instructed to ask the government of the Netherlands to issue final invitations to the conference, in order that it may be opened in the middle of June.

England Insists on Question.

LONDON, April 3.—Great Britain has not withdrawn or in any way altered her request that the reduction of the expenditures on armaments should be placed on the program of subjects to be discussed at The Hague peace conference. This statement was made at the foreign office today.

Express Surprise in Berlin.

BERLIN, April 3.—The statement made at the British foreign office today that Great Britain had not in any way altered her request that the question of the limitation of armaments be included in the program for the coming peace conference at The Hague causes some surprise in Berlin. The German foreign office's understanding was that Great Britain did not insist on the question being formally included in the program, but only reserved the privilege of raising the question in the conference, thus leaving the other powers free to partake in or abstain from its discussion.

KING LEOPOLD GETS REVENGE FOR BRITISH CONGO EXPOSE.

Survey Reveals the Fact Mountains of the Moon in Africa Are in Belgian Territory.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, April 3.—The Royal Geographical society is about to make an announcement which shows that Great Britain faces the loss of some of her most cherished East African territory. The exact longitude of the mountains of the Moon has just been scientifically determined and it is discovered that the more important part of the mountains lies in the Congo Free State. Moreover, Lake Albert Edward Nyanza, which was named for King Edward when he was prince of Wales, passes to Belgian control.

Were King Leopold's feelings towards Great Britain more amiable there might be hope that Great Britain would retain the territory in question, as his consent to the frontier line being thrown back about half a degree to the natural boundary, the Semliki river, is all that is necessary to effect this.

King Leopold, however, is greatly incensed against the British owing to the part the press and public men here have taken in showing up the Congo atrocities and fixing the blame for them on him. His opportunity for revenge has come. He refuses to make any concession, insisting upon the thirtieth meridian as the frontier.

Accordingly the loss of the mountains and lake will shortly be announced by the foreign office here. It is anticipated a general renaming of the prominent natural features of this part of Africa will follow.

NOTES FROM FOREIGN LANDS.

PONTA DEL GADA, Island of St. Michaels, Azore Islands—Violent earth shocks prevailed throughout this island. The worst disturbance occurred at Villa Franca, where the panic stricken people fled to the outskirts of the town. The wealthier inhabitants are leaving Villa Franca, the ancient capital of St. Michaels, which was twice previously destroyed by volcanic eruptions, being practically swallowed up by an eruption of mud in 1522.

SAN SALVADOR—When the invading Nicaraguan and Honduran revolutionary armies occupied Tegucigalpa they plundered the palace and murdered several persons. The children of Gen. Teofilo Carcamo were hanged by the invaders.

BUCHAREST, Roumania—The estimates in the official press place the material damages due to the agrarian revolt at $6,000,000, but the land owners claim that the losses incurred are much greater.

Receiver for Laporte Concern.

Laporte, Ind., April 3.—Upon application of the Laporte Electric company Judge Richter in the Laporte Circuit court today appointed Edward J. Widdell receiver for the Edwards Electric Headlight company of Laporte, which is capitalized for $150,000. The liabilities and assets are unknown.

A Word to the Intelligent Doubter:

It seems to you extremely unlikely that anybody could possibly make good—completely—on the daring claims made in our advertising.

You simply don't believe that men's garments, as good in every respect as the best tailor's best, CAN be made and offered ready for you to put on.

We don't blame you. Your doubt is an intelligent one. If you were to be too easily convinced, your ultimate approbation would be worth much less to us.

are not of a type easily led. Their natural prejudices in favor of the custom tailor have yielded only to the proven facts in our case—yielded only when they "saw the goods."

Some of the stanchest of our present patrons were at first the most vigorous of doubters.

They are now converts to Ely Meyer & M. C. Simon garments. They have found that they can get—ready for use—tailoring that is of the highest class in the strictest and most complete sense.

Our personal service did not do it.

Our advertising did not do it—it merely brought them to The Shop.

The garments did it—proved their own case—won their men—as soon as they were able to induce a careful inspection.

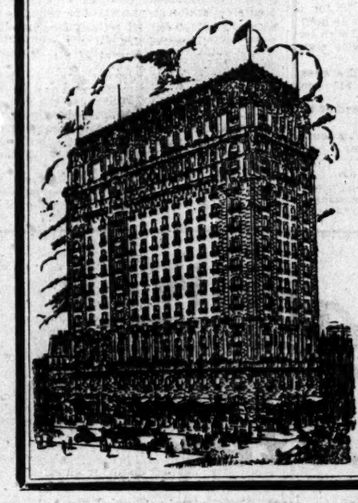

It will be the same with you.

To Men of Money

I want to interest a man of large means in an investment secured by property of enormous value, producing a staple for which the demand has exceeded the supply for the past five years. This year in the following ratio:

Annual Increase in Consumption, 20 per cent.
Annual Increase in Production, 8 per cent.

I ask an opportunity to show you the stability and money-making possibilities of the enterprise. Every facility for exhaustive investigation freely extended. Will talk with principals only—strong, responsible high grade men who have cash available and who would interest themselves in a high class proposition, if they became convinced by personal investigation that it would be highly profitable.

GK 598, TRIBUNE

SPELLING BOARD LOSES AUTHORITY

Executive Committee Must Submit Views to Entire Organization.

FAIRBANKS HOLDS STRAP

Vice President of United States Rudely Jostled by Crowd on Elevated Train.

NEW YORK BUREAU CHICAGO TRIBUNE, New York, April 3.

"Tired of being held responsible for actions with which they had had nothing to do," as one prominent educator expressed it, the simplified spelling board, at its first meeting, held today in the Waldorf Astoria, took from the executive committee that almost unlimited power in matters orthographic which it had exercised. Now any new ideas about spelling will not be passed upon by the executive committee alone; each of the fifty members of the board will consider each proposed change and vote upon it and none will be suggested or recommended to the public unless three-fourths of the members of the board approve.

Simple Spelling Board Loses Part of Power.

This revolutionary change was precipitated by the action of Dr. David Starr Jordan, president of the University of California. Dr. Jordan sent his resignation to the chairman of the board last fall, so it came out today, explaining that while he favored the simplification of the English language, he was unwilling to remain associated with a body with whose work he had nothing to do, although his name subscribed its actions. Prof. Brander Matthews, the chairman, urged him to reconsider and suggested that a meeting of the entire board be held. That is just what Dr. Jordan wanted, so he withdrew his resignation.

Prof. Matthews announced that 100,000 persons were using the reformed spelling.

Anthony Fiala, who went to the frozen north with the Baldwin-Ziegler expedition, is planning a quest of the north pole, and he has announced to his friends that he has the backing of two capitalists.

A man of 6 feet 2 or 3 inches got on a southbound Sixth avenue elevated train at the Thirty-third street station at 1:30 o'clock today. He wore a Fedora hat, a dark suit of clothes, and had a light overcoat thrown over his arm.

Fairbanks Hangs to Strap on New York Elevated.

The car he got in was jammed, and the tall man with chin whiskers had to stand. A stout Italian woman with a basket bumped into him as the train went around the Bleecker street curve, and men hurrying downtown back to business poked him in the ribs with their elbows. Nobody saw any reason for getting up and offering him a seat.

One man, however, kept glancing at the tall man and then looking away again, plainly puzzled. He remarked to a reporter on the train, "There's something familiar about the face of that man, but I can't spot him for the life of me."

When the reporter with a bunch of men in his train passed out he stepped before the tall man.

"How do you do, Mr. Fairbanks?" he said. "What are you doing in New York?"

"Glad to see you," said the vice president of the United States. "I just ran over on business and social matters."

The North German Lloyd steamship Kaiser Wilhelm II. came in today thronged with passengers. When it was well out in the North sea Tuesday evening just before dark the cry of "man overboard" went up in German and English. Fellow voyagers of a portly second cabin passenger, William Mills of Passaic, N. J., used the English. Just before Mills jumped overboard he was standing muttering at the after rail of the second cabin promenade. Then he had a brain storm, and, getting up on the rail, waved his arms and shouted: "Come in, boys, the water's fine."

Leaps from Liner Into North Sea, Then Forgets It.

They are pretty swift in getting down a boat on the Kaiser, for they have frequent drills. The ship was stopped within a quarter of a mile. Mills was seen swimming valiantly toward it when Third Officer W. Petermoller and the crew of the lifeboat had it swinging out on the davits. The big ship stood by while the officer and his men picked up Mills, almost frozen. He told reporters today that he could not remember anything about his leap.

Justice Davis of the Supreme court decided today that Mrs. Nannie Roosevelt, wife of John E. Roosevelt, is entitled to visit her sister, Mrs. Constant Andrews, three times a week in the future. Mrs. Andrews is a patient in a Westchester sanitarium, having been pronounced incurably insane. Under a previous order Mrs. Roosevelt was allowed to see her sister only twice a week. Justice Davis now directs that her husband, Mr. Roosevelt, shall not be present at the interviews, nor shall the incompetent's abode be changed without an order of the court.

Court Modifies Order as to Patient.

After several months of suffering from a nervous malady Mrs. Ellen Berry Ryder, wife of Cornelius Ryder, one of the wealthiest men in the Gravesend section of Brooklyn, hanged herself today in the basement of the family home in Gravesend avenue. She had been dead two hours when the husband found her body swinging from a ladder. Mrs. Ryder was 52 years old, and like her husband was descended from one of the old Dutch families that settled early in the Flatbush section. She devoted much of her time and fortune to charitable purposes.

A fire following an explosion of a tube of benzine on the third floor of a seven story building at University place and Tenth street, occupied by fur manufacturers, did damage of thousands of dollars and caused a panic among the 200 women and seventy-five men at work in the building today. Those on the lower floors reached the street safely by the stairs and elevators, but flames soon shut off exit in this way and those on the top floors had to use the fire escapes.

Fire Ruins Furs and Causes Panic.

Fire caused by a spark from one of the boiler rooms in the excavation for the McAdoo tunnel terminal at Dey, Fulton, and Church streets early today did damage estimated at $50,000, and a delay of thirty days in the completion of the work on the huge terminal buildings will result. Five men were injured during the progress of the fire by being caught in one of the deep caissons, two of them so severely that it was necessary to take them to a hospital.

BREWERY STRIKE IS ENDED

MEN TO GET HIGHER PAY, WORK SHORTER HOURS.

St. Louis' Fears of a Beer Famine Are Allayed by Compromise Between Makers of the Foaming Beverage and Their Striking Employes—Both Sides Make Concessions—Schedule Signed for Three Years—Features of New Wage Scale.

St. Louis, Mo., April 3.—[Special.]—The brewery strike is ended, the men have returned to work with more pay and shorter hours, and the beer famine which made St. Louis nervous with dread has been averted.

Contracts for three years were signed by the representatives of the various breweries and the striking employes, and the strike was officially declared terminated.

Following are the changes in wages and hours that go into effect immediately under the new contracts:

Brewers and maltsters—Washhouse men increased from $15 to $16.50 a week; cellar men from $16 to $17.50 a week.

Bottlers—Were getting $1.70 a day for nine hours. Will receive $2 for an eight hour day.

Firemen—Were getting $15 a week; will receive 80 cents an hour for eight hour day, seven days a week.

Oilers—Were paid $62.50 a month, with ten hour day; will get $15 a week with eight hour days.

Engineers—Increase from $20 to $23 a week.

Drivers—Increases from $14 to $15 and from $16 to $16.50 a week.

Ice pullers—Work only eight instead of ten hours for $2 a day.

Laborers—Were paid $1.89 for nine hours, and will get $2 for an eight hour day.

GAS STRIKE STARTS ANEW

EMPLOYERS REFUSE WAGE DEMAND—BIG TIEUP FEARED.

Union, Comprising 200 Fitters, All There Are in City, Declines to Accept Offer of Master Plumbers of $5 a Day and Insists on $5.20—Building Operations All Over City May Cease as a Result and Taking Contracts May End.

Building operations all over the city may be tied up as a result of the strike of union gasfitters, which began Monday morning and which broke out afresh yesterday, when the employers finally refused to grant demands.

More than 200 members of the Chicago Master Plumbers' association indorsed the refusal of the arbitration committee of the association to accede to demands.

The strike involves about 200 men, practically every gasfitter in Chicago. Unless the difficulty is speedily adjusted the situation threatens to involve contractors in much trouble with architects and builders for failure to finish contracts on time.

An increase in pay from $4.50 to $5.20 a day is demanded by the strikers. The scale of $4.50 a day was based on an agreement between the Gasfitters' union and the Chicago Master Plumbers' association, which expired on March 30. On Friday the demands were submitted to the arbitration committee of the employers' organization. It was decided unanimously to reject them.

A compromise was offered by the employers in an offer to pay the men $5 a day for the first year, and $5.20 a day for the second year of the new proposed agreement. The gasfitters insisted on a flat scale of $5.20. The negotiations ended in a deadlock, with the result that gasfitters refused to go to work Monday morning.

Another meeting of the association will be held tomorrow night, when the employers may decide to discontinue accepting contracts.

TRAINMEN REFUSE PLANS FOR PEACE.

Last and Secret Appeal of Federal Commissioners Rejected by Employes.

IN FINAL EFFORT TODAY.

Railroad Managers Remain Firm and Settlement Seems Far Off.

President Roosevelt's peace envoys are making their final effort to prevent a big railroad strike. Yesterday Commissioners Knapp and Neill resorted to a direct appeal to the men. It was unsuccessful. Today they again will endeavor to move the railroads. Their failure in both cases will render the situation practically hopeless so far as the prospect of peace is concerned.

For more than an hour in the afternoon Mr. Neill addressed 196 members of the employés' committee at the Sherman house. He presented a proposition from the railroads which was said to be in the nature of an ultimatum. Its terms were kept secret, although it is known that the only concession offered was a slightly better wage advance. The nine hour day demands of the men were ignored.

Mr. Neill then left hurriedly for the Auditorium Annex, where he and Mr. Knapp, in company with the ten general managers who are representing the roads, waited for an answer from the employés. This did not come until after 6 o'clock. It was negative. The men refused to agree to a settlement on the terms proposed. They returned a counter proposition which was widely at variance with that proposed by the managers.

Ready to Abandon Efforts.

When the federal agents received this reply they were ready to give up their attempt to bring about a settlement. It was decided, however, to hold another meeting with the railroad officials before announcing a failure. At midnight this conference was still on.

"Probably there will be no definite issue before tomorrow," Commissioner Neill said. "The situation is extremely delicate."

Chief Morrissey of the trainmen said the gravity of the situation forced him to maintain silence. Chief Garretson of the conductors took a similar attitude. It was known that both expected to receive word of a weakening on the part of the railroads.

A general manager said such a development was an impossibility, and that the roads are more firm than ever in their determination to refuse the men's demands. He expressed himself as opposed to the plan of holding out further hope in this direction.

Last Hope in Roosevelt.

It is believed the federal officials will not attempt to suggest arbitration—their last peace move under the terms of the Erdmann act—except under special instructions from President Roosevelt. The only way in which arbitration may be brought about, it is believed, is through an appeal directly from the president. The employés have declared their unwillingness to accept this method of settling the dispute.

GETS BOMB IN BOX; DYING

SCHENECTADY MAN LITERALLY BLOWN TO PIECES.

Daniel Miller, Young Machinist, Soon to Have Been Married, Opens Express Package Sent Him from North Adams, Mass., and Is Mortally Wounded—Police Have No Clew to Identity of Sender, Address Having Been Printed.

Schenectady, N. Y., April 3.—[Special.]—Daniel Miller, a machinist, was mortally injured this afternoon by an infernal machine which was sent to him by express. The machine came from North Adams, Mass., and was delivered at Miller's lodgings, 431 Liberty street, within a stone's throw of police headquarters, at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon. It was not opened by Miller until he got home about 7 o'clock. He started to open the package, which was slightly larger than an ordinary cigar box, as it lay on a center table in his room on the second floor.

An instant later there was a terrific explosion and other lodgers in the house as well as neighbors rushed to Miller's room. Miller lay groaning in agony on the floor, his face and body frightfully burned and mangled, his body stripped of clothing, and blood streaming from hundreds of cuts. One eye was torn out, and the entire lower portion of the trunk was cut open, exposing the intestines.

Victim Cannot Recover.

Several physicians were summoned, and an ambulance from the Ellis hospital quickly was on hand. The victim was taken to the hospital, but it was said that he could not possibly live more than a few hours.

The infernal machine, as nearly as can be judged from what is left of it, consisted of an electric battery contained in a zinc can, or pipe, about two and one-half inches in diameter and five inches long, which was connected by a small copper wire with an exploding cap attached to a stick of dynamite. Several hundred small pieces of metal, screws, and slugs must have been contained in the package, for these were found imbedded in Miller's body and scattered about in the wreckage in the room.

No Clew to Sender.

The address on the package is printed in red ink with what appears to be a rubber stamp, one of those set up with rubber type, and the police have no clew to the identity of the sender.

The victim is 27 years old, industrious, and prosperous. He was to have been married in June to a Schenectady young woman.

STANDARD COMPANY READY TO BEGIN DEFENSE TODAY.

Will Contend It Could Have Used Other Roads Had It Known Rate Was Illegal.

The Standard Oil company will begin its active defense before Judge Landis today. While no announcement has been made as to what this will consist of, it is generally understood the question of intent will be the one main issue raised.

Attorneys for the defense, in the cross examination of government witnesses, laid much stress on a 6 cent rate, which, they asserted, was in force on both the Chicago and Eastern Illinois and the Burlington, between Whiting and East St. Louis. It will be argued that the Standard could have used either of these roads had it known the 6 cent rate accepted from the Alton was in violation of tariffs filed with the interstate commerce commission by that road.

The government will make a vigorous fight to keep such testimony from the jury.

FIRST DEFEAT IS FED TO CUBS, 6-3.

BY SY.

Springfield, O., April 3.—[Special.]—Jack Hendricks returned today from casting a losing vote in the Chicago election and handed Chance's champions the same kind of a lemon the I. M. O. got, only more so, beating the Chicagoans with the local Central league team by a score of 6 to 3.

It was the first squeeze the Cubs have received since the final game of the world's series last fall, and it was given them in much the same manner as the Sox did it. Manager Hendricks fished up a couple of his left handed twirlers and the Cubs accumulated the magnificent total of three hits off the two of them.

Mordecai Brown was on the slab for the Cubs, just as he was in the last defeat they sustained in Chicago, but he was not hit hard, and with the bobbles cut out would have kept the locals from scoring more than a single tally. Manager Chance, however, neglected to give the Cubs their morning lecture today, and their work clearly showed there was something of the kind lacking. There wasn't any time for a lecture unless it was delivered on the road, because the Cubs' train was late again, and they did not arrive in this burg until it was a case of hustle to get dinner and get to the grounds in time for the scrap. Consequently, their ragged work in fielding can be attributed to lack of time for getting over the side stepping motion acquired on the train.

Get Good Start.

The game started Chicagoward in the first inning, but got sidetracked before the thing had progressed far. Hallman, the southpaw, first trotted out to do the Cubs, was wild and issued passes to Slagle and Chance in the initial inning. In between these walks Sheckard had been retired and Dawson had missed an easy fly from Schulte, which let Slagle home. Steinfeldt struck out, but Hofman cleaned up with a swat to right which was good for two more runs and a three bagger. Hofman tried to make it a home run and lost the verdict at the plate, although he made affidavit afterward that he was absolutely safe.

That looked like easy picking for the Cubs, but it was the last chance they had to lick their chops, as not another morsel in the way of a run was permitted them. In the second inning Brown tore off a three bagger and Mr. Hallman then tightened up so hard the Cubs had to be content with pop flies as a rule. Not another bingle was made off Hallman, and when a person named Corns supplanted him on the slab he was equally lefthanded and equally stingy. Not until the ninth inning, when the battle was hopelessly lost, did Corns allow a Cub on first base, to say nothing about a hit. He might have bunions and plasters all over his feet, but nary a Cub did he allow to step on them.

Bungles by the Chicagos.

The way Springfield made runs was largely by bungles. Hofman handed Jack Hendricks' tribe the first run in the second with a heave past Chance into the carriage patch. In the next round Sheckard dropped an easy foul fly for Clarke, and Hofman fumbled his grounder, giving him two lives. Hallman fanned, and Collins forced Clarke, then a single by Dickey and a triple by Dawson scored two men after the side should have been retired.

Two more runs resulted from one hit in the fifth. Moran missed a third strike for a starter, then Browne hit a man in the soft part of the wrist, and that lad Dawson cleaned up with a two bagger. The final tally in the seventh was the result of a pass and a scratch hit which landed just inside the foul line.

Frank Donohue, the Springfield second baseman, is a brother of "Jiggs," the first sacker, and as he is a native of this town he is a great idol. Likewise he showed to good advantage today.

New Ideas in Umpiring.

Aside from the pitching from Hendricks' sidewheelers the real feature of the day was the umpiring of Mr. Niles, a local amateur manager, who was selected because of his exquisite style. Mr. Niles had nothing to do with the result of the scrap, for he was impartial in handing out his guesses, but he was funny. Not since a nearsighted local umpire in New Orleans some springs ago persisted in calling batsmen out on hits which the outfielders caught on the bound has anything like Mr. Niles' umpiring been seen. The Cubs did not get the worst of it, as a rule, but once, when Steiny hit a foul which struck him in the shins, then rolled a few feet in front of the plate, the Springfield catcher thought he would take a chance and tossed the ball to first base, whereupon the stylish umpire called Steiny out and the Cub could only laugh. SOX SUBS LOSE AT SIOUX CITY.

Sioux City, Ia., April 3.—[Special.]—The inability of the White Sox No. 2 to hit the Sioux City pitchers opportunely lost the game for them this afternoon, 3 to 2. Sioux City practically won in the first inning with three bunched hits off Cheney's delivery, which netted two runs. In the second inning two hits and a walk gave the locals another. Both teams hit freely. Sioux City's trio of pitchers allowed the White Sox nine safeties, and Cheney gave his opponents a total of ten. It was a kind of a standoff between the teams in the field, each making one error.

A clever double play, pulled off in the seventh inning by Lejeune, Dundon, and Towne, when two men were on bases and none out, saved the White Sox from greater defeat. Three singles by O'Neill, Cheney and Dundon in the third inning gave the Chicago team one run, and singles by O'Neil and Cheney in the seventh, aided by a wild pitch, added another. Four singles and a double in the first and second inning won the game for Sioux City. Score:

FIRST TO THE PHILLIES.

NATIONAL LEAGUERS TAKE THEIR AMERICAN RIVALS INTO CAMP.

Interleague Series at the Quaker City Results in a Pitchers' Battle Throughout, Duggleby Triumphing by a 1 to 0 Score—Harry Davis' Error on the Opening Batter Responsible for the Lone Tally of the Game.

Philadelphia, Pa., April 3.—[Special.]—The Phillies and Athletics opened their ante-season championship series at Columbia park this afternoon, the Phillies winning by 1 to 0. The game, which was witnessed by 4,000 spectators, was remarkably fast, being played in one hour and fifteen minutes.

Duggleby was in the box for the National leaguers and his work was perfect. He had splendid support and let down the Athletics with three hits. Waddell and Vickers pitched first class ball for Connie Mack's aggregation, and but for an error by Harry Davis on the first play of the game, would have equaled Duggleby's performance.

The lone run came on an error, a sacrifice, and a base hit. Score:

TAYLOR AFTER GEORGE HUFF.

Champaign, Ill., April 3.—[Special.]—John I. Taylor, president of the Boston American league team, conferred tonight with Director George A. Huff of the University of Illinois relative to securing the local expert to take the helm at Boston, and the conference is causing a big scare tonight. Heretofore reports that Huff was to be lured away to the major league have been denied at once by the coach himself, but regarding the Boston story he assumed a sphynxlike silence.

Huff has been considered a fixture at Illinois, where his baseball nines have been famous as a school for league players. The director's year is not up until June and he could hardly desert at this time.

Friends believe Huff may accept the Boston berth if he is given supreme control of the team and permitted to have his own way. One of the things that has kept him out of professional ball has been the fear that his efforts would be handicapped by an arbitrary magnate over his head.

"We will make definite announcement tomorrow," said President Taylor after his talk with Huff tonight. It is understood no agreement was reached.

BRILLIANT GOLF BY NAT MOORE

Onwentsia Player Beats Fred Herreshoff and Warren K. Wood in United N. and S. Championship.

Pinehurst, N. C., April 3.—[Special.]—Never before in the history of golf here or in the south has there been a series of matches to compare with those played today in the second and semi-final rounds of the seventh annual United North and South Amateur tournament, and young Nathaniel E. Moore of the Onwentsia club of Chicago, now living at New York, stands out as the star with the defeat of two men generally looked upon as winners; Warren K. Wood of the Homewood club of Chicago, the championship title holder, and Frederick Herreshoff of Garden City, the Interscholastic champion. Not only this, but Moore's duplicate rounds of seventy-six represent the best play of the week and make a record which even Walter J. Travis never has surpassed in tournament play here.

Herreshoff was the first victim in the morning round and it was neck and neck throughout, the players never being more than a hole apart, Moore winning the last hole for the match with a card of 76 to 77 for his opponent. Cards:

Moore, out......4 4 4 5 3 4 3 4 5—38
Herreshoff, out....4 4 4 5 4 5 5 3 5—38
Moore, in.........5 3 4 4 5 4 6 4 4—38—76
Herreshoff, in......3 4 4 6 5 4 5 4 5—39—77

Moore's defeat of Woods was the most spectacular match of the season, Moore being two up at the turn and taking both the tenth and twelfth holes. Wood, rallying as he did in the final match last year, took four of the next five holes and the men approached the home hole on even terms. The champion took three putts for a six, but Moore got a lucky approach from forty yards and lay dead for a five. Cards:

Moore—Out ....5 5 3 4 3 4 3 3 5—35
Wood—Out ....3 4 3 4 3 5 4 4 6—36
Moore—In ....4 3 4 5 6 4 6 4 5—41—76
Wood—In ....5 3 5 4 5 4 5 3 6—40—76

Wood's match with C. L. Becker of Woodland in the morning was also close, the former winning 2 up with a card of 76. Results:

FIRST DIVISION.

Second round—David Fleming Jr., Mount Airy, beat T. G. Stevenson, Brookline, Mas., 3 and 1; Allan Lard, Columbia, beat W. P. Schatz, Wheaton, Ill., 2 up; W. K. Wood, Homewood, Chicago, beat G. L. Becker, Woodland, 2 up; W. F. Moore, Onwentsia, beat Fred Herreshoff, Garden City, 1 up.

Semi-finals—Lard beat Fleming, 1 up [19 holes]; Moore beat Wood, 1 up.

SECOND DIVISION.

Second round—L. D. Pierce, Woodland, beat F. G. Dodd, Zanesville, 2 and 1; C. L. Tappan, Garden City, beat C. A. Spofford, Garden City, 2 and 1; George Roberson, Oak Hill, Rochester, beat W. H. Lyon, Misquanicut Watch Hill, 3 to 2; N. S. Hurd, Pittsburg Country, beat I. G. Bates, Dana, Wyantenuct, Mass., 3 and 2.

Semi-finals—Pierce beat Tappan 3 and 2; Roberson beat N. S. Hurd, 1 up.

In the consolation event S. D. Bowers of Brooklawn and T. S. Lippy of Seattle were the survivors.

Supt. Foster practically decided to open the big course today at Jackson park, but last night's rain may cause him to postpone the opening for a few days.

YALE TRAINERS ARE CRIPPLED.

Coach Lush Loses an Eye and Fred Tennant Sustains Broken Leg at Georgetown Game.

New Haven, Conn., April 3.—[Special.]—With Coach Lush and Trainer Fred Tennant crippled and left behind in the hospital at Washington, the Yale nine today returned from its Easter trip.

Lush has lost one eye and may lose the sight of the other, according to the players. He was struck in the eye by a stone thrown by a boy as the Yale players were leaving the grounds at Georgetown yesterday. Tennant was kicked by a horse as the players were running to Lush's aid. His leg was broken in two places. He and Lush were taken to the hospital together.

An investigation by the Yale faculty may be ordered and future Easter trips cut off. Yale will miss the coaching of Lush in its attempt to get a strong nine in the opening game of the season at New York City on Saturday. None of the unsettled positions on the team was decided as a result of the Easter trip. Yale played five games, winning four, losing to Georgetown, which was the only really formidable opponent played.

TEN INNING SPASM AT TERRE HAUTE.

Sox Elude the Hoosiers on the Front End of a Four to Three Score.

SOUL STIRRING CONTEST.

BY CHARLES DRYDEN.

Terre Haute, Ind., April 3.—[Special.]—More than 2,500 of the flower and manhood of this fair city threw a two hour spasm this afternoon in the ball yard. The tailenders of the Corn Droppers' league played the wonders of the world to a deadlock in nine rounds. An extra inning was needed to let the pestered Sox escape on the front end of a 4 to 3 score.

Never before within the memory of the oldest inmate has Terre Haute been stirred to the depths as it was today. The entire world's business last fall was a mutt proposition compared to these fearful doings. While the battle raged the yeomanry hurled repartee, epithets, and fashionable chitchat at the umpire and the athletes on both sides.

When once aroused the demon rooters of Terre Haute play no favorites. "Back to the plow handles for yours!" they howled when a Hottentot blew up, and when the Sox slipped a cog it was "How did you Rubes win the world's trophy?" "You won't be one, two, twenty-three this season."

Hustle for Honor of Mexico.

Perhaps Jones and his pals didn't hustle for the honor of Mexico and their native land. A plain cuss named Fred Smith went on the hill and piled up trouble for the Sox, while Frank Smith added to their woes. Altrock wanted to win the game and a trip to Cincy tonight to train for Garry's banquet, and Smithy came near tossing Nick off the track. In the third round Jones doubled and scored on Dougherty's single after one out. In the local half Smith's bum throw to first, followed by three singles, gave the Hottentots three runs. By the toughest kind of scratching the Sox scored one in the seventh and tied in the ninth by ringing in Walsh to bat for Altrock.

With one down Frank Smith singled. Sully reached first on Ronan's fumble and was forced by Walsh, short to second. Had the first baseman held the ball a double play would have wiped the Sox away. But he dropped it and grew so hot at himself he kicked the wadding out of the bag. Hahn's single sent the run across.

Hero Owen to the Rescue.

Owen, ably supported by three new boils clustered around the site of the old one, did a hero stunt when he took the hill. Freese singled in the ninth and was sacrificed to second. Sully caught him off the bag and Tannehill froze Mr. Freese at third. In the tenth, after Dougherty had popped, Donohue singled and stole and went to third on the catcher's wild heave. Rohe pasted a world's series double and the winning run came in. Owen blanked the side in the local half and 2,500 fanatics unrooted themselves from as many spots and dispersed. The crowd filled the stands and bleachers, camped on the grass in automobiles and in the tree tops half a mile away.

Hahn was put out of the show by the white haired ump and put back again by Jones. In the fifth round the silver king of the yard declared Hahn out on a steal at second. Shaking with anger and ague Edward approached the ump and cussed him plenty. The crowd already had nominated McKinzie as a liar, robber, and candidate for the bughouse, but when he tried to chase Hahn the crowd liked the idea, yet the boss del mundo promised the umpire a couple of oil wells if he would place Hahn back on the job. Maybe Jones threatened to knock McKinzie's block off. The umpire was promised something that appealed to him, that much is certain.

Envious of Handsome Nick.

Fortune stuck to Altrock, and, though he was not on deck when the battle ended, the handsome one goes to Cincy just the same. During the bombardment in the third a line shot from McAndrews smote Nick on the starboard knee cap and rebounded to the stand. A voice in the gallery said: "Now, will you let them hit it, ugly?"

When Nick caught McAndrews off first in the opener a fan reproved the local boy in these words: "That's what you get for leaving the plow handles to come in and play ball."

The same man said mean things to Pat Dougherty about his curly hair. "Look at the hazel nuts on that bush!" was the dose handed to Pat. But in the cool of the evening all these warlike words passed away. Friend and foe forgot together and accepted invitations to the Knights of Columbus ball. A few of the Sox went down to trip the L. F. toe, but most of them hit the husks at an early hour, so as to be in touch with a 7 o'clock train for Evansville in the morning.

Syracuse, N. Y., April 3.—[Special.]—James Ten Eyck, son of Coach James A. Ten Eyck of the Syracuse university navy, has mysteriously disappeared from his home in this city and his relatives are much concerned. Young Ten Eyck had been stroking the Syracuse varsity eight and it was pretty well understood he will set the pace in the Poughkeepsie regatta. Jimmy did not show up at practice yesterday afternoon nor today, and his intimate friends state they do not know where he is.

HORSE DOCTORS CALLED ON IN LOU DILLON POISON CASE.

Cleveland Expert Expresses Belief That Something Unusual Was Matter with Mare on Day of Gold Cup Race—His Examination Not Completed—Smathers Likely to Enlist Professional Opinions on the Other Side—Devereux on the Stand.

New York, April 3.—[Special.]—Long hypothetical questions framed so as to elicit expert veterinary opinions concerning the condition of Lou Dillon when she was beaten by Maj. Delmar in the famous Memphis gold cup race three years ago were conspicuous parts of the proceedings today at the continuation of the trial before Justice Greenbaum and a jury in the Supreme court on the association' suit to recover the cup from Edward E. Smathers, the former owner of Maj. Delmar.

Mr. Springler, a veterinarian of Cleveland, was one expert witness. He gave it as his opinion that Lou Dillon must have been "doped" with aconite or some such drug immediately before the race. Mr. Springler knew Lou Dillon well and often had observed her trotting performances. He said he never had seen the mare act as she did when she almost collapsed after racing but half a mile in the cup race.

Ex-Judge Coyne, for Smathers, tried to have the expert's testimony stricken out, but Justice Greenbaum allowed it to stand. It is likely the defense will have expert testimony of its own to offset Springler's answers.

Harry K. Devereaux, the trotting horse owner of Cleveland, testified he had seen Lou Dillon before the race and had watched her carefully afterward. In his opinion she got suddenly sick without apparent cause. Devereaux's description of the race and of the mare's behavior before and after was practically identical with the description given on Tuesday by Millard Sanders, the mare's trainer, who testified he was approached several times by his brother and another man concerning the possibility of "fixing" Lou Dillon. Devereaux owns the trotter John A. McKeron, and he said he believed his horse was superior to Maj. Delmar.

Charles Tanner, another of C. K. G. Billings' trainers, gave similar testimony as to the condition of Lou Dillon, as did Joseph D. Markey, a sporting writer.

Andrew M. Howe, superintendent of the Memphis track, testified there was nothing in the condition of the track that could account for Lou Dillon's breakdown.

Millard Sanders also was recalled to deny he had administered any such drug as aconite or nicotine to the mare before the race. Then the veterinary, Springler, was put on the stand. His examination will continue tomorrow.

M'CORMICK FAREWELL CHANCE.

Eastern Owner Wins Stake and Purse at City Park—Emergency in a Soft Spot.

New Orleans, La., April 3.—[Special.]—James McCormick celebrated his farewell chance today by winning the Magnolia selling stakes at City park, one of the richest events of the meeting, with his crack sprinter Emergency, a 2 to 5 favorite, and the mile event that followed with his Derby colt Tileing, which was also favorite.

Emergency had ordinary company opposed to him, and was so much the best that, after being closely pocketed for five furlongs, he was able to race into the lead and win by a wide margin. Quinn Brady was an easy second, and John L. Inglis third after a drive to beat Envoy.

Tileing had about the same experience in the early part of his race, and he, too, won off by himself, with Peter Sterling and Gargantua whipped out behind him.

Rebel Queen won another lucky race in the 2 year old event. Black Mary, a short priced favorite, was much the best, but was virtually left, and it was only after a splendid performance that she finished a respectable third. Summaries:

First race, ¾ mile—Royal Breeze, 112 pounds [Lloyd], even, won; Hyperbole, 30 to 1, second; Prince Ahmod, 6 to 5, third. Time, 1:14 3-5.

Second race, 1¼ miles, selling—Sanction, 113 pounds [J. Lee], 10 to 1, won; Evie Green, 13 to 10, second; Orline, 30 to 1, third. Time, 2:10.

Third race, ½ mile—Rebel Queen, 115 pounds [Farrow], 9 to 2, won; Blue Lee, 5 to 1, second; Black Mary, 3 to 5, third. Time, :48 1-5.

Fourth race, ¾ mile, Magnolia selling stakes—Emergency, 112 pounds [Garner], 2 to 5, won; Quinn Brady, 15 to 1, second; John L. Inglis, 10 to 1, third. Time, 1:27 1-5.

Fifth race, 1 mile—Tileing, 100 pounds [Garner], even, won; Peter Sterling, 2 to 1, second; Granada, 9 to 2, third. Time, 1:39 3-5.

Sixth race, 1 1-16 miles—Flavigny, 106 pounds [Foy], 3 to 1, won; Oberon, 6 to 5, second; Bitter Hand, 20 to 1, third. Time, 1:47 4-5.

Seventh race, 1 1-16 miles—Fancy Dress, 109 pounds [J. Lee], 12 to 1, won; Rebo, 10 to 1, second; Husted, 25 to 1, third. Time, 1:07 1-5.

Surprises at Oakland.

San Francisco, Cal., April 3.—[Special.]—The track was good at Oakland this afternoon, and there were several startling reversals of form. Wood Sandal, beaten his last start by Johnny Lyon, captured the handicap from a shifty field, Edwin Gum securing the place. Dr. Leggo met with considerable interference. Talamund, who was 60 to 1 at one time, won, going away in the fifth race at 1⅛ miles. Flaunt, the favorite, finished seventh. In the last race Pimkin beat Native Son a head. Ingham was heavily backed in this race. Thirty-five books did business, several Ascot bookies cutting in. Winners:

First race—Titus II., 4 to 1; George P. McNear, 9 to 1; Dr. Sherman, 40 to 1.
Second race—Huston, 9 to 5; Briers, 9 to 10; Daniel C., 16 to 1.
Third race—Misty's Pride, 9 to 1; Blondy, 13 to 1; St. Francis, 13 to 10.
Fourth race—Wood Sandal, 30 to 1; Edwin Gum, 9 to 1; Collector Jessup, 15 to 1.

HARRY LEWIS IS ON GANS' TRAIL.

Eastern Fighter Here with His Manager and Backer to Make Match.

[BY GEORGE SILER.]

E. W. Dickerson, Harry Lewis' manager, reached town yesterday from Grand Rapids to arrange a match, if possible, between his protégé and Joe Gans for the lightweight championship. Accompanying Dickerson was H. W. Melenbacker, who is willing to back Lewis for $5,000.

The Michigan man came at the request of Gans, who is anxious to fight, and, failing to come to an agreement with Batling Nelson, said he would match with Lewis if the conditions were favorable. Dickerson met the champion yesterday afternoon, but Joe postponed the talkfest until today. The Lewis people say they will leave no stone unturned to secure the match and hope Gans will agree to meet their man at about 136 pounds, the weight, they claim, at which Gans won the championship from Frank Erne. The champion repeatedly has stated he would not fight at over 133 pounds, the lightweight limit, so one or the other must give way.

Dickerson says M. M. Riley has offered $20,000 for the fight and if he secures it will stage it on July 4. Should he fail to induce Gans to fight his boy he says he will go after Batling Nelson and will bet $5,000 that Harry wins with a knockout.

"I went about this matter in the right way," said Dickerson last night, "by backing up my challenge with $1,000 as a guarantee of good faith. I know the public takes little stock in a champion who secures the title by forfeit, but I intend to make that claim if Gans does not fight us and will not refuse any match that is offered us."

"Young" Corbett left for New York yesterday morning to look for a job at his trade fighting. He says Reno is ripe for a bi fight and that Promoters Kohl and Johnson have $10,000 set aside for him and any man he can secure.

"Packey" McFarland, who is slated to meet "Kid" Goodman at Davenport on April 16, is after "Kid" Herman. Harry Gilmore Jr., who looks after McFarland's interest, believes his boy can take Herman into camp and says he is willing to bet $1,000 on the result. The "Kid" recently turned down a $10,000 purse to battle "Young" Corbett, so it is not likely he will bother with "Packey."

ROBSON AND ATTEL IN A DRAW.

Honors Even in Their Six Round Battle at Philadelphia—Abe Gets Bloody Nose.

Philadelphia, Pa., April 3.—[Special.]—Spike Robson and Abe Attel went six fast and clever rounds to a draw tonight in the windup at the National Athletic club. Robson met Attel at his own game of jabbing, and while he did not make nearly the success of left handed work that the clever Abe did, nevertheless the Englishman by persistent boring in tactics and his willingness to take two or three jabs in order to land a hard right to the body easily was enabled to get a "break even" verdict at the finish.

The wonderful cleverness of Attel was clearly evident in many of the fast exchanges and rounds, but invariably the Englishman was coming, no matter how much he was being punished about the face, and it was this aggressive method, coupled with his right hand punch to the body, which kept Spike in the running to the finish.

Attel landed innumerable times to Spike's face, but some of the jabs apparently had little steam behind them. If these were to be counted blows the champion from the Pacific coast was slightly entitled to a verdict. Robson's willingness to mix it and his fast work in the third and fourth rounds made him a decided favorite until the last round. In that round Attel cut loose with a caution and at times he had Spike guessing.

INDIAN GREGG A GOOD FIGHTER.

Spokane Pugilist Comes Near Knocking Out Dougherty at Indianapolis—Gets the Decision.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 3.—[Special.]—Joe Gregg, the Indian fighter from Spokane, Wash., came near scalping Jack Dougherty of Milwaukee in a ten round contest here tonight. After a remarkable exhibition of infighting, at which he was a whirlwind, he was awarded a well earned decision. In the eight he floored Dougherty four times and the bell was all that prevented him from scoring a clean knockout.

The Indian came on in a big blanket looking as if he were ready for a war dance, but before the end of the first round he had Dougherty guessing. From the first to the last round, when the two men hammered at each other like fighting machines, the Indian bored into Dougherty's stomach and kidneys with stinging blows. Dougherty was full of confidence, but after the second, when the Indian planted him on the ropes, he became more careful and did his best. He was unable, however, to reach the Indian's stomach or kidneys. The Indian always seemed a tantilizing distance away.

Towards the middle of the fight the Indian seemed to be able to gather Dougherty in one arm and then hammer him from jaw to stomach with the other hand. Dougherty withered rapidly and in the eighth was all but out. The Indian landed four straight rights to Dougherty's jaw. Each brought Dougherty to the floor. He remained almost for the count when he went down the third time. He staggered around for an instant before Gregg reached him again. Apparently he was all in when the bell rang.

In the ninth the Indian went after him like a whirlwnid, but Dougherty hung on and in the tenth he came near winning, as the Indian seemed about ready to collapse. He rallied, however, and was stronger than Dougherty when the bell rang.

Sullivan and Harris Matched Again.

Willie Sullivan, who fought a draw with Harris at Janesville Tuesday night, the former fighting under the name of Stanton, has been matched to fight Harris again at the next Badger club show at Milwaukee.

Miller Beats Soldier Burns.

Baltimore, Md., April 3.—[Special.]—Herman Miller of this city won tonight over Soldier Burns of Fort Howard after twenty rounds.

AMATEUR ATHLETIC GOSSIP.

The Central Y. M. C. A.'s swimming date with the University of Pennsylvania has been declared off on account of conflict with the fixed program for April at the association. The college swimmers have awarded to Illinois the date and will play at Champaign on Thursday, April 11, meeting the Missouri Athletic club two days later.

The Crescent basketball team returns home Saturday morning. The local five has made the longest tour ever made by a basket squad, Maine to California and return. The men scored a winning percentage of over .910.

Officials of the Missouri Athletic club meet tonight to decide the fate of the annual Marathon run, which many of its members wish to have abandoned. Chicago long distance runners will be sorry to see the St. Louis event discarded, as each year they have won at least two leading prizes. The Mississippi Marathon swim still is to stand in any event, and the only debate is whether the race be scratch or handicap.

Coach C. H. Wilson of the Central Y. M. C. A. probably will send a team of eight track men and three gymnasts to Peoria April 18, for the state indoor championship meet. The track men selected are Hamilton, Taylor, Rogers, Owens, Fletcher, Buechler, Johnson, and Haigh. The gym team which probably will be selected is Utz, Keller, and Green.

The Hyde Park Y. M. C. A. Intermediate team last night defeated the Central Y. M. C. A. Intermediate team in a dual gymnastic meet at the Hyde Park gymnasium by a score of 22 to 5. Hyde Park won first and second place in the side horse, first and second in the parallel bars, and first and third in the horizontal bar. Borchers did the best work for Central and Whitman the best for Hyde Park. The judges were Dr. E. H. Foster, E. Raum, and W. W. Winans.

BOWLERS GET SMALL SCORES.

Totals in Minor Events of Atlantic City Tourney Are Mediocre—O'Learys and Brunswicks Fall Down.

Atlantic City, N. J., April 3.—[Special.]—Chicago's two crack fives, the Brunswicks and O'Leary's, failed to perform any better in the national tournament here than they did at the A. B. C. meet at St. Louis. Both were on in the first squad of the fives tonight, the O'Learys getting 2,551 and the Brunswicks 2,522.

Capt. Mahon and Nick Bruck had their loaded spheres thrown out, as they violated the eastern playing rules. Bruck picked up a mineralite ball and Mahoney grabbed one of rubber.

Both the Brunswick and O'Leary teams are billed to roll in the Canadian championships at Toronto on Saturday, and as some of them are scheduled for the individual events here they requested the eastern management to move them up a little in the schedule. Mike Costa and his "able" associates, however, flatly refused this request, and this lack of courtesy will cause several of the Chicago men to forfeit. After coming from Chicago the western men feel their request might have been honored.

Scores rolled in the minor events today were on the low side. Heiles and Stein of New York led in the doubles with 1,148, Petersam and Petersam of Baltimore getting four less. Single scores were poor, J. McCallion of Philadelphia leading with 558.

Alex. Dunbar of Philadelphia, and Jimmie Smith of New York rolled on the tournament alleys tonight for $100 a side bet, in which Dunbar won out by getting the first six games out of eleven. Dunbar put in a 269 and 279 score, and averaged 227.7, while Smith's highest mark was 250, with 216 3 for an average. It was one of the best contests ever rolled on any tournament alley, something like $800 changed hands. Score:

Low Scores in Bowling Leagues.

Low scores characterized the bowling in local leagues last night, no performances of exceeding merit being recorded. In the Commercial league the Empires rolled good for two games against the Mineralite Kids, getting a count of 1,015 in their second effort, but the third game pulled them down to an average of 916 2-3. Tony McGlone was the star with an average of 205 1-3. In the Sheridan league the Rovers rolled a good series against the Tremonts, winning three games with an average of 914 2-3. Al Toemmel was, as usual, the high average man with 202 2-3. In the other series the Buenas got the odd from the Kenmores. The Olympias got an average of 933 2-3 in the Columbian Knights league.

I. B. A. Entries Close Tonight.

Entries in the ninth annual tournament of the Illinois Bowling association which opens at Schindler's alleys on April 13 close tonight. Up to yesterday noon Secretary Howard had received ninety-five five men team entries with a corresponding number of two men and individuals. The record established last year was 138 five men teams.

CLEVER VICTORY BY MADDEN COLT.

EASTER BELLE SECOND.

Washington, D. C., April 3.—[Special.]—Another of John E. Madden's 2 year olds won the fourth race at Bennings today. It was a real good thing, too. Servile, a chestnut gelding, was the youngster's name. Goldstein had the mount and he laid in behind O. E. Jordan's Easter Belle, who made the pace until well into the stretch. Then Servile was put under a sharp drive, responding gamely, and won by a head, running the four and a half in :57⅗. Easter Belle had four lengths over William Garth's Kitty Smith.

With Ormonde's Right scratched out of the handicap, at a mile, the talent was divided between Marster and Lord Boanerges, who closed equal favorites at 2 to 5.

When it came to racing Marster had all the speed, made the pace from start to finish, and won in a drive by three parts of a length from Bulwark, 15 to 1, which outgamed Willie Shield's Holscher in the final strides. Holscher was a head before Lord Boanerges, which backed up in the last furlong.

Smart money went on the Arverne table's Water Dog in the first race, but he did not come up to expectations. Radtke made all the running with J. H. Stathem's Belle of Jessamine and took the race in a drive by a length and a half from Scarfell, the even money favorite, which received a weak ride in the final furlong.

Tray of Spades, which was sent to the post by William Garth, was much the best in the second race for maiden 2 year olds. She was on the outside all the way, but closed with a gallant rush and beat Blember by a head in :57.

VOTE ELATES REALTY MEN

Report of Special Committee Showing Result of Efforts of Nonpartisan Car Committee Gratifying—Real Estate Board Pleased at Victory Without Resort to Politics—Bill Permitting Ownership of Land by Foreign Countries Approved.

There was an echo of the election at the monthly meeting of the real estate board yesterday in the applause which greeted William A. Bond, chairman of the traction settlement committee of the board as he rose to read the committee report.

The report was brief, beginning with the statement that the board by its action on Feb. 5 last led the way in the great non-partisan contest that helped band together over eighty organizations in support of the street car ordinances. It was declared that the committee had kept its faith and had not dragged the board into politics.

In a resolution submitted by W. Scott Bond the board approved the bill now before the legislature permitting foreign governments to acquire property needed for the offices or residences of its consular or other diplomatic officers.

Buy Washington Street Site.

Another firm in the Canal street district which is to form a part of the site for the new Northwestern passenger station has acquired a new location on Washington street and will erect a $75,000 building in which to conduct its business. It is the Kohler Die and Specialty company, now at 28-36 Canal street, and it has leased from Henry Gerstley the property at the southeast corner of Washington and Green streets, 100x100 feet, for ninety-nine years, at an annual rent of $2,500. This is 5 per cent on $50,000, which is at the rate of $500 a front foot. The company also holds twenty-five feet adjoining on the east, and the entire frontage will be improved with a six story reinforced concrete building. Preliminary work will begin at once.

John R. Thompson Buys Lots.

Nathaniel S. Bouton has sold to Wyllys K. Bliss 372x599 feet at the southeast corner of Robey and One Hundredth street, also two other blocks between One Hundredth and One Hundred and First streets, a nominal consideration being given.

NICHOLAS TRIPS ON DATES

Hotel Register Brought to Refute Story—Attorneys for the Defense Clash Repeatedly—Defendant Says He Got the Diamonds as Collateral for Loans and Did Not Take Them from Mrs. Leslie When She Was Killed in the Palace Hotel.

Howard E. Nicholas yesterday resumed his "retraction" of his confession that he and Leonard Leopold, murdered Mrs. Margaret Leslie. Attorneys Samuel E. Foos and Marshall E. Gallion, for the defense, repeatedly disagreed, and Judge Ball appeared much bored with the entire proceedings.

The attorneys for the defense had announced previously that Nicholas was to clear Leopold of participation in the crime, but this "vindication" did not materialize, and Assistant State's Attorney B. J. Short managed to get Nicholas tangled in his dates.

Harry Clayton, who, Nicholas says, was with him the night of the murder instead of Leopold, as the police say, was not present, and Nicholas admitted under oath that he did not know Clayton's present whereabouts.

After Nicholas swore that he was in Indianapolis and not in Chicago between June 4 and 19, the state called to the stand Harvey R. Diers, clerk at the Revere house, who produced register and ledger and testified that "H. E. Nicholas and wife" had occupied room 236 of the house from June 4 until June 19. Nicholas identified his signature. Subsequently Attorney Foos explained privately that the "witness had merely slipped up on his dates."

A memorandum book was offered to substantiate Nicholas' assertion that the diamonds recovered from him and Leopold never belonged to the murdered woman, but had been given to Nicholas as security for money advanced to Miss W. C. Dutton at Kansas City, and to Grace Kimberlin at Indianapolis. The transaction with the latter woman was supposed to have been carried out at Indianapolis in the early part of June, when, as afterwards shown, Nicholas was in Chicago.

Nicholas was telling Attorney Short how Police Attorney Frank Comerford had suggested all the details of the confession when the state asked Nicholas how he knew a towel was on the dresser in Mrs. Leslie's room, and Nicholas replied: "Because I knew how the furniture in the room was arranged."

Half the World's Silver

A VEIN OF SILVER 1½ MILES LONG

I gave you fair warning that the price of the Rubena Mining Company's stock would advance to 100 per cent on March 30th. Thousands of shares were taken by far sighted investors and sufficient money has already been received to enable the immediate beginning of active mining operations.

I confidently believe we will ship a carload of ore to the smelter within the next 30 days. Don't you realize the great advance there will be made in the value of this stock when the Rubena renews its activity as a shipping mine?

The statement at the head of this announcement is a bold one, but it is true—every word of it. Of course, I do not claim the Rubena Mines to contain one-half the world's silver, but they are located in the very heart of the richest silver district of the country that has and is still producing one-half of all the silver now in use.

In making the offer which has appeared in all my announcements to pay the expense of anyone from Chicago to Mexico and return, contingent upon their buying $1,000 worth of the stock if the mines were found as represented, I was not bluffing. I don't ask the prospective purchaser to agree to buy the stock unless he is fully satisfied. After he has inspected the property, he can do just as he pleases about taking the stock. If the great value of these mines can't be fully appreciated when he gets on this property and walks over its vein of silver for more than a mile and a half and goes down into the shaft and personally inspects the great depth of these veins and sees the dump of thousands of tons of concentrating ores containing 35 ounces of silver to the ton and is not then willing to put his money into the company, then I miss my guess.

I have told you I am not a promoter. I probably am "green" at handing out rosy pictures of great fortunes to be made at mining. I don't want to resort to such practices. The truth is good and sufficient. I've got a mine here in the richest silver district of Sonora. I didn't discover this mine. It has been worked for a century and has produced thousands of ounces of silver.

I know what we've got. I verified my own opinion with that of five expert mining engineers and miners. I picked the best experts I could get.

My associates are men of recognized ability, integrity and honesty. The vice president of the company is and has been for the past 20 years the treasurer of the state of Sonora, Mexico. The assistant secretary and assistant treasurer is and has been for 13 years auditor of the same state.

I have had almost 30 years' experience in mining. I have done every kind of work about a mine from using a pick to superintendent. I have managed mines in Colorado and Mexico. I know how to get work out of the Mexican peons. Now I don't say all this because I want to brag about myself, but because I know you want to know what kind of man you are going into partnership with.

The Rubena Mines will make a lot of people rich. The silver is there in great quantities. We know how to get it out at low cost, and now all we want is machinery. I could work hand steel in these mines and get along without machinery. I could make a good living for myself in this way, just as the native Mexicans have been doing with their wasteful and crude methods for a century or more, but that is not the American way. It takes money to buy machinery. I would rather take you and a thousand others in with me as my partners and get the big prize for us all than to dabble about at this thing the rest of my life for the few thousands I could make out of it by myself.

With the machinery I propose to install we can break down from 100 to 300 tons of ore a day. This ore runs 176 ounces of silver to the ton. The concentrator will take care of the great dump of thousands of tons of ore we already have, and I am sure will give us a profit sufficient to pay a monthly dividend of one cent a share. We have a capital of 5,000,000 shares, par value $1.00 each, full paid and non-assessable. 2,000,000 shares are in the treasury. The company has no bond or debt of any kind.

Ordinarily I would say go slow in making investments, yet when there is a good thing, you stand in your own light if you don't jump at the chance to get in. You don't know me and have only my word for it that what I say is true, and therefore I will take your subscription for whatever amount of stock you want and permit you to cancel it at any time within ten days if you are not fully satisfied. Your money will be promptly returned. I'll send you the reports of experts who have examined these mines. You can investigate the men connected with the Company, and then if you are not completely satisfied that you have made a good investment, just let me know at any time within ten days of the date of your subscription and I'll return your money. Now that's not buying a pig in a poke, is it?

If you want more shares than you can conveniently pay cash for, send cash at the rate of two cents for each share you want and pay the remainder in monthly installments of two cents per share until fully paid.

I am honest when I tell you I believe you will be drawing a dividend of 120% a year on the present purchase price within one year to 18 months.

You can't make a mistake in this investment. I have induced my closest friends and relatives to put their money into this stock. I wouldn't knowingly have them lose one cent. If you decide to be my partner, better wire or call on me at once. I don't think the 10c allotment will last long. Buy now and demand the return of your money at any time within 10 days if you change your mind.

Wm. E. JONES,
President.

THE PRESIDENT'S RAILROAD POLICY.

The Illinois Manufacturers' association has not been able to induce President Roosevelt to come to this state and make a strong speech setting forth his railroad policy. It has been told, however, what his policy is, and that is the main thing. It is true that the spirit of distrust in financial and transportation circles which alarmed the Illinois manufacturers and caused them to appeal to the president for a statement that would banish it seems to have faded away of itself, but it is interesting to know precisely where the administration stands at this moment on the railroad question.

The president refers the Manufacturers' association to his earlier declarations concerning that question. The latest of them is contained in his message of last December. Manifestly he has not worked out any new ideas since then. He has discovered no new evils which need legislative remedies. He would like to have further legislation, but it is the legislation he already has indicated. It is of a kind that ought not to alarm the manufacturers.

The president still wishes to end "the evils of excessive overcapitalization." The investors ought to be with him in that. "Excessive overcapitalization" should find no defenders except, perhaps, among the railroad financiers who have made millions through it.

There are other points relating to the railroads which have been touched on by President Roosevelt in his messages and speeches. There was no alarm at the time, even in sensitive Wall street, and there is no reason why the reiteration of previous statements by the president now should trouble the peace of Wall street or of the transportation interests.

In a few weeks there will be something besides the president's railroad policy to talk about. Railroad men, manufacturers, and merchants will begin making guesses about the crops—cotton, corn, and wheat. If they shall be as good as those of last year there need be no fear of a serious abatement of prosperity. If the crops should be poor the Illinois manufacturers could not hope to make so much money in 1908 as they made in 1906. They should study the crop reports more intently than they do the president's speeches.

VOTING MACHINES.

One interesting feature of the late election was the use of voting machines. These machines of different patterns were installed in every ward, and so far as known nowhere were there any complaints made. Whether of equal ease of operation or not a voter had no means of knowing, since he used only one, but there was unanimous agreement that for voting a straight ticket the machine was as easy of operation as a ballot, and for a split ballot was much better. At the same time absolute secrecy is obtained.

In every election there are some ballots cast which cannot be counted, since the voter accidentally has marked his ballot in such a way that his choice is not clearly indicated. For instance, he may mark the names of two persons for the same office where only one is to be elected, or in the case of judges, county commissioners, and other officers of whom several are elected at once, he may mark more than the required number of names. With the voting machine such a mistake is impossible, since the machine automatically refuses to indicate more than the right number. The ballots cast may be marked correctly and yet not counted right. Among the six thousand judges and clerks who count the ballots there always is a certain percentage capable of making gross blunders. After every close election there is a temptation to call for a recount. This is always an expensive matter for the public, and yet it often is justified by the recount developing enough errors to change the result materially. As a well made machine is incapable of error its announcement is accepted without question.

An advantage in the voting machine which in itself would not be enough to justify the change, but on the other hand is an added attraction, is the rapidity with which the result is known. Instead of its taking an hour or two to count simple ballots like those of Tuesday last, or all night to count the complicated ballots of a state, county, and presidential election, it takes only a moment to open the box and read the result. The returns may be received at headquarters as soon as telephonic connection can be had. In fact, the returns from the voting machines began to be received downtown within two minutes after the polls closed Tuesday, and within thirty minutes it was possible to predict the result as a whole from the returns already in. With voting machines in every precinct the exact figures would have been known at an early hour.

The first cost of installation of voting machines would be a heavy one, but to offset it there would be a saving in cost of printing, in a possible reduction in the number of polling places on account of the greater rapidity with which votes may be cast by machine, a possible reduction in the rent of each polling place on account of the smaller space required, and a large saving by the end of the possibility of contested counts. As soon as the city can afford it voting machines should be introduced. The introduction may be gradual, but a judicious redistribution of the machines to different precincts each time soon would create a popular demand for an entire equipment.

THE MISSING 52,000.

The names of 184,886 alleged registered voters appeared on the petition praying for a referendum on the traction ordinances. The "I. M. O." petition bore the names of 107,159 persons who also wanted a referendum. Doubtless many signed both petitions, but, allowing for that, there was on paper an imposing showing of hostility to the ordinances. The referendum was asked for by those who wished to defeat them and not by those who were for them.

On election day 132,720 men voted against the ordinances out of the 184,886 who signed the big petition. Over 52,000 failed to appear at the polls. Were they dead, or sleeping, or off on a journey? Had they changed their minds after they put down their names, or had they lost all interest in the matter?

The reasonable explanation of the nonappearance of the 52,000 at the polls is that they were "men in buckram," conjured out of airy nothing by the active imaginations of the people who were concerned in getting up the petition. It may be that among the signers were some who put down their names so as not to have any trouble with the policemen who were circulating the petition and subsequently voted for the ordinances, but most of the missing 52,000 never existed. The petition was stuffed, padded, swollen by fraud.

There is before the legislature a bill to repeal the "public policy" law which enables the manufacturers of bogus petitions to put on the "little ballot" all the trivial or remote questions that may occur to them. The bill should pass and the waste of money attending the voting on impractical questions be stopped.

The proposed new charter provides that certain ordinances shall be submitted to the popular vote upon the petition of 10 per cent of the registered voters. This year less than 40,000 names would be required. It has been demonstrated with what ease 50,000 bogus names can be picked up. A much greater percentage should be required. Provision should also be made for the thorough verification of a petition and punishment of all who may be guilty of fraud in getting one up. If that kind of cheating had been punishable two months ago the referendum petition would not have had the impressive array of 184,886 signatures. At least 52,000 would have been lacking.

PARK CONSOLIDATION.

It is not to be wondered at that the board of south park commissioners feel some discontent because of losing their independence under the provisions of the new charter for Chicago. For forty years they have been working without interference from representatives of other parts of the city. They have done a great work. The results are apparent. Each annual report of that body is full of indications of careful management, intelligent oversight, and a constantly widening horizon as one need after another has been foreseen and met in a way entirely satisfactory to the people. The willingness to vote additional bonds when asked for is the practical expression of popular approval.

Under the new charter the parks of the city are to be consolidated and managed by a board of nine members, three chosen from the south side, three from the north side, and three from the west side. They are to be appointed by the mayor with the consent of two-thirds of all the members of the city council. After the first choice has been made for terms of two, four, and six years, the commissioners are to serve for six years.

Proud as the south park commissioners have a right to feel, when their record is compared with that of the other similar bodies, it seems plain that the general consolidation and unification of interests contemplated by the new charter should have greater force. The theory behind the charter is the one of progress. It forecasts a greater Chicago. There is no reason to think that there will be any diminution of care for one set of interests which will be comparable with the gain for the interests of all. The experience of the south park board will be utilized for the benefit of the whole city. What Chicago of the future needs is a series of parks equally well managed regardless of location. The south side will have one-third of the voting influence always in the commission. Its interests will not be overlooked.

There will be many long established bodies and much long used machinery set aside if the new plan of government is put into operation. There will be questionings here and there whether this or that feature of the present methods might not well be retained. But the larger idea is so much more praiseworthy that it ought to appeal to the judgment of all citizens as the thing to secure in the interest of a great municipality such as should develop under the new plan.

RELIEVING THE CONGESTION.

The executive committee of the Chicago Commercial association is considering the possibility of satisfactory arrangements with those interested by which the heavy deliveries of coal in the downtown district may be made at night or late in the afternoon instead of during the ordinary working day as now.

Under present conditions the congestion within the loop is greatly increased by the coal wagons. They interfere with the passage through the streets of lighter vehicles, they help to clog the crowded highways, they add to the discomforts and inconveniences which beset shoppers in the heart of the city.

The coal men have a perfect right to use the streets. No one questions that. The matter is one of possible adjustment. Night is turned into day downtown by the myriads of electric lights. The darkness no longer ends business of necessity. Some special arrangement would need to be made with the teamsters, but that ought not to be a difficult matter. The proposition is a good one. If the cooperation of those who have this business in their control can be secured in carrying out the project it will be a move in the right direction.

The conditions within the loop are approaching the acute stage. There cannot be much more congestion without serious loss to business interests. The plan about coal wagons might well be extended after careful study. There may be other sorts of hauling just as easily done after nightfall as during the daylight. Where there is such a volume of traffic the withdrawal of a little may help much. If the Commercial association's committee were to find a number of places where a little inquiry and urging would lead to coöperation in relieving the congestion in the day traffic or the teaming on certain much frequented streets their work would win hearty applause. On general principles it is a matter of congratulation on the part of citizens that an efficient body of earnest workers is giving so much time and thought to the study of various means by which the interests of Chicago within the city limits and without may be advanced.

ROMANCE AND REALITY.

Hawthorne tells the story of an Italian scientist who accustoms his daughter to poisons until she thrives on what would kill others. But, alas, her blood becomes so impregnated with poison that she becomes an agent of destruction to all with whom she comes in contact. She breathes on a rose and it shrivels and falls. Noxious flowers alone may bloom in her garden, tropical blossoms whose perfume intoxicates the rash invader and drugs him into the sleep of death. But while the blight of death rests upon the garden and its fair lady, the eye finds nothing but beauty there. This is the romantist's dream.

The basal conception of the romance is found exemplified in a story from real life which has just become known. A woman has been discovered in New York who is believed to have carried typhoid fever wherever she went for the last five years. If theories of physicians are as reported and are correct, she has been distributing death by her mere presence, and all the while unconscious of the fact. But when it comes to details the difference between poetry and fact is conspicuous. Instead of being a graceful young lady of rare beauty and refinement she is a plain middle aged cook. Instead of dwelling among flowers and breathing their fragrance she lives in the kitchen, where the smell of the cabbage or onion exceeds the strength of violets or roses. Instead of the victim falling in a swoon of delight which becomes the quiet of death, there intervenes the distress of a lingering fever.

If it is true that germs of typhoid fever may remain in the system for ten or twenty years, as doctors assert, it does not follow that such a person is dangerous. Typhoid bacilli usually enter the system through the alimentary canal, and only a degree of uncleanliness repulsive to contemplate in a cook could account for the presence of the bacilli in the food. It is the theory of some physicians that typhoid fever may be conveyed, like yellow fever, by insect bites, but that is not proved.

In whatever way the typhoid poison is brought to the victim the reality is hopelessly inferior in delicacy and beauty to the imagination of the writer of romances. Truth may be stranger than fiction; it is not always more beautiful.

IT is a magnificent opportunity, Mr. Busse.

STILL, it is interesting to hear Carter Harrison preaching the funeral sermon over "Hearstism."

NOTICE how promptly the weather signified its approval of the mudslinging gang's departure?

AFTER President Roosevelt's retirement he will have plenty of time to write that book entitled "Liars I Have Met."

CHICAGO knows how to exhibit proper resentment upon occasion—if anybody should ask you.

AMONG other causes, Mayor Dunne attributes his defeat to "unlimited money" and "unscrupulous mendacity." This sounds exceedingly ungrateful, but it is true. It was the unlimited money and the unscrupulous mendacity that roused Chicago's gorge.

"WITHOUT doubt," moralizes the Hon. Carter H. Harrison, "Hearstism defeated the democratic ticket." Hearstism merely furnished the provocation. The voters did the defeating.

IT awakens a thrill of sympathy to learn that Mayor Dunne intends to devote his life to M. O., just at the time when the civilized world is abandoning the idea in disgust.

WE cannot believe that Uncle Yim Hill, who has resigned the presidency of the Great Northern, has become tired of the job. He wanted to give one of his boys a chance.

IF it narrows down to a straight issue of veracity between Mr. Harriman and President Roosevelt—

ACCORDING to the bankers the money will come out of its various hiding places and go into channels of trade and industry, now that Chicago has quit chasing wild geese and settled down to business.

MR. TRAEGER doubtless has been piously grateful enough to thank his lucky stars for his narrow escape.

IN due time the straphangers will hear the invitation:

GENTLEMEN, be seated.

Not Supposed to Know.

Reporter (whipping out note book)—"There's one or two things I'd like to find out about the case now on trial. Do you——"

Lesson from the Past.

"I'm going back with clean hands, anyway," he muttered. "It has been a disastrous campaign, but I haven't done any mudslinging."

Dimly wondering whether history would say that the indignant people of Moscow had fired him, or that they had merely frozen him out, he wiped an icicle from the end of his nose and rode on in gloomy silence.

Love's Powerful Ally.

Nan—"Going to marry Jack this month, are you? He just wouldn't wait till June, eh?"

Fan—"It isn't on Jack's account that I'm hurrying the wedding. That Garlinghorn girl is going away in June for the summer and I want to have it over before she goes so I can have the satisfaction of not inviting her."

Johnny's Ailment.

"Yes," said Mrs. Lapsling, "Johnny is ailing, but I'm not going to give him any drugs. I believe the trouble is in his bones, and I am going to take him to a costiopothist."

Premature.

"I know I'm a tough proposition," acknowledged the jay. "But how can you expect me to turn over a new leaf when the trees are only in bud?"

Then, with a mocking scream, she went and stole a nest that a trusting robin had just built.

MARQUISE DE FONTENOY.

AMERICAN envoys abroad are responsible not only to their own government but also to that of the country to which they are credited for the people whom they present at its court. It is a responsibility from which the diplomatic representatives of monarchical powers are relatively exempt. In their case the fact of their compatriots having been presented previously at their own court furnishes in a measure an indication of their eligibility to presentation at courts abroad, and all that the envoy has to do is to submit the names to the officials of the court to which he is accredited, leaving to them to decide whether they wish to admit the applicants to presentation and to attendance at court festivities.

But where the American envoy is concerned matters are quite different. He has nothing to guide him except his personal knowledge of the applicants for presentation or personal letters of strong recommendation from the president, the secretary of state, or some other member of the cabinet. He is under no obligation whatsoever to present people merely because they happen to be American citizens, as so many of them seem to believe. Both the administration at Washington and the court and government of the country in which he happens to be stationed rely exclusively upon his discretion in such matters, and if he makes any mistake—if, through his agency or through that of his wife, any American man or woman to whom objections subsequently may be discovered secures the honor of presentation—he not only renders his position intolerable but is apt to be recalled as a failure.

That is why Mrs. von Claussen of New York, who has lodged with the president a complaint against the American legation at Stockholm for refusing to present her at the court of Sweden, has no grounds for redress. She has admitted in the lengthy interview published in the various newspapers here that she had no credentials from the administration, and that she was personally unknown to the American envoy and his wife. They would have been tempting fate, and guilty of the grossest kind of indiscretion, if they had presented her under the circumstances.

European courts regard divorcées with the utmost disfavor. At most of them they are barred, and it is only in rare cases that an exception is made in their favor. Now, Mrs. von Claussen, besides bearing a distinctly German name in conjunction with the German nobiliary prefix of "von," admits that she is a divorcée, and that, although a New Yorker and formerly married to a New Yorker, she obtained a divorce in South Dakota on grounds not recognized by the laws of New York, and that on the strength of this divorce, of more than questionable validity, she is about to marry, en secondes noces, a Baron Lindberg, whom she took with her to the American legation at Stockholm to champion her cause when the minister and his wife declined to present her. The fact of the matter is that, if Mrs. Graves, the wife of the American envoy, had presented Mrs. von Claussen at the court of Stockholm, she would have involved both herself and her husband in serious trouble indeed.

Robert Bacon, assistant secretary of state, replying to the letter of complaint addressed by Mrs. von Claussen to the president, states in behalf of the administration that "the question of ceremonial presentation of American citizens at foreign courts is entirely within the discretion of the American envoys accredited thereto." It would be well that this should be widely known, for it would spare American diplomatic representatives abroad many a mauvais quart d'heure with indignant compatriots who are under the mistaken impression that the United States envoys abroad are forced to present every American citizen and citoyenne who comes along, even if perfect strangers to the members of the mission.

It is pleasant to be able to state that the mistakes made by American diplomats in this respect have been few and far between. Indeed, in the two instances of the presentation at the court of St. James of American women being canceled, the one publicly and the other privately, it was found that in each instance the presentation had been made by English acquaintances of the presentees. It was after this that the rule was established that no more presentations of Americans should be made except through the agency of the American embassy.

England's house of lords enjoys the little known distinction of being the only legislative body in the world that carries on its debates and discussions without any presiding officer to direct its deliberations, and recent attempts to modify this strange condition of affairs, which has endured through many centuries, have met with failure. The general public, both at home and abroad, labors under the impression that the lord high chancellor is the presiding officer, but this is not the case. The lord high chancellor is a member of the cabinet, voting as such in all divisions, taking part in the debates as a member of the administration, and possessing no more right to interfere in behalf of a point of order or to determine it than the most junior baron of the house.

Indeed, if the discussion of the education bills in the house of lords was so abnormally prolonged last year, it was because there was no presiding officer qualified to prevent irrelevancy. In the house of commons, when a member, in addressing the chair, strays from the matter under discussion, he is at once called to order by the speaker, whereas in the house of lords peers who started speaking on the subject of the education bill meandered on until they found themselves, at the close of their speech, soliloquizing, often to empty benches, on matters in Afghanistan, the new Persian constitution, Chinese reform, and the suffragette movement.

Moreover, there are occasionally scenes in the house of lords which could not, by reason of the discipline maintained by the speaker, happen in the house of commons. Thus, in one instance, when the late Lord Denman exasperated his fellow peers into murmurs of protest by the profixity of his irrelevant speech, he turned upon them with the exclamation: "I may not be your equal in debate, but I am the equal of any one of you in my shirtsleeves."

Another time the late Lord Beaconsfield and the late Lord Granville both got up at the same moment to address the house. Neither would give way to the other, and, after a most unseemly wrangle, the matter had to be decided by a full fledged division. Still another lord, who was anxious to address the house on the deceased wife's sister bill, missed his train, and did not reach London until the following day. When he arrived in the house he found that the question then under discussion was the opening of museums on Sunday. But, without the slightest regard for relevancy, as soon as ever the lord who was addressing the house when he entered resumed his seat, he rose in his place and got off his speech about the deceased wife's sister bill, which had been decided by the house the day before. It is no wonder that Lord Campbell, when lord high chancellor, was wont to declare that the British house of lords, although the most august and assuredly the most ancient of all legislative bodies in existence, was likewise the most disorderly.

Among the chief adversaries, however, to any reform of this anomalous condition of affairs is the present lord high chancellor himself. He declares that, having to spend his mornings presiding over the judicial committee of the privy council, the ultimate court of appeal of the empire, in supervising the lower court of appeal, in taking part in the deliberations of the cabinet, and in championing or opposing as a minister of the crown measures before the house, he has more work than it is possible for one man to do, and that it would be impossible under the circumstances for himself or any other lord high chancellor to undertake the duties of presiding at the house of lords in the capacity of speaker.

In the house of commons, of course, the speaker, elected by the whole of the members, as its executive officer and president, is supposed to leave aside his political leanings from the moment that he takes possession of the chair, to become absolutely impartial, and to take no part whatsoever in the debate, excepting to determine points of order and to maintain the latter. He, of course, is not a minister of the crown.

NEWS OF THE THEATERS.

A Play in Five Acts.

BY

SCRIBE AND LEGOUVE.

Adrienne Lecouvreur	Olga Nethersole
Maurice de Saxe	Frank Mills
Abee de Chazeuil	William Clark
Michonnet	Julian Royce
Princesse de Bouillon	Rosalind Ivan

Will some kind person genuinely interested in the artistic well being of Miss Olga Nethersole please send her a clock? It should have inscribed in good, plain letters upon its face the legend: "All things require time, but no one thing should require all time." And it should be supplied with an alarm—a rousing, resonant, rattling alarm. The alarm should be wound up to the full capacity of its spring, and the time for its going off be set at 8:15 p. m. The gift would be a favor to Miss Nethersole, for the legend on the dial might call to her attention the fact that a theatrical performance should not last all night, and the alarm going off at 8:15 might awaken her. For artistically she needs waking up. She has fallen asleep and is dreaming dreams of histrionic languor which are deadly to her and all but fatal to her audiences.

Last evening she and her company presented a version of "Adrienne Lecouvreur," which has been newly prepared for her this season. It is not improbable that were the play played at proper tempo, the performance would prove interesting and effective, but it was so dragged, so held back, that it proved dull and to the last degree artificial and unnatural. Miss Nethersole spoke not a single line that had in it the semblance of naturalness or reality. Every word was made "impressive" to the point of the ludicrous, every movement was languorized until it lost all hint of strength, vigor, or animation, and every gesture was elaborated and expanded and "swept" until it became anything but suggestive of life and spirit. Pose, pose, pose! And acting, acting, acting! One longed for a word, a look, or a motion that seemed spontaneous or natural. But the longing was not satisfied—at least not during the course of the first four acts, which lasted until after 11:15 o'clock.

There was a fifth act, but time was too fleet and action on the stage too slow to make possible the waiting to see it. It may be that Miss Nethersole made Adrienne die rapidly, but if she did she made her untrue to all that had gone before.

It is a pity, for the actress is one of exceptional talents and gifts, but she has fallen asleep, and unless she is roused her artistic worth to the stage is nil.

Of the performance it is difficult to say much. The play has been mounted with all the lavishness and all the attention to elaborate detail that characterize every Nethersolean production. The costumes were of great elegance, and Miss Nethersole was robed in the endlessly trained garments which she so constantly affects. Of her portrayal of the title rôle all that can be said is that the words were spoken distinctly, there was abundance of slow movement and gesture, and there was never an instant—thanks to the adagio tempo—when even the slightest suggestion of a thrill or stir was sent across the footlights. Even the great recitation scene in the fourth act went by ineffectively because of being so dragged.

The marquis de Saxe was played by Mr. Mills with elegance—more of it than the part should possess if the text's reference to the marked soldier character of the hero is to be credited. Mr. Stevenson made his first appearance this week with the company and enacted the prince de Bouillon as effectively as the leisurely progress of affairs on the stage permitted. The Abbé of Mr. Clark was similarly satisfactory and similarly handicapped. The Michonnet of Mr. Royce was a sympathetic portrayal, and Miss Ivan made an acceptable princess.

Tonight "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray" will be the bill. The title rôle used to be one of Miss Nethersole's finest achievements. It is earnestly to be hoped that she will rouse herself and play it as it should be.

Last evening, in Music hall, a concert was given by Miss May Allport, pianist, and Mrs. Charles Krum, soprano, assisted by Horace Britt, cellist, and Howard Krum, accompanist. I was able to hear only the first two numbers of the program, owing to the lateness of the commencement of the concert. The first consisted of the Locatelli Adagio in D minor, which was played with exceptional tonal loveliness and fine musical understanding by Mr. Britt. Miss Allport furnishing a piano accompaniment of worth. Mrs. Krum sang "Hear Ye, Israel!" from Mendelssohn's "Elijah," and, albeit nervous at first, proved herself the possessor of a high soprano voice of attractive qualities. The range is ample, and what makes the voice especially satisfactory is its including not only high tones of clarity and beauty, but a middle register which is sound, healthy, and strong, and sympathetic in quality. It is a voice which is used well, and the lyrical Mendelssohn selection was delivered with good understanding and expression. Mr. Krum supplied a praise meriting accompaniment to his mother's singing. The program further included the B flat Sonata for cello and piano of Chevillard—a novelty here—the Brahms F major Sonata, a group of solos for Mr. Britt, and two groups of songs for Mrs. Krum.

FIELD MUSEUM WILL BE BEAUTY SPOT OF WEST.

H. N. Higinbotham Addresses Commercial Association Committee, Deprecating Opposition—Deep Water Board Coming.

The plans for the building of the Field museum were discussed by Harlow N. Higinbotham yesterday at the dinner of the Commercial association ways and means committee at the Great Northern hotel.

"The bequest from the late Marshall Field was $8,000,000 for this building and maintenance," he said. "Of this sum we have set aside $4,000,000 for the building, the balance to be used for its maintenance and further improvement.

"The surroundings of this magnificent building will be in harmony with the structure and will impress upon the mind of the visitors to Chicago its rare worth and beauty. It will indeed be one of the most beautiful and interesting spots in the entire western country."

He concluded by saying: "Opposition to the erection of this magnificent gift to the city of Chicago must cease and encouragement must be given its projectors to make it a fact and a monument to the memory of its donor, as well as a great stride in the improvement and beautifying of Chicago."

Urge Care in Condemning Food.

The wholesale condemnation by food inspectors of the city some months ago of canned goods in the possession of Franklin MacVeagh & Co. and other large wholesale dealers and declared to be unsound, was considered at the meeting and declared, in a resolution, to be unjust to the local dealers and tending to destroy the confidence of the general public in Chicago's markets.

The resolution sets forth that the canned goods in question were not being offered for sale, but were being held for return to manufacturers or packers, who had sold them to wholesalers under a guarantee that provides all claims for spoiled goods must be borne out by a return of such goods. It declares that under such conditions "unseemly haste in destroying them" was unnecessary for the protection of the public health.

Riches in Cornstalks.

[From Leslie's Weekly.]

Prof. Wiley of the department of agriculture says that inasmuch as every hundred pounds of cornstalks will yield six and a half pounds of absolute alcohol it is obvious that the ignorant agriculturist has been allowing an enormous amount of wealth to go to waste.

Say that one acre will yield from ten to twelve tons of grain stalks, or about 20,000 pounds, and you have a quantity of raw material which will produce 1,300 pounds of absolute alcohol, or 216 gallons. Alcohol at the present time is worth 40 cents a gallon.

Ground in a wet condition and dried, cornstalks may be kept indefinitely, and are ready at any time for conversion into alcohol. Prof. Wiley says that the alcohol derivable from the cornstalks that now go to waste in this country would not only drive all the machinery of our factories but would furnish the requisite power for all our railroads and steamboats, run all of our automobiles, heat and illuminate all of our houses, and light the streets of every city in the union.

Scratch Match on the Sky, That's Lightning.

LITTLE Paul was 4 years old when the western city in which he lived was swept one night by a terrible storm. Wind, thunder, and lightning played havoc, and, while other members of the family were huddled in dark corners, Paul watched the illumination of the sky with great delight. The next morning at breakfast he asked his father what caused the streaks of fire across the sky, and his father, with great pains, essayed to explain. Paul listened attentively and apparently accepted what was told him, but, when he found attention diverted from himself, he leaned over to his aunt who sat beside him and whispered:

"It wasn't that, auntie. It was God scratching matches on the sky."

George and the Cherry Tree Yarn Revised by Girl.

Mary, 3 years old, came running into the house crying and holding up her fingers. When asked what the trouble was she tearfully said that Rosie, a neighbor's child, had stepped on her fingers. Some one asked:

"Did she do it on purpose?"

FOUR year old Frances had heard her older brothers talking about George Washington and the cherry tree. One day she asked her mother if she wanted to hear a story, and then said:

"He said: 'Who did this, Georgie?'

"Georgie said: 'I did, papa.'

"His papa said: 'Georgie, you're a liar. You didn't.'"

MAMMA says for you to please tell me when it is 4 o'clock, for she says I must come home then," said our neighbor's wee daughter, when she came over to play with our children one afternoon.

WALSH PLEA FAILS; DAY OF TRIAL SET.

SAYS IT ASKS TOO MUCH.

Request, Just Like Previous One, Call for All Government's Papers.

Attorneys for John R. Walsh met a humiliating defeat yesterday at the hands of Judge A. B. Anderson, before whom they argued for a bill of particulars as to the federal indictment returned against their client. For the second time Judge Anderson pointed out defect after defect in their application and flatly refused to consider it in the form presented.

At the morning session Mr. Walsh was present, and through his chief counsel, John S. Miller, entered a plea of not guilty to the 180 counts in the indictment, and the trial was set for Oct. 15. Request for permission to file a motion for a bill of particulars was granted, and this was argued in the afternoon.

The motion was first argued March 19, and as presented at that time was found faulty by Judge Anderson. In it the government was called on to furnish Mr. Walsh's attorneys with all documents, papers, memoranda, and book entries to be used in the trial of the case. Judge Anderson held that such a request was excessive and if any application were entertained it would be on requests for specific papers. Merritt Starr, one of the attorneys for Mr. Walsh, asked permission to withdraw that application and file a new one.

Makes Same Request Again.

When the second application was filed yesterday it proved to be a voluminous document, containing a copy of the old one with all the general demands in it, together with others fully as broad. Attorney Samuel S. Hamill presented it.

In his answer Assistant District Attorney Robert W. Childs said specification 42 in the application was a general demand for all the papers in the hands of the government.

"What," exclaimed the judge, sitting up straight in his chair, "is that in there? Such a thing cannot be granted. This application must be specific and point out the particular paper or thing desired. When this was up before leave to withdraw was granted, and it was taken as a confession that the other was not properly drawn. What do you mean by incorporating this specification?"

"Well, we thought it should be in, your honor," said Mr. Hamill.

"Unless this motion is withdrawn," said Judge Anderson, "it will be stricken from the files."

What Petition Should Contain.

"Before court adjourns I wish to indicate to counsel what this motion should contain, according to my present understanding of the case," said Judge Anderson. "It should be borne in mind that if the government avails itself of the practice of charging one transaction in several different ways it is my present motion that the defendant is entitled to know whether the counts involved are based on one or a dozen transactions. Where there are several transactions on one day the defendant is also entitled to know whether there is one note or two. As to the means by which payments were made, whether by check or otherwise, I don't believe that is essential.

"The district attorney has already offered the defendant the right to inspect all the documents in his hands or in the control of the government and if he had not the court would have so instructed, with certain limitations, but your request goes altogether too far and will not be entertained. Now if the defense wishes to withdraw this and submit another more in accordance with the court's wishes such a request will be granted."

JOLIET PENITENTIARY BEST, OPINION OF MRS. MAYBRICK.

Woman Who Spent 15 Years in an English Prison Enthusiastic Over Illinois Institution.

Mrs. Florence Maybrick, who spent fifteen years in an English prison and became an international figure because of the long fight to obtain her release, set the seal of her approval on the state penitentiary at Joliet yesterday. For three hours she walked about the institution, examining every detail. She called upon Warden E. J. Murphy, who was ill in bed, and told him she had never seen a prison so well kept, so clean, and in which the discipline was so excellent, in all twenty-eight state prisons she had personally inspected in the United States.

Mrs. Maybrick is to lecture at Orchestra hall tonight. She said she had heard stories of conditions at Joliet. Soon after her arrival in Chicago on Tuesday she expressed her determination to visit the institution immediately. With Mrs. James H. Keeler, 4320 Monroe avenue, she spent a greater part of the day there.

"Only the small size of the cells in some of the tiers, the fact that they make two prisoners sleep in one cell, and the smoke from the nearby factories could I take objection to," said Mrs. Maybrick.

"I admire this system of indeterminate sentences. It does more to promote discipline than anything I have ever heard of. It should be adopted everywhere."

Mrs. Maybrick expects to spend the summer delivering addresses at Chautauqua assemblies. In the fall she will return to the lecture platform to keep up her work for prison reform.

After her lecture tonight Mrs. Maybrick will be guest of honor at a banquet at the Stratford restaurant. Maj. Robert Mann Woods, 6448 Kimbark avenue, will preside as toastmaster. Covers will be laid for twenty-five.

JUROR DOUBTS LAW'S JUSTICE.

Albert E. Curtis Tells Court He Cannot Serve Because Statutes May Not Appear Right.

The formalities of examining jurors were broken yesterday in Municipal Judge Heap's court, when Albert E. Curtis, claim agent for the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad, after being sworn, announced that he could not try a case according to the laws. The jurors had just been sworn when Curtis spoke.

"Your honor," said he, "I do not feel that I could act impartially in deciding the case. I would be inclined to favor the 'under dog.' If the law did not seem just to me and conflict with any of God's laws, I would decide the case according to my own convictions."

"Don't you believe the laws of the statute conform to the laws of God?" asked the court.

"Well, I don't know. I would have to be informed of them first."

After several other questions Curtis was excused.

Chief Justice Olson, when told of the case, said:

"I remember the man when he was accepted as juror. He told me the same story. I told him he would have to serve, and we would learn whether he was able to perform the duty of a juror. If he is refused on other juries we will have to excuse him."

Services for "Aunt" Lizzie Aikin.

A special service in memory of "Aunt" Lizzie Aikin, the Chicago woman who nursed thousands of soldiers during the civil war, will be held in the Second Baptist church building, Morgan and Monroe streets, tonight. The principal address will be delivered by the Rev. William M. Lawrence of North Orange, N. J. "Aunt" Lizzie died a year ago. The ninetieth anniversary of her birthday was March 24.

SMILE AT BANK STORIES.

JUDGE AND JURY WONDER AT TALES OF HIGH FINANCE.

J. Allen Whyte, Night Manager, Tells of Indorsing Note Signed by 12 Year Old Daughter of G. F. Sorrow Without Turning It Over—Did Not Ask About It—Witness Exclaims on Stand "He Didn't Know Whole Thing Was a Fraud."

Stories of banking methods which made judge, jury, and attorneys smile in wonder were told yesterday in the trial of indicted officials of the wrecked Bank of America.

The majority of witnesses were men who had signed or indorsed notes entered upon the books of the bank as "paid up capital stock." In almost every case these notes have been shown to be worth little more than the paper on which they were written.

The experience of J. Allen Whyte, night manager of the bank, was perhaps most appreciated. Mr. Whyte testified he had indorsed one of the notes for thousands of dollars and that it was signed by G. F. Sorrow's 12 year old daughter.

"Why, you see," Mr. Whyte replied, "Sorrow wanted me to indorse the note. I just signed it on the back without turning it over."

"Didn't you ask any questions about it?"

Healy Explains His Action.

Thomas J. Healy, a drainage trustee and a nephew of Daniel D. Healy, receiver of the bank, explained how it happened that, while he was assistant state's attorney, he had been one of the three men who signed the application for the Bank of America's charter.

He said he had called at Abner Smith's office one afternoon on another matter of business and found the application lying on Smith's desk. After attending to his errand, Smith, he said, asked him to sign the application, "just as a matter of form," before he went out. Mr. Healy said he saw no reason why he should not comply, and signed the paper.

Other signers of the application were Smith, who was president of the bank, and Assistant Cashier Howe.

Mr. Healy testified that, at Smith's suggestion, he had subscribed for two shares of the bank's stock. When he went to get his stock he found his subscription had been raised to five shares.

"I objected," he said, "but Smith finally induced me to take the five shares. I paid $400 for the first two and was going to give my note for the remaining $600, but Smith said it wouldn't look well. So I had my wife sign the note."

Signs Another Man's Name.

Lewis G. Muller, one of the directors of the bank, who contributed to the bank's "assets" by signing the name of his wife's first husband to a check for $2,750, Mrs. Muller knowing nothing of the transaction, testified.

"Mr. Pierce (the bank's cashier) told me," said Muller, "that the bank examiner had objected to 'one name paper.' So I signed the name 'C. G. Webb' to the note and indorsed it myself."

Mr. Webb testified he had also signed an $8,000 note for Vice President Sorrow. He admitted he could not have paid the note at the time.

"Didn't Know It Was Fraud."

"Well, I simply did it because I didn't know the whole thing was a fraud!"

Each of the attorneys for the defense jumped to his feet with an objection, and the remark was ordered stricken out.

ARCHBISHOP QUIGLEY HEADS CATHOLIC EXTENSION WORK.

Archbishop Quigley was reelected chairman of the board of governors of the Catholic Church Extension society yesterday. Richmond Dean of Chicago and R. J. Cudahy of New York were added to the board, the immediate dispatch of two priests to Porto Rico missions was decided on, and plans for the operation of a chapel car, presented by Ambrose Petry of New York, were outlined at a meeting of the organization at its national headquarters, 20 Adams street. Today the new executive committee will meet to carry out orders resulting from the meeting.

Owing to the absence of Archbishop Quigley, who is in Rome, Archbishop Messmer of Milwaukee presided. Special interest was taken in the discussion of the extension of aid to Porto Rico. The society has worked only within the confines of the United States, but so strong an appeal was made from Porto Rico that members said it could not afford to be overlooked.

The society created the position of vice chairman of the board of governors and elected Archbishop Messmer of Milwaukee to that position. The new executive committee is composed of Archbishop Quigley, Ambrose Petry, Richmond Dean, R. J. Cudahy, and Warren A. Cartier. The new board of auditors will consist of Bishop Muldoon of Chicago, the Rev. Thomas Finn, the Rev. Bernard Mackin, J. J. Fleming, and Warren A. Carter.

MRS. EDDY'S ACT PLEASES HER SON

CHURCH HEAD EXPLAINS.

Asserts Confidence in Board She Selected to Handle Property and Gives Reasons.

Concord, N. H., April 3.—Counsel for the plaintiffs in the Eddy case, in a statement today, said that Mr. Streeter, the personal counsel for Mrs. Eddy, and those who have charge of her, have arrived at the same conclusion as to the incapacity of Mrs. Eddy to manage her business affairs that her son came to when he saw her last. Now that the need of reform is conceded, counsel said, a remaining question would seem to be whether the interests of Mrs. Eddy will be best cared for and protected by a receiver appointed by the court or by trustees acting practically as a continuation of the old régime.

I am pleased to say that the following members constitute the board of trustees, who own my property:

1. The Hon. Henry M. Baker, who won a suit at law in Washington, D. C., for which it is alleged he was paid the highest fee ever before received by a native of New Hampshire.

2. Archibald McLellan, editor in chief of the Christian Science periodical circulating in the five grand divisions of our globe, also in Canada, Australia, etc.

3. Josiah E. Fernald, justice of the peace and president of the National Capital bank, Concord, N. H.

To my aforesaid trustees I have committed the hard earnings of my pen, the fruit of my honest toil, the labor that is known by its fruits, benefitting the human race, and I have so done that I may have more peace and time for spiritual thought and the higher criticism.

The Value and Importance of Ethical Remedies.

Remedies which physicians sanction for family use, as they act most beneficially and are gentle yet prompt in effect, and called ethical, because they are of

To gain the full confidence of the Well-Informed of the world and the approval of the most eminent physicians, it is essential that the component parts be known to and approved by them, and, therefore, the California Fig Syrup Company has published for many years past in its advertisements and upon every package a full statement thereof. The perfect purity and uniformity of product which they demand in a laxative remedy of an ethical character are assured by the California Fig Syrup Company's original method of manufacture, known to the Company only.

There are other ethical remedies approved by physicians, but the product of the California Fig Syrup Company possesses the advantage over all other family laxatives that it cleanses, sweetens and relieves the internal organs on which it acts, without disturbing the natural functions or any debilitating after effects and without having to increase the quantity from time to time.

This valuable remedy has been long and favorably known under the name of Syrup of Figs, and has attained to world-wide acceptance as the most excellent of family laxatives, and as its pure laxative principles, obtained from Senna, are well known to physicians and the Well-Informed of the world to be the best of natural laxatives, we have adopted the more elaborate name of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, as more fully descriptive of the remedy, but doubtlessly it will always be called for by the shorter name of Syrup of Figs; and to get its beneficial effects, always note, when purchasing, the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package, whether you simply call for Syrup of Figs, or by the full name, Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, as Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is the one laxative remedy manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Company, and the same heretofore known by the name, Syrup of Figs, which has given satisfaction to millions. The genuine is for sale by all leading druggists throughout the United States in original packages of one size only, the regular price of which is fifty cents per bottle.

Every bottle is sold under the general guarantee of the Company, filed with the Secretary of Agriculture, at Washington, D. C., the remedy is not adulterated or misbranded within the meaning of the Food and Drugs Act, June 30th, 1906.

BULLISH NEWS NO TONIC.

WHEAT FAILS TO RESPOND TO UNFAVORABLE CROP REPORTS.

Southwest Sends More Serious "Bug" and Dry Weather Advices, but Offerings Are Sufficient on Bulges to Check Rise—Receipts Continue Heavy—May Corn and Oats Pressed by Long Holders—Provisions Lose Early Firmness.

Dull and almost entirely professional in character, yesterday's wheat market gave disappointing response to a generous offering of bullish news. Continued dry weather in the west and southwest, increasing and extending seriousness of the "green bug" invasion, and unfavorable matter on the situation in Ohio, while sufficiently influential to prevent much pressure, failed to stir the bulls to active buying. Throughout the session the tiniest bulges called forth offerings from scattered traders who bought on the way up from 75½c, this sort of selling checking what early promised to be a substantial rise. The close showed 76½@⅝c for May, 78⅝@¾c for July, and 79⅝@¾c for September, ⅛c easier, unchanged, and 1-16c firmer, respectively, as compared to the Monday finish.

Weakness developed in the coarser cereals on liquidation by longs, the nearby month being the greatest sufferer, and this easiness had a depressing effect on wheat. Provisions worked to moderate declines after displaying a firm undertone at the start.

Wheat Strongest in Early Hour.

Quite general confirmation of recent unfavorable reports from the southwest and a bullish Ohio report played for firmness in the early wheat market, prices advancing to gains of ⅜@½c over the previous close. The harder spots brought out enough scattered offerings to halt the rise and to work for a reaction to a little under the Monday finals, nothwithstanding that "bug" damage advices of serious tenor increased in volume. The trade was plainly nervous, and neither side saw its way clear to press what advantages it may have had. The southwest indulged in some buying here on the softer spots, as did northwesterners, who, however, sold the nearby month against purchases of July.

Liverpool closed ⅛@⅜d higher, a disappointing showing considering the strength built up on this side of the water since the beginning of the Easter holiday abroad. While the majority of reports from the southwest indicated increasing apprehension from drought and "bugs" there were numerous advices to the effect that previous estimates of actual damage had been much exaggerated. Light rains in western Kansas and northern Nebraska and cloudiness in some of the dry sections stirred up a little selling on the harder spots. The "bugs" were said to be plentiful and active around Sedgwick and Parsons, in the heart of the best producing section of Kansas, and Missouri and Nebraska reported multitudes of the pests, with fields getting yellow. Oklahoma sent its usual quota of damage messages, although the estimates of actual injury to the crop varied considerably.

Bullish Situation in Ohio.

Condition of the Ohio wheat crop was fixed at 87, or 14 points under that of a year ago, and this bullish showing was accentuated by many unfavorable advices from important producing parts of the state. Other sections of the Ohio valley also sent in bad reports. Receipts of wheat at Duluth and Minneapolis for two days were 932 cars, against 622 cars for the similar period last year, total primary arrivals, 1,300,000 bu, greatly exceeding those of the similar time a year ago. Seaboard clearances for a brace of days were 448,00 bu. Minneapolis stocks increased 350,000 bu for four days.

Budapest scored an advance of more than 3c, chiefly on unsettled political conditions and an expected interference with shipping. There were some unfavorable reports concerning the crop situation in Spain, and Broomhall cabled that stocks at Russian ports were getting light. As a whole, however, the foreign crop situation was said to be somewhat improved. Late in the session high hot winds were said to be prevailing in Kansas, but the trade, hoping that the clouds would afford the desired relief, paid but little attention to them. Some of the professionals who bought early were among the late sellers. The market's range was within ⅝c.

Longs Unload May Corn.

Selling of the May and buying of the deferred months was a feature in the corn market. The nearby month was hard pressed at times by local longs, closing at 45½c, a decline of ⅜c from the Monday finish. July wound up at 45⅞c, unchanged, and September at 46⅜c, ⅛@¼c firmer, both months being supported by the sellers of the May. Liverpool was ⅜@⅝d higher for futures and ⅛@1d stronger for spot.

Pit conditions were considerably affected by weakness at the cash tables, where prices ruled ½@1c lower, the outside demand being slow. Sales for local account, however, finally showed a good total. The unfavorable car situation east held down the shipping business to small proportions. Local receipts for two days were 486 cars, materially under the expectation, the estimate for today being 461 cars. Seaboard clearances for two days were 1,096,000 bu. Primary receipts for two days aggregated 1,405,000 bu, compared to 963,000 bu the corresponding period last year. Sales at the seaboard were fairly liberal. It is expected that several vessels laden with corn will move away from Chicago this week, although the northern straits are said to be clogged with ice as a result of heavy southwest winds.

May Oats Are Forced Lower.

Trading similar to that in the corn market characterized operations in oats, the nearby month being generously liquidated by longs, the more deferred months displaying a relatively firmer tone on buying based largely on unfavorable crop reports from the southwest. Scalpers followed the lead of the big holders of May, buying being scattered. The cash market was sick, prices being sharply lower, with the eastern demand showing little life. Local receipts totaled 354 cars, of which 55 graded standard, against 352 expected, the estimate for today being 239 cars. Shipments hence were 679,000 bu, seaboard clearances being 146,000 bu. Final prices were 42⅛c for May, ⅜@½c lower; 37⅛c for July, ⅛@¼c easier; and 33⅛c for September, ⅛@⅛c firmer.

Provisions Weaken After Start.

The provision list had a good start, firmness being shown all around, but it was not long before prices had been shoved off to declines on selling by scattered longs and outside holders. Milwaukeeans and some of the small packers west provided a good part of the pressure. Final prices showed net losses of 10@15c for pork, 7½@10c for lard, and 10c for ribs. Firmness characterized prices at the yards, and the western run of hogs—67,800—fell 19,700 under the total of the corresponding day last year. Some traders appear to be expecting a more liberal movement of swine in the near future. Shipments of meats and lard hence for two days were 4,194,000 lbs and 2,649,000 lbs respectively, materially under those for the similar period last year.

Rye in Fair Inquiry.

Rye met with a fair inquiry, with supplies ample and prices showing little change. April closed at 65c bid and 66c asked, and May 67½c bid and 68c asked. No. 2 sold at 68@69½c and No. 3 at 60c to 64c f. o. b. Receipts were 11 cars.

Barley, owing to the weakness in oats, was inclined to drag. Malting grades ranged

INTERESTING TRADE GOSSIP ON 'CHANGE.

For everything except fancy spring wheat the demand in the cash wheat market was slow and trade quiet. Choice grades of spring wheat were scarce and wanted, but other grades, which recently have sold well, were a drag on the market. No. 2 red wheat in store is about May price free on board, and 1¼@1½c under May price in store. There is little inquiry for wheat for export, foreigners remaining indifferent. A brisk demand was reported at Minneapolis, with No. 1 northern selling at 2¼@2½c over May, and No. 2 northern ½c over. Other outside markets were firm. In the local sample markets cash corn was weak in sympathy with the decline in futures, but there was a better demand from exporters, and good sized sales were consummated. A better demand for kiln dried corn was in evidence. The domestic demand was slow, however, shippers reporting a tame inquiry. Oats were ½@1c lower and dull. Country offerings of both corn and oats are light, receivers reporting offerings of the former in the country light. Local sales were 15,000 bu wheat, 205,000 bu corn, and 150,000 bu oats. The seaboard reported 80,000 bu wheat and 200,000 bu corn for export.

Local professionals, led by Rankin, Friedman, Lindman, Comstock, and Lake, were the best early buyers of wheat, taking July principally. Commission houses had wheat for sale on all the hard spots. Brosseau, Wrenn, Peavey, and Daggett were on the selling side. Comstock was a late seller. Armour bought May and sold July. In the last half hour Pringle led the selling. Selling of May and buying of July by Bartlett-Frazier was the feature of the corn trading early, and was kept up to a greater or less extent throughout the session. On the decline Comstock and Updike bought July and Wrenn May. Wagner and Helmholz sold May. Edwards and Roloson, with scattered commission houses, bought September oats. The demand for May oats was not brisk, and free offerings by Bartlett-Frazier, Norther Grain, Buckley, and Peavey depressed the market. The Cudahy Packing company, Logan-Bryan, and Wrenn sold provisions; buying was scattered.

"Bug" reports from the southwest were of all kinds and descriptions, and there was a growing inclination on the part of an active element on the floor to believe that serious damage was at least threatened. One of the largest cash houses here had fairly sensational advices from Oklahoma. The damage in the southern part of that state undoubtedly has been large, while the reports of the activity and spreading of the pest through northern Oklahoma and southern Kansas were alarming. It is claimed that grain dealers in southern Oklahoma are much discouraged over the outlook, but that dealers and farmers in Kansas and Missouri, as well as the principal grain houses in Kansas City, so far are unconcerned. A prominent grain man from Kansas City, who was here yesterday, said that there was more "bug" talk here in an hour than in Kansas City all day.

The Minneapolis flour output decreased 2,400 brls last week, according to the Northwestern Miller's weekly summary, as received by Logan-Bryan. The quantity turned out was 267,360 brls, against 286,015 brls in 1906. This week a larger milling capacity is in motion, and the output should show considerable increase. The car situation is bad, and some of the mills may restrict their output for this reason. The flour market the last week was featureless. Buyers were indifferent, and contended for lower prices, and usually took flour only in a small way. It was hard work for most mills to do any reasonable amount of business. Foreign trade was almost a blank. Europe shows little interest in flour, and bids were not numerous.

Advices from Minneapolis received by several different houses here indicated that the flour business in the northwest is larger than is the general impression. Mills and elevators were sharp competitors for the No. 1 northern wheat offered at Minneapolis, and a sale of 50,000 bu to the St. Anthony Grain company was reported to arrive at 2¼c over May. Washburn-Crosby were also the big buyers in the pit at the northwestern market yesterday.

The April Ohio report, as wired by King of Toledo, said that the wheat condition, compared with an average, was 87 on April 1, compared to 95 last December, and 101 last April, with 99 at harvest last year, and a crop of 43,000,000 bu.

Woodward Babcock and J. F. Boecker have applied for membership, and John P. Upham has posted his membership for transfer. A membership sold yesterday at $1,800 net to the buyer.

The N. K. Fairbank company estimated the world's stock of lard on April 1 at 231,812 tcs, compared to 239,713 tcs on March 1, and 241,583 tcs a year ago, and 322,518 tcs on March 1, 1905.

Liverpool corn shorts were nervous, and covered freely owing to fears of continued small Danubian shipments, as Roumanian shippers are asking for an extension of time.

Flaxseed prices were ½c lower, in sympathy with the weakness in the northwest. No. 1 northwestern closed at $1.19¾, No. 1 at $1.12½, and rejected northwestern at $1.13. A small lot of No. 1 northwestern sold at $1.20. Duluth closed ⅜c lower, with April $1.18⅝ and May $1.19⅝. Minneapolis receipts were 29 cars and Duluth had 62 cars, a total of 91 cars, compared with 46 cars a year ago. Local receipts were 2 cars.

Timothy seed was inactive and unchanged. April closed at $4.30 and September at $4.60. Country lots ranged from $3.00 to $4.00. Clover seed was easy, with April at $15.50 and cash lots $11.00 to $14.25.

IN THE BOSTON MONEY MARKET.

STOCKS DROP, THEN RISE.

CLOSING TONE IRREGULAR AFTER PERIOD OF DEPRESSION.

Renewed Selling for Foreign Account and Tilt Between President Roosevelt and Harriman, as Well as the Break in London Copper Market, Factors in Causing Slump—Relaxing Tendency of Money Rule at All World's Financial Centers Feature.

[BY A SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.]

NEW YORK, April 3.—[Special.]—Stocks closed irregular today after a late rise, attributed to rebuying of shares sold short early in the day.

Prices of stocks moved downward and then recovered. Explanations for the depression were renewed selling for foreign account, fears of a rupture of negotiations for the peaceful settlement of the wage controversy on western railroads, and the disquieting effect of the bitter exchange between the White house and the Union Pacific executive offices. A break in the London copper market also was an influence.

Atchison was prominent in the recovery after the declaration of the semi-annual dividend of 3 per cent. An initial yearly dividend of 4 per cent for Kansas City Southern preferred was another feature of the day. Reading and Brooklyn Rapid Transit were speculative favorites in the late rise.

The development of most consequence was the relaxing tendency of money, which, however, was little regarded in the stock dealings. Receding money rates were the rule at all the great financial centers of the world. Even at Berlin the discount rate receded, although the weekly statement of the Imperial Bank of Germany gave formidable evidence of the severe strain on financial sources there.

Bonds were firm. Total sales, par value, $2,828,000. United States 2s declined 1¼ and the new and old 4s advanced ¼ per cent on call.

No such opportunity to buy bonds at attractive prices has been offered the public since 1893. Attention has been centered for a long time upon the stock market, and the great opportunities for investment in bonds have been largely overlooked.

IN THE FINANCIAL WORLD.

BOND MARKET CONDITIONS SHOW IMPROVEMENT.

Annual Meeting of Dock and Canal Company—Mason B. Starring Elected President of Northwestern Elevated Railway—Farwell Trust Concern Organized—Chicago Edison Stock Advances 9 Points and Traction Shares Show Large Gains.

Bond market conditions continue to show improvement. There is a much better feeling in New York. Not only are prices for the so-called high grade long term securities advancing, but in the last day or two the short term notes have been firm.

There is further suggestion of ease in the New York money market, and it is possible that within the next six months, or three months, there may develop a decided improvement in the market for bonds. If the predictions of the most important financiers prove correct, the bond market has certainly a better demand ahead of it.

Calumet and Dock.

The annual meeting of the Calumet and Chicago Dock and Canal company was held yesterday. Sales for the year amounted to $69,330. The balance sheet showed no important changes compared with last year. The statement follows:

President's Report.

In his report to the shareholders President Leslie Carter announced that the year did not bring forth any large sales, although every effort was made by experienced brokers to accomplish them. Such sales as were made were of small properties. There have been inquiries for large pieces for the location of large interests, but buyers have been deterred from completing their negotiations by the general conditions of money and trade. Prices of the company's real estate, the president pointed out, were low. Speaking of the results of the election, Mr. Carter said:

"The approval of the traction ordinances at the election yesterday should have a decidedly beneficial effect on real estate. Whenever heretofore it has seemed possible that the traction problem would be solved, real estate has responded. The solution reached furnishes a basis for progress in the development of Chicago."

Another Record in Clearings.

Clearings of the local banks made a new record yesterday for one day's business. The total was $63,327,572. This includes, of course, the deferred business of Tuesday, when the banks were closed on account of the election.

Atchison Dividend Increased.

The Atchison directors yesterday increased the dividend rate on the common stock from a 5 to a 6 per cent basis by the declaration of a 3 per cent semi-annual dividend. It was declared out of earnings for the last six months.

This increase of the dividend is made in the face of conferences with employés of the railroads who are seeking for an increase in pay. While asserting inability to raise wages the directors increase a dividend when there was no necessity for it other than the exigencies of stock market speculation. The act was unfavorably construed by the street and Atchison common sold off instead of advancing.

Mason B. Starring has been elected president of the Northwestern elevated to succeed Clarence Buckingham, resigned. Mr. Buckingham retired because of the press of other business. Mr. Starring has been general manager of the Chicago City railway company. He is expected to make a good operating man and will give his entire attention to the affairs of the elevated.

Mr. Buckingham consented to become vice president, succeeding Walter B. Smith. He will remain a director of the board.

Two changes have been made in the directory. Walter B. Smith and Ledyard Blair retired as directors and were succeeded by Mr. Starring and Samuel McRoberts. Mr. McRoberts represents the Armour interests in the property.

Farwell Trust Company Organized.

Formal announcement is made of the organization of the Farwell Trust company, the capital of which is $1,500,000. The officers as announced yesterday follow:

President—Granger Farwell.

Treasurer—John Barry Sears.

Secretary—John J. Bryant Jr.

The trust company has taken over the bond and financial business of the firm of Granger Farwell & Co., and also has acquired the building at the southwest corner of La Salle and Quincy streets, which hereafter will be known as the Farwell Trust Company building.

Pullman Loan and Savings.

Announcement made with reference to the increase in the capital stock of the Pullman Loan and Savings bank, made on the authority of a director, was not altogether correct.

The stockholders at the meeting Tuesday voted to issue a stock dividend of $100,000 out of undivided profits. Then there is to be issued $100,000 of new stock at par. The surplus, which stands at $100,000, will not be changed. The undivided profits at the date of the last bank call were $156,602. After the stock dividend out of this account and the increase in the capital, the bank will have $500,000 capital, $100,000 surplus, and $56,602 undivided profits.

It was voted to change the name to the Pullman Trust and Savings bank.

Postponed Annual Meetings.

The annual meeting of the Knickerbocker Ice company, scheduled to be held yesterday, was again postponed, this time to May 1.

The annual meeting of the Chicago and Oak Park elevated, set for yesterday, was adjourned to June 3.

General Financial News.

The American Tobacco company has purchased out of its surplus funds in the open market an additional $2,000,000 of its 4 per cent bonds and has surrendered them to the Morton Trust company for cancellation.

At the meeting of the directors of the United States Rubber company, to be held today, the question of an increase in the prices of the company's boots and shoes will be taken under consideration.

Traffic of the Chicago and Oak Park elevated for the month of March showed a daily average of 49,373 passengers, being a decrease of 1.69 per cent compared with the corresponding month last year.

Directors of the Kansas City Southern yesterday declared an initial dividend of 4 per cent on the preferred stock.

Boxboard Affairs.

The protective committee of the United Boxboard and Paper company has issued a circular stating that all plans for financing the company have been arranged. The $914,000 of Boxboard bonds held in the treasury are being sold to stockholders at 80, and more than half of them have already been taken. The new directors to take the places made vacant by the retirement of Directors Fleming and Wiley are James Todd, who has acted as attorney for the protective committee, and Gustave Wuerst, who is connected with L. W. Bodman.

Chicago Stocks.

Chicago Edison was the feature of the Chicago stock exchange, the price advancing from an opening at 140 to a close at 149. Two weeks ago the stock was selling at 130. Russell, Brewster & Co. were the best buyers.

West Chicago also showed a gain in price, advancing from 33 to 35. Within ten days the price has advanced 15 points. North Chicago was firm, though not so active as West.

For the first time in months there was a sale of Chicago Consolidated Traction 4½s, at 55.

Chicago City Railway sold at 160, against the price of 150 ten days ago. The remainder of the list was generally steady. Boxboard was firm at the opening and closed in good tone, being the most active stock on the list.

IN FOREIGN MONEY MARKET.

LONDON, April 3.—Money was in quiet demand today and discounts were slightly easier. It was stated that in consequence of the rise in New York exchange a portion of the gold purchased for the United States yesterday was resold to the Bank of England today. Trading on the stock exchange was quiet with a drooping tendency. Public support was needed badly in certain sections. A further small failure was announced today, but it did not affect the market. Consols declined on profit taking. Foreigners were firmer. Japanese imperial 6s of 1904 closed at 103¾. Americans were irregular with occasional advances to above parity. Atchison was bought on rumors of a dividend increase. On the receipt of the New York opening quotations American advanced, but reacted quickly and closed at the worst prices of the day. Rio Tinto was weak owing to the fall in the price of copper and rumors of a failure in Paris.

PARIS, April 3.—Trading on the bourse today was inactive throughout. Russian imperial 4s closed at 74.40 and Russian bonds of 1904 at 489.00.

BERLIN, April 3.—Prices on the boerse today were weak upon the unfavorable bank return and the unsatisfactory foreign market reports. The weekly statement of the imperial Bank of Germany shows the following changes:

Cash in hand decreased	142,000,000 marks
Treasury notes	Unchanged
Notes in circulation increased	379,660,000 marks

SECURITY

These Debentures are a direct obligation of the Chicago Edison Company, whose property, we are advised, will have cost, when the proceeds of the present issue of Debentures have been expended, over $28,000,000.

They are secured by a Trust Agreement between the Company and the Illinois Trust and Savings Bank as trustee, deposited with said trustee, providing against the issuance while these Debentures are outstanding of any bonds or other obligations under any mortgage hereafter placed on the present property and franchises of the Company.

These Debentures are further secured by an agreement between the Commonwealth Electric Company and the Illinois Trust and Savings Bank as Trustee, deposited with said trustee, whereby the Commonwealth Company agrees that on or before the maturity of the Debentures it will consolidate with the Edison Company or purchase its properties in such way as to become bound to pay said Debentures, or in the alternative will, upon default in payment, assume and pay the principal and interest thereof according to the terms of the debentures. The agreement of the Commonwealth Company also provides against the issuance while these debentures are outstanding of any bonds or other obligations under any mortgage hereafter placed on the present property and franchises of the Commonwealth Company.

PROPERTY

The Chicago Edison Company, organized in 1887 for the purpose of supplying electric light and power, has enjoyed a marvelous growth. With its associated company, the Commonwealth Electric Company, it practically controls the central station business of producing and selling electric current in the City of Chicago. These companies supply a territory having a population of nearly two million with electric current for lighting and power purposes from their seven large central generating plants and numerous sub-stations, all of which are constructed and equipped in accordance with the most modern and improved ideas. During the period intervening between 1902 and 1906 758,260 Equivalent 16 C.P. lamps were connected, being an increase of 84.07 per cent.

COMPETITION

The Chicago Edison Company is practically protected from serious competition by the strategical position its conduits occupy along the principal business streets of Chicago and by the consequent expenses that would be involved in duplicating its plant.

EARNINGS

COPPERS
TRINITY

I have many times explained to the public how difficult it is to find a new, good copper property.

How next to impossible it is for one man to find many such in his lifetime search.

I have told the public of Trinity, as I told them of Butte at 2, Tri-Mountain and Copper Range at 10, all three of which went to 130 and 105 respectively. Trinity has doubled in price since I told the public its story—later it will double and double again. Another new, good property is now ready to have its story told.

I refer to Balaklala, the property situated next to Trinity—the property I have watched grow from the grass to its present great state, when its first 1,000 ton smelter is about finished, and its second 1,000 ton one coming along—the property with which Trinity has entered into a ten years' contract to smelt its ores.

Owing to my being overloaded with affairs on the eve of my departure to shape up copper affairs of import, I cannot tell the Balaklala story here, nor is it necessary. Any intending buyer can have the Balaklala story from any New York or Boston Stock Exchange house.

The purport of this advertisement is: I advise all my following who hold Trinity to buy Balaklala. Its stock is about 11. It should advance first to 35, then to over 50. Its affairs have just been passed upon by the Boston Stock Exchange—it has been listed today and will be traded in tomorrow, and later will be traded in on the New York Stock Exchange. My only interest in the stock is a number of thousands of shares I have just purchased for personal investment at the same price the public may buy for. I have no official connection with the company, but from my knowledge of the people who have created it, and who are now in control, and my knowledge of its past, I think I am qualified to speak of it by the card.

For general and for special reasons, which I will set forth later at length, I wish to see every Trinity stockholder a holder of Balaklala.

Chicago Commercial Association Enters Protest, Contending It Will Be Detrimental to Interests of the City — Transportation Companies Formerly Allowed Differential Advantage by Way of Inland Water Route—Last Limited to Florida.

A freight rate war of large dimensions, which will disturb the present tariffs of the country, is imminent unless ocean and rail lines from the Atlantic seaboard recede from their announced intention to apply the same basis of rates via Atlantic ports as now prevails via lake and rail lines through Lake Erie ports to Chicago. The transportation committee of the Chicago Commercial association has entered a protest against the action, as it will prove detrimental to Chicago commercial interests.

Heretofore lake and rail lines have been allowed a differential advantage over ocean and rail lines and the all rail lines, the amount being governed by geographical location. Last year the differential under the all rail lines from New York was based on 16 cents first class and 6 cents from New England points, the difference being caused by the differentials allowed all rail fast freight lines via slow routes.

Insurance Tax New Feature.

This year the differential is reduced by 2 cents, which is added to the rate to cover marine insurance. The insurance feature of the lake and rail rates is something new, never having been covered in the lake and rail tariffs.

The expressed intention of the ocean and rail lines via Atlantic ports is to wipe out the differential and apply the same rate via the ocean as applies via the lakes. This will have the effect of making the first class rate to Chicago 61 cents via either route. This will prove advantageous to Chicago shippers, as ocean and rail lines via Norfolk and Newport News practically are as fast as the all rail lines.

Will Reduce Rate to Memphis.

The benefit also will be felt at Memphis, as lines via Savannah will apply the same basis. It will have the effect of reducing the rate to Memphis and necessarily to the southwest. The reduction in rates to all portions of the country south and the rates to Chicago remaining steadfast will have the effect of giving other commercial centers an advantage over Chicago they do not now enjoy.

COURT REFUSES TO REMAND SUIT AGAINST JAMES J. HILL.

Clarence H. Venner Asks Federal Judge to Send Case Back to New York Tribunal.

New York, April 3.—An order denying the application of the plaintiff to remand the case to the Supreme court of New York state in the suit brought by Clarence H. Venner against the Great Northern railway and J. J. Hill and others was signed by Judge Lacombe in the United States Circuit court today. The suit was brought by Venner as a stockholder of the Great Northern, alleging that J. J. Hill used the finances of the road for the purchase of the stock of the Burlington route, and subsequently resold the stock thus acquired to the Great Northern corporation, thereby making a large profit for himself and associates individually to the detriment and loss of the Great Northern stockholders.

New York Central Admits Charge.

Syracuse, N. Y., April 3.—The case of the government against the New York Central railroad company, in which the company is charged with rebating in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, was continued today before Judge George W. Ray in the United States court.

The charge against the railroad company is that it favored the General Electric company of Schenectady in the matter of rates. The railroad company states that it returned 20 cents a ton on freight to the General Electric company, but it is claimed that the allowance was for services at the terminal at Schenectady, where the General Electric company owns the tracks and engines.

O'SHEA TRIAL IS POSTPONED.

Third Hearing for Alleged Wife Slayer Continued by Judge Pinckney—Defendant in Good Health.

The trial of Victor Roland O'Shea, accused of the murder of his wife, Amy Hogenson O'Shea, was postponed indefinitely yesterday by Judge Pinckney. O'Shea appeared in court wearing a light spring overcoat and apparently in the best of health. He was accompanied by his father, P. J. O'Shea, who is a lawyer and who represented him.

He has had two trials. The first resulted in a disagreement by the jury. The second resulted in a conviction for manslaughter. The case was taken to the upper courts and a new trial granted.

O'Shea married secretly. It is said he failed to live with his wife and quarreled frequently with her mother. It is alleged he went to the house of his wife, opposite Humboldt park, shot her, and then attempted to commit suicide.

WEDDINGS CELEBRATED IN EVANSTON AND IN TOWN.

Miss Madge Mariner Married to Mr. Norman Towne in St. Mark's Church—Nuptials of Miss Grace Hills and Mr. Le Roy Woodland at St. Paul's and of Miss Ruth Ainslie and Mr. Hugh Donnan in North Shore Congregational.

One of the largest and most interesting weddings of Easter week took place last evening in Evanston, when Miss Madge Mariner was married to Mr. Norman Towne. The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Edward Mariner, 1404 Judson avenue, selected seven of her girl friends to attend her, Miss Mary Bond being maid of honor, and the bridemaids Miss Marion Deering, Miss Mary Palmer, Miss Marceline Randall, and Miss Pam Noble of Evanston, Miss Helen Watters of Boston, and Miss Frances Dice of Reading, Pa.

The wedding was celebrated in St. Mark's Episcopal church at 8 o'clock, the men who acted as ushers being Mr. Francis Magin, Mr. Robert Forgan, Mr. Allen Ross, Mr. Charles Marsh, Mr. Everett Marsh, and Mr. Charles Pynchon. Mr. Robert Buckley of Highland Park acted as best man and the Rev. Dr. Arthur W. Little, rector of the church, performed the ceremony.

After the ceremony a large reception was held at the Mariner residence, the young couple then leaving for a wedding journey.

There were two large church weddings in town, Miss Grace Hills being married to Mr. Le Roy Woodland in St. Paul's Episcopal church in Kenwood, and Miss Ruth Ainslie and Mr. Hugh Donnan of Belfast, Ireland, being married in the North Shore Congregational church. Miss Hills, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Hills, 4925 Lake avenue, is one of the notably beautiful south side girls. Her wedding gown, a princess, was particularly becoming. It was of white liberty satin trimmed with Alençon lace, the yoke extended out over the shoulders in collar effect, and the sleeves of the lace being short and fluffy.

Miss Blanche Arnold of Haverill, Mass., attended Miss Hills as maid of honor, wearing white chiffon cloth, an empire gown trimmed with bands of pink liberty satin. The bridemaids were Miss Marjorie Mott and Miss Rosalie Hanson of Chicago and Miss Elsie Elmore of Astoria, Ore.

Mr. Sylvester Preston of Pittsburg acted as best man and the ushers were Mr. John Gauntlett of Ithaca, N. Y., Mr. Edward Campion of Troy, N. Y., Mr. Henry Daniels, and Mr. Tom Benedict of Chicago. The ceremony, which was performed at 8 o'clock, was followed by a reception at the Hills residence. Mr. and Mrs. Woodland will take a wedding journey, and will be at home after May 1 at 4814 Madison avenue.

Miss Ainslie's wedding was also an evening celebration, the Rev. James Stuart Ainslie, father of the bride and pastor of the North Shore Congregational church officiating. Mr. Donnan's sister, Mrs. David Browne of Belfast, Ireland, attended as matron of honor, while a brother, Mr. Richard Donnan, also of Belfast, acted as best man. The bride also had six maids—Miss Leila Lewis, Miss Rose Griffiths, Miss Olive Early, Miss Edna Smith, Miss Edith Eames, and Miss Marion Chase—the ushers being Mr. Harry Brown, Mr. Vernon Ward, Mr. Raymond Schaeffer, Mr. Percival Kean, Mr. Clare McMillen, and Mr. Marshall Schoenthaler. Young Miss Elizabeth Lownsbury, Miss Marjorie Burchard, and Miss Alice Ainslie, a sister of the bride, further supplemented the bridal party, attending as flower girls.

After the ceremony a large reception was held in the church parlors, Wilson avenue and Sheridan road, by the Woman's society of the church, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Donnan. The Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Ainslie, parents of the bride, reside at 1448 Lawrence avenue.

Mrs. Ayres Boal of Winnetka held an at home yesterday in her new residence, The Triangle, on Sheridan road. She was assisted by her sister, Mrs. Raymond W. Hardenbergh, by Mr. Boal's mother, Mrs. Charles T. Boal, and by Mrs. Pere L. Wickes, Mrs. Samuel Deugias Flood, Mrs. Leeds Mitchell, Mrs. Robert Stevenson Jr., Miss Harriet Houghteling, and Miss Margaret Hunt. Mrs. Boal's mother, Mrs. Lorenzo Johnson, is at present in Asheville, N. C.

Mrs. Frederic Van Schoonover-Karr, formerly Miss Geraldine Faro, 4603 Prairie avenue, will hold her first post-nuptial at home this afternoon. She will be assisted by Mrs. Charles Wheeler, Mrs. Frank Joselyn Baum, Miss Grace Bardon, Miss Ruth Lytle, and Miss Dorothy Glover.

CIRCUS AT COLISEUM TONIGHT.

The last rehearsal for Ringling's circus took place at the Coliseum yesterday afternoon and every performer is eager for the first performance tonight. The performers have had a strenuous week of preparation, and when the last act of the final rehearsal was finished their feelings were voiced in a loud cheer.

The somersaulting automobile was tested, and the young woman who is to risk her neck at each performance expressed her satisfaction with the mechanical arrangements. The dome of the building gitstens with fixings for aerial acts, more so than ever before. The flying act of the Gregoratis is one of the star numbers in the circus program.

The trained animal features are more varied and interesting than ever, and the performing horses are full of fire after their long winter's rest. The costumes were particularly attractive, and in the processional features even gorgeous. After tonight's performance two shows a day are to be given at the Coliseum until April 24.
